International Family Studies provides educators with innovative methods and strategies to equip their students with a global perspective on marriage and family issues Handbook of Feminist Family Studies Sally A. Lloyd, April L. Few, Katherine R. Allen, 2009-04-14 The Handbook of Feminist Family Studies demonstrates how feminist contributions to family science advance our understanding of relationships among individuals families and communities Bringing together some of the most well respected scholars in the field the editors showcase feminist family scholarship creating a scholarly forum for interpretation and dissemination of feminist work The Handbook's contributors eloquently share their passion for scholarship and practice and offer new insights about the places we call home and family The contributions as a whole provide overviews of the most important theories methodologies and practices along with concrete examples of how scholars and practitioners actually engage in doing feminist family studies Key Features Examines the influence of feminism on the family studies field including the many ways feminism brings about a re-visioning of families that incorporates multiple voices and perspectives Centers the intersections of race ethnicity class gender sexuality age nation ability and religion as a pivotal framework for examining interlocking structures of inequality and privilege both inside families and in the relationship between families and institutions communities and ideologies Provides concrete examples of how scholars and practitioners explore such facets of feminist family studies as intimate partnerships kinship aging sexualities intimate violence community structures and experiences of immigration Explores how the infusion of feminism into family studies has created a crisis over deeply held assumptions about family life and calls for even greater fusion between feminist theory and family studies toward the creation of solutions to pressing social issues The Handbook of Feminist Family Studies is an excellent resource for scholars practitioners and students across the fields of family studies sociology human development psychology social work women's studies close relationships communication family nursing and health as a welcome addition to any academic library It is also appropriate for use in graduate courses on theory and methodology A portion of the royalties from this book have been contributed to the Jessie Bernard Endowment sponsored by the Feminism and Family Studies Section of the National Council on Family Relations in support of feminist scholarship Toward More Family-Centered Family Sciences Howard M. Bahr, Kathleen S. Bahr, 2009-03-16 Much academic writing on families reflects the ideal of non-involvement and distanced subject matter Toward More Family-Centered Family Sciences suggests that the family sciences in their effort to be scientific have perpetuated this distance between researcher and subject to the detriment of both The authors argue that family and kinship ties are transcendent ties boundary crossing in numerous ways They place an emphasis on family love in contrast and in addition to romantic love and criticize current approaches for neglecting the importance of transcendent concepts such as love commitment respect and sacrifice in the development and well being of family structures Drawing from insights both inside and outside of academia the authors seek to reincorporate transcendent concepts into the study of the family as a unit of society They argue for a more collaborative family centered family science and offer recommendations for how family researchers might work to change the scientific monologue about families to a systemic dialogue with families
