Encyclopedia of Human Rights Edward H. Lawson, 1996 Preface to the first edition      David Owen, Human Rights and the Remaking of British Foreign Policy David Grealy, 2022-10-06 Although the evolution of human rights diplomacy during the second half of the 20th century has been the subject of a wealth of scholarship in recent years British foreign policy perspectives remain largely underappreciated Focusing on former Foreign Secretary David Owen's sustained engagement with the related concepts of human rights and humanitarianism David Owen Human Rights and the Remaking of British Foreign Policy addresses this striking omission by exploring the relationship between international human rights promotion and British foreign policy between c 1956 1997 In doing so this book uncovers how human rights concerns have shaped national responses to foreign policy dilemmas at the intersections of civil society media and policymaking how economic and geopolitical interests have defined the parameters within which human rights concerns influence policy how human rights considerations have influenced British interventions in overseas conflicts and how activism on normative issues such as human rights has been shaped by concepts of national identity Furthermore by bringing these issues and debates into focus through the lens of Owen's human rights advocacy analysis provides a reappraisal of one of the most recognisable albeit enigmatic parliamentarians in recent British history Both within the confines of Whitehall and without Owen's human rights advocacy served to alter the course of British foreign policy at key junctures during the late Cold War and post Cold War periods and provides a unique prism through which to interrogate the intersections between Britain's enduring search for a distinctive role in the world and the development of the international human rights regime during the period in question

Famine, a Man-made Disaster? , 1985      The International Law and Practice of Early-Warning and Preventive Diplomacy B. G. Ramcharan, 1991-07-29 Despite the decrease in tension between East and West the world is still faced by many threats to international security a deteriorating environment terrorism drug trafficking humanitarian emergencies serious human rights violations and mass exoduses of populations There is a growing need to devote more attention to how these international security challenges can be dealt with piecemeal approaches and strategies no longer suffice The interaction of security issues and their global nature call for broad and integrated strategies of management and of governance States are now discovering that if they are to protect their own interests they will need to entrust to the international community through the agency of international organizations competences for the protection of the common interest and human welfare The United Nations will be called upon to operate an integrated global watch in the environmental military political economic social and humanitarian sectors a system of early warning can prevent potential political conflicts or humanitarian emergencies The present work sheds some light on the principles of international law for the conduct of early warning and preventive diplomacy and shows the urgent need for the establishment of a true Global Watch The world is now threatened by problems never experienced before in the history of the international community and partnership and cooperation will be crucial if the international security challenges of the future are to be addressed successfully

A Framework for Survival Kevin M. Cahill, 1999 The legendary Greek figure Orpheus was said to have possessed magical powers capable of moving all living and inanimate things through the sound of his lyre and voice Over time the Orphic theme has come to indicate the power of music to unsettle subvert and ultimately bring down oppressive realities in order to liberate the soul and expand human life without limits The liberating effect of music has been a particularly important theme in twentieth century African American literature The nine original essays in Black Orpheus examines the Orphic theme in the fiction of such African American writers as Jean Toomer Langston Hughes Claude McKay James Baldwin Nathaniel Mackey Sherley Anne Williams Ann Petry Ntozake Shange Alice Walker Gayl Jones and Toni Morrison The authors discussed in this volume depict music as a mystical shamanistic and spiritual power that can miraculously transform the realities of the soul and of the world Here the musician uses his or her music as a weapon to shield and protect his or her spirituality Written by scholars of English music women s studies American studies cultural theory and black and Africana studies the essays in this interdisciplinary collection ultimately explore the thematic linguistic structural presence of music in twentieth century African American fiction

Famine Independent Commission on International Humanitarian Issues, 1985 Report on the causes of starvation famine in developing countries partic In rural areas of Africa south of Sahara examines development policies and environmental deterioration desertification deforestation drought climatic influence etc responsible for hunger and food shortages discusses rural urban disparity forced migration inadequate infrastructure analyses the role of governments international organizations emergency relief and development aid suggests alternatives for self reliance e g Appropriate agricultural policy

Reporting Disasters Suzanne Franks, 2014-03-01 Ethiopia 1984 A groundbreaking account of the reporting of a famine and its unintended long term consequences

The Political Economy of African Famine R. E. Downs, Donna O. Kerner, Stephen P. Reyna, 2019-07-19 Originally published in 1991 This volume explores the combination of political and economic forces that influence different levels of food supply The book begins with a discussion of famine theories ranging from cultural ecology to neo Marxism Following this survey is a series of essays by anthropologists geographers economists and development practitioners that explores the role of Western institutions in African famine analyzes famine in particular countries and documents the relationship between famine and gender This book takes an unusually broad look at famine by including analyses of countries where hunger has rarely been studied and by examining African famine from both African and Western perspectives Its concluding proposals for eradicating famine make innovative and provocative contributions to current global debates on food and nutrition

Preventing Famine Donald Curtis, Michael Hubbard, Andrew Shepherd, 2008-03-07 Some urgent new thinking is needed if any lessons are to be learnt from the recent disasters This book brings together the experience of a number of writers who have worked on or studied poverty alleviation programmes in Asia and Africa

The Green

Revolution in the Global South R. Douglas Hurt, 2020-03-03 A synthesis of the agricultural history of the Green Revolution The Green Revolution was devised to increase agricultural production worldwide particularly in the developing world Agriculturalists employed anhydrous ammonia and other fertilizing agents mechanical tilling hybridized seeds pesticides herbicides and a multitude of other techniques to increase yields and feed a mushrooming human population that would otherwise suffer starvation as the world's food supply dwindled In The Green Revolution in the Global South Science Politics and Unintended Consequences R Douglas Hurt demonstrates that the Green Revolution did not turn out as neatly as scientists predicted When its methods and products were imported to places like Indonesia and Nigeria or even replicated indigenously the result was a tumultuous impact on a society's functioning A range of factors including cultural practices ethnic and religious barriers cost and availability of new technologies climate rainfall and aridity soil quality the scale of landholdings political policies and opportunism the rise of industrial farms civil unrest indigenous diseases and corruption entered into the Green Revolution calculus producing a series of unintended consequences that varied from place to place As the Green Revolution played out over time these consequences rippled throughout societies affecting environments economies political structures and countless human lives Analyzing change over time almost decade by decade Hurt shows that the Green Revolution was driven by the state as well as science Rather than acknowledge the vast problems with the Green Revolution or explore other models Hurt argues scientists and political leaders doubled down and repeated the same missteps in the name of humanity and food security In tracing the permutations of modern science's impact on international agricultural systems Hurt documents how beyond increasing yields the Green Revolution affected social orders politics and lifestyles in every place its methods were applied usually far more than once

Ethiopian Revolution 1974-1991 Teferra Haile-Selassie, 2013-12-19 First published in 1997 Ethiopia the only country in Africa to survive the nineteenth century European scramble for the continent has a long unique and complex history This stretches back over three million years to Lucy or as the Ethiopians call her Dinkeneshe the earliest known ancestor of the human race to the political turmoil of late twentieth century Africa Teferra Haile Selassie writes partly as a historian but also and perhaps more importantly as a sincere and sensitive observer who lived through the later historical events which he describes and indeed played a notable role in several of them

The International Organization of Hunger Peter Uvin, 2022-09-09 First Published in 1993 this is part of the Graduate Institute of International Studies Geneva series This study which looks at whether scholars of international politics attempt to understand cooperative behavior in the light of the theories developed by the observers of both conflict and of cooperation This volume expands the short list of such works and does so with insight a wide range of scholarship and a willingness to test particular cases against existing theory The author has written a book which expands the knowledge of but also a thoughtful improvement of existing theoretical approaches Uvin's universe of enquiry excludes military power and its application It concentrates on the long term complex organization of cooperative transnational behavior and its rationale Its focusses on functional issues involving world hunger a haunting background and result and perhaps even one cause of the dreadful violence that characterizes our world even as the threat of catastrophic nuclear warfare has declined Hunger John R. Butterly, Jack Shepherd, 2010 A timely and provocative look at the role political developments and the biology of nutrition play in world famine Foreign Agricultural Economic Report, 1961 The Threatening Desert Alan Grainger, 2013-11-05 Lands lost to desert may effectively be lost for ever so desertification is humanity s most obvious despoliation to the planet It is certainly one of the most serious environmental problems facing the world today In this book the author describes what is happening and where Although the problem is greatest in developing countries it is by no means confined to them Australia Africa the USA and India are all affected In the 1970s an international Plan of Action was drawn up to bring the phenomenon under control but it was never implemented Now that the situation is more serious than ever before this book urges new action and describes many of the myriad ways in which it is possible to arrest the progress of desertification It describes too not just the failures but the considerable successes that have been achieved Originally published in 1990 Routledge Library Editions: Food Supply and Policy Various, 2021-08-29 Reissuing works originally published between 1952 and 1999 this set provides a wide spread of scholarship on issues surrounding food provision throughout the world The earlier books look at import and export changes during times when previous trade routes and options changed while later ones mostly consider food assistance policies poverty and famine and welfare These books cover third world studies economics anthropology politics environment agriculture and population studies as well as food and nutrition Coping with Africa's Refugee Burden: A Time for Solutions Robert F. Gorman, 2024-12-09 African Food Systems in Crisis: Microperspectives Rebecca Huss-Ashmore, Solomon H. Katz, 1989 First Published in 1989 Routledge is an imprint of Taylor Francis an informa company Famine, a Man-made Disaster?, 1985 Humanitarian Challenges And Intervention Thomas G Weiss, 2018-05-04 There are two distinct contemporary challenges to the relief of war induced human suffering one within the institutions that make up the international humanitarian system the other on the ground in war zones Varied interests resources and organizational structures within institutions hamper the effectiveness of efforts on behalf of war victims And at the same time on the ground there are ethical legal and operational challenges and dilemmas that require actors continually to choose a course of action with associated necessary evils Humanitarian challenges and intervention concerns within the international humanitarian system combined with the domestic context of armed conflicts often yield policies that do not serve the immediate requirements of victims for relief protection of rights stabilization and reconstruction Based on compelling up to date case studies of the post Cold War experience in Central America northern Iraq Somalia the former Yugoslavia and the African Great Lakes the authors Thomas G Weiss and Cindy Collins make recommendations for a more effective international humanitarian system
