A Poetics of Modernity Aparna Bhargava Dharwadker, 2018-10-16 The urban theatre which emerged under Anglo European and local influences in colonial metropolises such as Calcutta and Bombay around the mid nineteenth century marked the beginning of the modern period in Indian theatre distinct from classical postclassical and more proximate precolonial traditions A Poetics of Modernity offers a unique selection of original theoretically significant writings on theatre by playwrights directors actors designers activists and policy makers to explore the full range of discursive positions that make these urban practitioners modern. The source texts represent nine languages including English and about one third of them have been translated into English for the first time; the volume thus retrieves a multilingual archive that so far had remained scattered in print and manuscript sources around the country. A comprehensive introduction by Dharwadkar argues for historically precise definitions of theatrical modernity, outlines some of its constitutive features and connects it to the foundational theoretical principles of urban theatre practice in modern India.
