Family Portraits In Changing Times:

Family Portraits in Changing Times Helen Nestor, 1992 First person profiles of thirty two nontraditional contemporary American families Framing Portraits, Binding Albums Shilpi Goswami, Suryanandini Narain, (eds.), 2025-01-06 Long neglected in academic discourse in India family photographs make a silent contribution to the histories of photography marginality and the family In this volume the writers dwell on the importance of family photographs and their visual omnipresence in our daily lives They point out how family photographs have belonged to the vernacular material of visual culture more seen and lived with less written and consciously thought about Attempting to retrieve family photographs from a space of neglect this volume demonstrates how they are fundamental to the microhistories of a nation and its many societies and suggests the importance of such counterarguments to the dominant strains in an emerging discursive space The essays do not offer a comprehensive survey of all types of family photographs in India Instead they present focused insights into chosen areas of interest on the part of the writers Collectively they embrace the intersectionalities of gender caste class and regional trajectories making the politics of representation even more layered with contestations between the historical oral and affective memorialisation surrounding family archives and photographs These concerns centrally inform the essays as they accept and negotiate a terrain shared by all types of narrativisation The Colors of Photography

Bettina Gockel, 2020-12-16 The Colors of Photography aims to provide a deeper understanding of what color is in the field of photography Until today color photography has marked the here and now while black and white photographs have been linked to our image of history and have formed our collective memory However such general dichotomies start to crumble when considering the aesthetic cultural and political complexity of color in photography With essays by Charlotte Cotton Bettina Gockel Tanya Sheehan Blake Stimson Kim Timby Kelley Wilder Deborah Willis Photographic contributions by Hans Danuser and Raymond Meier Legendary Locals of the Mendonoma Coast Tammy Durston, 2012 The Sonoma Mendocino coastline famous for jagged cliffs timber filled ridges and pounding surf has been home to many people from varying histories and backgrounds Pomo tribes renowned for basketmaking who were the first settlers and descendants still live in the area From early pioneers such as George Call H A Richardson Cyrus Robinson J A Hamilton and Antonio Stornetta to Pomo spiritual leader Essie Parrish and the founders of Sea Ranch Al Boeke and the team of designers and architects Lawrence Halprin Charles Moore William Turnbull Donlyn Lyndon and Richard Whitaker the Sonoma Mendocino coast has many legendary locals This area also has been home to renowned artists musicians writers scientists educators and business leaders Community services are especially vital to rural areas Dedicated volunteers created Gualala Arts services for seniors and youth the Coast Library theater groups and restored historic buildings such as the famous Point Arena Lighthouse These unsung heroes have brought new meaning to this vibrant community Women and the White House Justin S. Vaughn, Lilly J. Goren, 2012-11-30 As the first female vice president takes office this volume explores gender perceptions and the executive role An important impressive book Lane Crothers author of Globalization and American Popular Culture The president of the United States has traditionally served as a symbol of power virtue ability dominance popularity and patriarchy In recent years however a number of high profile female candidacies have provoked new interest in gendered popular culture and how it influences Americans perceptions of the country s highest political office In this timely volume editors Justin S Vaughn and Lilly J Goren lead a team of scholars in examining how the president and the first lady exist as a function of public expectations and cultural gender roles The authors investigate how the candidates messages are conveyed altered and interpreted in hard and soft media forums from the nightly news to daytime talk shows and from tabloids to the blogosphere They also address the portrayal of the presidency in film and television productions such as 1964 s Kisses for My President and 2005 s Commander in Chief With its strong multidisciplinary approach Women and the White House commences a wider discussion about the growing possibility of a female president in the United States the ways in which popular perceptions of gender will impact her leadership and the cultural challenges she will face

Blenheim Henrietta Spencer-Churchill,2024-09-03 The most important most visited and most renowned of all of Britain s stately homes Blenheim has been home to the Churchill family for more than 300 years Regarded as perhaps the greatest of the stately homes and the finest example of baroque architecture in Great Britain Blenheim is a treasure of English heritage In this stunning volume Lady Henrietta Spencer Churchill the twelfth generation of the family takes us on a privileged tour of the palace Designed by John Vanbrugh and Nicholas Hawksmoor a prot g of Christopher Wren in the early 1700s with stonework furniture and tapestries crafted by the best talents of the age and art and statuary by such notable artists as John Singer Sargent and Joshua Reynolds Blenheim is filled with artistic commissions that provide a window into the history of England In addition to the gilded staterooms and acres of landscaped gardens Spencer Churchill shows us the family s private apartments with their secret corridors and history of illustrious guests as well as the downstairs staff area with its iconic bell system With beautiful photography of the magnificent interiors and priceless collections and Spencer Churchill s fascinating text this volume illuminates Blenheim as it s never been seen before
