Famished Road:

The Famished Road Ben Okri, 1993-05-01 BOOKER PRIZE WINNER A modern classic that reveals the tension between the land of the living with its violence and political struggles and the temptations of the carefree kingdom of the spirits A dazzling achievement for any writer in any language The New York Times Book Review In the decade since it won the Booker Prize Ben Okri's Famished Road has become a classic Like Salman Rushdie's Midnight's Children or Gabriel Garcia Marquez's One Hundred Years of Solitude it combines brilliant narrative technique with a fresh vision to create an essential work of world literature The narrator Azaro is an abiku a spirit child who in the Yoruba tradition of Nigeria exists between life and death The life he foresees for himself and the tale he tells is full of sadness and tragedy but inexplicably he is born with a smile on his face Nearly called back to the land of the dead he is resurrected But in their efforts to save their child Azaro's loving parents are made destitute

The Famished Road Ben Okri, 2016-10-25 Winner of the Man Booker Prize Okri shares with Garcia Marquez a vision of the world as one of infinite possibility A masterpiece The Boston Sunday Globe Azaro is a spirit child an abiku existing according to the African tradition between life and death Born into the human world he must experience its joys and tragedies His spirit companions come to him often hounding him to leave his mortal world and join them in their idyllic one Azaro foresees a trying life ahead but he is born smiling This is his story When President Bill Clinton first went to Africa he quoted from The Famished Road which has inspired literature art politics and pop songs and even been referenced in an episode of The Simpsons A transformative story for all ages and all times it means many things to many people Few contemporary novels have aroused as much passion as this one Indeed twenty five years after its breakout publication the iconic story of Azaro's travels continues to mesmerize new generations For readers of Things Fall Apart or One Hundred Years of Solitude this Man Booker Prize winning blend of fabulism and gritty realism by the Nigerian author of Astonishing the Gods and Dangerous Love is a dazzling hypnotic journey through Africa that weaves the humblest detail with the most extravagant flight of fancy to create an astonishing fictional tapestry San Francisco Chronicle Already considered a classic of world literature it is a masterpiece if ever one existed The Boston Sunday Globe

The Famished Road Vanessa Guignery, 2014-09-26 Some twenty years after the publication of Ben Okri's 1991 Booker Prize winning novel The Famished Road this volume proposes a spiralling journey into the imaginary homelands of its main protagonist the adventurous spirit child Azaro Over the years The Famished Road has been attributed a variety of mixed and sometimes contradictory labels postcolonial magic realist mythopoeic new ageist picaresque epic to name just a few Contributors to this volume have chosen to look beyond pre conceived patterns and categories in order to embrace the otherness of the text and accept to be challenged by it Disentangling themselves from the rationality of Western discourses they have opened their minds to unfamiliar ground and new modes of being and seeing the world which entailed bringing together various structures of feeling modes of knowledge and protocols of representation both African and Western The purpose of this volume is therefore to offer new ways of reading The Famished Road that testify to the richness of Okri's poetic prose and his reliance on indigenous mythical and oral traditions. The volume also includes an exclusive interview with Ben Okri who provides an insight into his writing processes and discusses the main themes, narrative techniques and literary strategies at work in The Famished Road.

African Identity Today in the Writings of John Maxwell Coetzee and Ben Silver Okri Heba Mohamed Abdelaziz, 2024-12-15. African Identity Today in the Writings of John Maxwell Coetzee and Ben Silver Okri is a comparative study of the writings of the South African author John Maxwell Coetzee and the Nigerian author Ben Silver Okri. It charts the thematic and technical presentation of cultural identity in the literary output of both authors with special reference to their respective trilogies, namely Coetzee's Scenes from Provincial Life and Okri's The Famished Road. Through examining these texts, the book explores the dilemmas faced by many contemporary authors while discussing issues related to the construction of cultural identity in a postcolonial world. Studying Coetzee's and Okri's texts from a postcolonial perspective reveals how their very different writings share a range of commonalities. Both authors seek to find a middle ground between colonised and colonising cultures as they attempt to deconstruct the stereotypical images of the Other, creating a world purified of racial influences.

Landscape, Environment and Technology in Colonial and Postcolonial Africa Toyin Falola, Emily Brownell, 2013-03. This volume explores the concepts of environment and landscape in colonial and postcolonial discourse about Africa, analysing the points of convergence and conflict between Western notions of pastoral Africa and the introduction of colonial technology, scientific ideas and capitalist agriculture.

Magical Realism and Cosmopolitanism K. Sasser, 2014-09-02. Magical Realism and Cosmopolitanism details a variety of functionalities of the mode of magical realism, focusing on its capacity to construct sociological representations of belonging. This usage is traced closely in the novels of Ben Okri, Salman Rushdie, Cristina Garcia and Helen Oyeyemi.

The Bioregional Imagination Tom Lynch, Cheryll Glotfelty, Karla Armbruster, 2012. Bioregionalism is an innovative way of thinking about place and planet from an ecological perspective. Although bioregional ideas occur regularly in ecocritical writing, until now no systematic effort has been made to outline the principles of bioregional literary criticism and to use it as a way to read, write, understand and teach.

literature The twenty four original essays here are written by an outstanding selection of international scholars The range of bioregions covered is global and includes such diverse places as British Columbia s Meldrum Creek and Italy s Po River Valley the Arctic and the Outback There are even forays into cyberspace and outer space In their comprehensive introduction the editors map the terrain of the bioregional movement including its history and potential to inspire and invigorate place based and environmental literary criticism Responding to bioregional tenets this volume is divided into four sections The essays in the Reinhabiting section narrate experiments in living in place and restoring damaged environments The Rereading essays practice bioregional literary criticism both by examining texts with strong ties to bioregional paradigms and by opening other less obvious texts to bioregional analysis In Reimagining the essays push bioregionalism to evolve by expanding its corpus of texts coupling its perspectives with other approaches or challenging its core constructs Essays in the Renewal section address bioregional pedagogy beginning with local habitat studies and concluding with musings about the Internet In response to the environmental crisis we must reimagine our relationship to the places we inhabit This volume shows how literature and literary studies are fundamental tools to such a reimagining

Obumselu on African Literature Isidore Diala, 2019-02-13 This compendium brings together in one volume for the first time Obumselu s highly celebrated work on African literature With the dialectic of cultures as the presiding preoccupation of his work and appraising the place of African literature in the universal scheme of cultural interchange his critical speciality Obumselu espoused a scholarship with a necessarily indispensable comparative dimension as the articles anthologised in this volume as African literature reveal The expertise with which he explores the oeuvres of many Western writers because of the light they shed on the creative endeavours of African writers is offset only by the rigour with which he explores the transformative impact of indigenous African literature on the craft of many distinguished African writers Obumselu s discovery of a tradition of the African novel almost entirely rooted in the poetics of African folklore which began with Mofolo and Plaatje and blossomed in Camara Laye and Ben Okri is a highlight of his incisive scholarship and reverberates through many of the works here The originality of his insights his analytic rigour the catholicity of his tastes and competences and the power and grace of his expression make this volume compelling

Ways of Being Free Adnan Mahmutović, 2012-01-01 Iconic migrant writers such as Michael Ondaatje Salman Rushdie and Ben Okri use their fictional worlds to articulate the ways in which existential nervous conditions caused by violent postcolonial history drive individuals to rework the critical notions of freedom authenticity and community This existential thread in their works has been largely ignored or left undeveloped in criticism Although Rushdie has argued that they primarily write back to the imperial centre s in their signature novels The English Patient Midnight's Children and The Famished Road they respond to their conflicting cultural and ethnic heritages by dramatizing characters in traumatic struggles with belonging and affiliation As a way of coping with their identity crises most characters succumb to the political rhetoric of communalism The central characters however are driven by a powerful desire for self sufficiency Yet since this individualism clashes with their need for communal sharing they enact a form of creative destruction of their singular selfhood and communal identity They experience a certain plurality of singular selfhood and participate in forms of inoperative communities which elicit bonds without ties and coexistence without the necessity of a common work and essence Tin House Win
