Domestic Violence Cross Cultural Perspective M. Basheer Ahmed, 2009 Domestic violence is a global phenomenon occurring among people of all races ages social economic status educational and religious backgrounds Family roles values customs and expectations are deeply rooted within a person's culture and religious traditions As our society becomes increasingly multi cultural it is critical that we understand domestic violence within a cross cultural context Such an understanding will enable us to develop culturally appropriate interventions in addressing the issue of domestic violence in our communities Many community and religious leaders are not familiar of the incidence of domestic violence among immigrant population and lack the knowledge of the effect of domestic violence on the victims their children the legal implications and the resources available for them This book is written for health professionals religious and community leaders in a simple language to make them familiar with some unique feature of people following different religions and cultures

International Perspectives on Family Violence and Abuse Kathleen Malley-Morrison, 2012-12-06 In this book in which definitions and examples of abuse from men and women from every continent and a very diverse set of backgrounds are considered The volume provides information on the extent to which family violence is a recognized problem in each country research findings available on different forms of family violence and information on governmental responses to family violence Finally the value of an international human rights approach to abuse and violence in families is considered The book presents an unparalleled international coverage addressing all forms of family violence in Australia and at least two countries from every other continent Each chapter begins by describing the cultural context in which family violence and abuse take place These sections emphasize the role of women and children in the country Providing a multitude of voices each chapter includes fascinating and often dramatic definitions and examples of abuse from ordinary citizens of the country. The concluding chapter elaborates on the appropriateness of a human rights approach in addressing family violence cross nationally and cross culturally and provides an excellent integration of much of the material from the previous chapters. The book is intended for advanced undergraduates and graduate students in psychology and sociology as well as pre professionals and professionals in medicine law and social services. It has strong relevance and value to individuals training in counseling counselor education and clinical psychology. Because of its readable style and extensive use of quotations from citizens of the countries studied for the book it may also appeal to a much broader audience including a lay audience.

Family Dispute Resolution from a Cultural Perspective Buol Garang Anyieth Juuk, 2023-07-26 Family dispute resolution is the central theme of this book. The book contributes to the growing body of research on non Australian perspectives of South Sudanese settlement in Australia in a unique way while other researchers have highlighted several of the settlement problems faced by South Sudanese former refugees none have focused on the important issue of how family law problems are resolved. This book will also make a vital contribution to our understanding of how the Australian legal system works or does not work within the context of legal pluralism. Ultimately this book will strengthen our understanding of social integration and family well being of South Sudanese families and other groups in Australia.

Domestic Violence Cross Cultural Perspective M. Basheer Ahmed M.D., 2009-07-28 Domestic violence is a global phenomenon occurring among people of all races ages social economic status educational and religious backgrounds. Parent-Youth Relations Stephan Wilson, Gary W Peterson, Suzanne Steinmetz, 2012-12-06 Explore the most fundamental human relationship between parent and child Western social science has long neglected to acknowledge that family relationships must always be examined from a culturally sensitive perspective Parent Youth Relations Cultural and Cross Cultural Perspectives fills this void by exploring in depth the most fundamental human relationship between parent and child in different societies around the world. International experts provide a comprehensive collection of original research and theory on how parental styles and the effects of culture are interconnected. Written from diverse perspectives, this unique resource reveals deep insight into these relationships by focusing on the individuals, the structure of the family, and societal and cultural influences. Parental relations and cultural belief systems both play integral parts on how socialization and development occur in children. Parent Youth Relations Cultural and Cross Cultural Perspectives presents several viewpoints, some comparing similarities and differences across societies or nations, others exploring relationships within a single culture. This probing global look at parent youth relations provides sensitively nuanced information valuable for every professional or student in the social sciences. Detailed tables illustrate research data, while thorough bibliographies offer opportunities for further study. Parent Youth Relations Cultural and Cross Cultural Perspectives explores parenting style and its effects on children in Chinese culture, parenting style in problem solving situations in Hong Kong, cross national perspectives on parental acceptance/rejection theory, multinational studies of interparental conflict, parenting and adolescent functioning, the relationship between parenting behaviors and adolescent achievement in Chile and Ecuador, parent/adolescent relations and problem behaviors in Hungary, the Netherlands, Switzerland, and the United States, cross national analysis of family and school socialization and adolescent academic achievement, parent/child contact after divorce from the child's perspective, familial impacts on adolescent aggression and depression in Colombia, predicting Korean adolescents' sexual behavior from individual and family factors, parenting in Mexican society, relations with parents and friends during adolescence and early adulthood, parent/child relationships in childhood and adulthood and their effect on the parent's marriage, the effects of financial hardship, interparental conflict, and maternal parenting in Germany, and more original research studies. Parent Youth Relations Cultural and Cross Cultural Perspectives presents the freshest research available along with extensive bibliographies providing essential reading for educators, advanced undergraduates, graduate students, and professionals in family studies, sociology, psychology, and anthropology.

Adapting Gender and Development to Local Religious

Contexts Romina Istratii, 2020-10-01 This book provides a critical and decolonial analysis of gender and development theory and practice in religious societies through the presentation of a detailed ethnographic study of conjugal violence in Ethiopia. Responding to recent consensus that gender mainstreaming approaches have failed to produce their intended structural changes, Romina Istratii explains that gender and development analytical and theoretical frameworks are often constructed through western/Eurocentric lenses, ill-equipped to understand gender-related realities and human behaviour in non-western religious contexts and knowledge systems. Instead, Istratii argues for an approach to gender-sensitive research and practice which is embedded in insiders' conceptual understandings as a basis to theorise about gender, assess the possible gendered underpinnings of local issues, and design appropriate alleviation strategies. Drawing on a detailed study of conjugal abuse realities and attitudes in two villages and the city of Aksum in Northern Ethiopia she demonstrates how religious knowledge can be engaged in the design and implementation of remedial interventions This book carefully evidences the importance of integrating religious traditions and spirituality in current discussions of sustainable development in Africa and speaks to researchers and practitioners of gender religion and development in Africa scholars of non western Christianities and Ethiopian studies and domestic violence researchers and practitioners

The Educated Elite in 1 Corinthians Robert Dutch,2005-06-20 This book examines the educated elite in 1 Corinthians through the development and application of an ancient education model The research reads Paul s text within the social world of early Christianity and uses social scientific criticism in reconstructing a model that is appropriate for first century Corinth Pauline scholars have used models to reconstruct elite education but this study highlights their oversight in recognising the relevancy of the Greek Gymnasium for education Topics are examined in 1 Corinthians to demonstrate where the model advances an understanding of Paul s interaction with the elite Corinthian Christians in the context of community conflict This study demonstrates the important contribution that this ancient education model makes in interpreting 1 Corinthians in a Graeco Roman context This is Volume 271 of JSNTS
