Ethics, Ethnocentrism and Social Science Research Divya Sharma, 2020-11-29 This book addresses the ethical and methodological issues that researchers face while conducting cross cultural social research With globalization and advanced means of communication and transportation many researchers conduct research in cross cultural multicultural and transnational settings Through a range of case studies and drawing on a range of disciplinary expertise this book addresses the ethics errors and ethnocentrism of conducting law and crime related research in settings where power differences as well as stereotypes may come into play Including chapters from scholars across cultures and settings including Greece Canada Vienna South Africa India and the United States this book provides an invaluable survey of the issues attending cross cultural social justice research today Engaging issues confronted by all cross cultural researchers this book will be invaluable to those working across the social sciences as well as professionals in criminal justice and social work

Victimology Lorraine Wolhuter, Neil Olley, David Denham, 2008-07-11 This new textbook examines the theoretical arguments surrounding victims before examining who the victims of crime actually are and the measures taken by the criminal justice system in order to enhance their position Particular attention is paid to women homosexuals ethnic minorities and the elderly as victims and students are introduced to alternative models of victim participation in criminal proceedings within other European jurisdictions providing an enlightening comparative analysis

Crisis in Greece Peter Siani-Davies, 2017-10-15 Readable primer for anyone interested in understanding the Greek financial crisis vis a vis Europe

Young People and Sexual Exploitation Jenny J. Pearce, 2009-09-10 Sexually exploited young people can be difficult to work with as their life stories can be upsetting and hard to accept Here Jenny Pearce draws on young people's voices and experiences to explore the difficulties that arise for researchers and practitioners when working with sexually exploited young people

Reporting Crime: Effects of social context on the decision of victims to notify the police Heike Goudriaan, 2006

Transitional Justice Christine Bell, 2016-02-17 This collection on transitional justice sits as part of a library of essays on different concepts of justice Yet transitional justice appears quite different from other types of justice and fundamental ambiguities characterise the term that raise questions as to how it should sit alongside other concepts of justice This collection attempts to capture and portray three different dimensions of the transitional justice field Part I addresses the origins of the field which continue to bedevil it Indeed the origins themselves are increasingly debated in what is an emergent contested historiography of the field that assists in understanding its contemporary quirks and concerns Part II addresses and sets out parts of the tool kit of transitional justice which could be understood as the canonical research agenda of the field Part III tries to convey a sense of the way in which the field is unfolding and extending to new transitions tools theories of justice and self critique

Decisions to Imprison Rasmus H. Wandall, 2016-05-13 Rasmus Wandall uses quantitative and qualitative methods from studies carried out in Denmark to address the formal and informal norms and ideologies that are used to generate decisions to imprison Focusing on the operations of the courtroom participants his work investigates how court decision making is organized to allow the sentencing procedure to be open to more than its formal legal framework while at the same time keeping the sentencing within the boundaries of law and legal validity The author uses the theory of law's operational closure developed by Niklas Luhmann The theory provides an advantageous point of departure to capture the close and subtle interactions between law's need for validity and for contextual openness in every legal operation including court decision making

Governing through Crime in South Africa Gail Super, 2016-04-22 This book deals with the historic transition to democracy in South Africa and its impact upon crime and punishment It examines how the problem of crime has emerged as a major issue to be governed in post apartheid South Africa Having undergone a dramatic transition from authoritarianism to democracy from a white minority to black majority government South Africa provides rich material on the role that political authority and challenges to it play in the construction of crime and criminality As such the study is about the socio cultural and political significance of crime and punishment in the context of a change of regime The work uses the South African case study to examine a question of wider interest namely the politics of punishment and race in neoliberalizing regimes It provides interesting and illuminating empirical material to the broader debate on crime control in post welfare neoliberalizing post transition polities

Re-Thinking the Political Economy of Punishment Alessandro De Giorgi,2017-03-02 The political economy of punishment suggests that the evolution of punitive systems should be connected to the transformations of capitalist economies in this respect each mode of production knows its peculiar modes of punishment However global processes of transformation have revolutionized industrial capitalism since the early 1970s thus configuring a post Fordist system of production In this book the author investigates the emergence of a new flexible labour force in contemporary Western societies Current penal politics can be seen as part of a broader project to control this labour force with far reaching effects on the role of the prison and punitive strategies in general Comparative Criminal Justice and Globalization David Nelken,2016-05-23 In this exciting and topical collection leading scholars discuss the implications of globalisation for the fields of comparative criminology and criminal justice How far does it still make sense to distinguish nation states for example in comparing prison rates Is globalisation best treated as an inevitable trend or as an interactive process How can globalisation s effects on space and borders be conceptualised How does it help to create norms and exceptions The editor David Nelken is a Distinguished Scholar of the American Sociological Association a recipient of the Sellin Glueck award of the American Society of Criminology and an Academician of the Academy of Social Sciences UK He teaches a course on Comparative Criminal Justice as Visiting Professor in Criminology at Oxford University s Centre of Criminology The Arts of Imprisonment Leonidas K. Cheliotis,2016-12-05 The arts spanning the visual design performing media musical and literary genres constitute an alternative lens through which to understand state sanctioned punishment and its place in public consciousness Perhaps this is especially so in the case of imprisonment its nature its functions and the ways in which these register in public perceptions and desires have historically and to some extent inherently been intertwined with the arts But the products of this intertwinement have by no means been constant or uniform Indeed just as exploring imprisonment and its public meanings through the lens of the arts may reveal hitherto obscured instances of social control within or outside prisons so too it may uncover a rich and possibly inspirational archive of resistance to them This edited collection sheds light both on state use of the arts for the purposes of controlling prisoners and the broader public and the use made of the arts by prisoners and portions of the broader public as tools of resistance to penal states The book also includes a number of chapters that address arts in prisons programmes making distinctive contributions to the literature on their philosophy formation operation effectiveness and research evaluation as well as taking care to explore the politics surrounding and underpinning these multiple themes Migration, Culture Conflict, Crime and Terrorism Rob T. Guerette,2016-04-29 Immigration and its consequences is a substantially contested subject with hugely differing viewpoints While some contend that criminal participation by migrants is the result of environmental factors found in the host country that are beyond the control of migrants others blame migrants for all that is wrong in their communities In this book experts from Europe the USA Turkey and Israel examine recent developments in the fields of culture conflict organized crime victimization and terrorism all of which intersect to varying degrees with migration and illegal conduct While the essays further our understanding of a variety of issues surrounding migration at the same time they illuminate the complexities of managing the challenges as globalization increases

Hate on the Net Antonio Roversi, 2017-11-28 Terrorists subversive political groups and gangs with violent agendas have found an easy and convenient means to promulgate their messages of hate cyberspace Whilst debate about the use of the internet by extremist groups rages around governments and media alike little has hitherto been presented as analysis of the websites themselves Timely and topical Antonio Roversi presents an insightful look at the unregulated anonymous and easily accessible nature of the Internet and how it has been used to raise funds recruit train and promote acts of violence and disorder This book will be a valuable resource for academics researchers and policymakers with an interest in hate crime and the use of the internet as a means of incitement

The Hidden Order of Corruption Donatella della Porta, Alberto Vannucci, 2016-03-23 When corruption is exposed unknown aspects are revealed which allow us to better understand its structures and informal norms This book investigates the hidden order of corruption looking at the invisible codes and mechanisms that govern and stabilize the links between corrupters and corruptees Concentrating mainly on democratic regimes this book uses a wide range of documentation including media and judicial sources from Italy and other countries to locate the internal equilibria and dynamics of corruption in a broad and comparative perspective It also analyses the Transparency International Annual Reports and the daily survey of international news to present evidence on specific cases of corruption within an institutional theory framework

Children's Rights and the Minimum Age of Criminal Responsibility Don Cipriani, 2016-05-23 Children of almost any age can break the law but at what age should children first face the possibility of criminal responsibility for their alleged crimes This work is the first global analysis of national minimum ages of criminal responsibility MACRs the international legal obligations that surround them and the principal considerations for establishing and implementing respective age limits Taking an international children's rights approach with a rich theoretical framework and the vitality of the UN Convention on the Rights of the Child this work maintains a critical perspective such as in challenging the assumptions of many children's rights scholars and advocates Compiling the age limits and statutory sources for all countries this book explains the broad historical origins behind most of them identifying the recurring practical challenges that affect every country and providing the first comprehensive evidence that a general principle of international law requires all nations regardless of their treaty ratifications to establish respective minimum age limits

Pervasive Prevention Tamar Pitch, 2016-04-22 The Prevention Society is a definition that can otherwise be summarized as the information society the risk society the surveillance society or the insecure society This book shows the connections and differences between these explanations whilst providing a gender reading of the ways in which

social control manifests itself through precautionary measures Today's diffuse and pervasive prevention imperative symbolizes both a self-defining doctrine and the justification for a means of repression segregation and exclusion From bodies to daily life and preventative war Pervasive Prevention investigates the effects of this imperative for social control its connection with neo-liberal hegemonic ideology and the centrality in its dealings with women and the feminine The Policing of Transnational Protest Abby Peterson, 2016-02-24 Having long been a neglected issue the policing of protest began to attract considerable attention in the 1990s climaxing in the events in Seattle of 1999 These protests and the changing political climate since September 11 2001 mean that a new cycle of protest is challenging the concept of law and order and civil liberties This book examines how new policing styles are developing using case studies from North America and Europe The volume brings together researchers from a number of disciplines sociology criminology political science and mass communication who focus on new forms of political protest policing and public order Transitional Justice Prof Dr Chrisje Brants, Professor Antoine Hol, Professor Dina Siegel, 2013-04-28 Transitional justice is usually associated with international criminal courts and tribunals but criminal justice is merely one way of dealing with the legacy of conflict and atrocity Justice is not only a matter of law It is a process of making sense of the past and accepting the possibility of a shared future together although perpetrators victims and bystanders may have very different memories and perceptions experiences and expectations This book goes further than providing a legal analysis of the effectiveness of transitional justice and presents a wider perspective It is a critical appraisal of the different dimensions of the process of transitional justice that affects the imagery and constructions of past experiences and perceptions of conflict Examining hidden histories of atrocities public trials and memorialization processes and rituals artistic expressions and contradictory perceptions of past conflicts the book constructs what transitional justice and the imagery involved can mean for a better understanding of the processes of justice truth and reconciliation In transcending the legal although by no means denying the significance of law the book also represents a multidisciplinary holistic approach to justice and includes contributions from criminal and international lawyers cultural anthropologists criminologists political scientists and historians
