The Clergy Sexual Abuse Crisis Paul R. Dokecki, 2004-02-27 The story of sexual abuse of children by Catholic priests

has sent shock waves around the nation and will not fade from consciousness or the news We ask How could this happen And then we ask How could the Catholic Church let this continue for so long in seeming silence and duplicity Paul R Dockecki a community psychologist at Vanderbilt University an active Catholic and a former board member of the National Catholic Education Association investigates the crisis not only with the eye of an investigative reporter but with the analytical skills and training of a psychologist as well Moreover he lays the foundation for reasonable and practical reform measures Through the scandal in the Archdiocese of Boston as well as the earlier if less well known but momentous case in the Diocese of Nashville Dockecki reports on and analyzes what is ultimately an abuse of power not only by the clergy but by church officials As distasteful as these instances may be they are compelling reading enlightened by the author s abilities to contextualize these events through the lenses of professional ethics the human sciences and ecclesiology According to Dockecki these and other instances of clergy sexual abuse reveal a systemic deficiency in the structure and the nature of the church itself one that has prevented the church from adequately dealing with its own worst sins Dockecki may shine a spotlight into the church s dark corners but he does so in the service of enlightenment calling the church back toward the vision of Vatican II and the spirit of Pope John XXIII toward a greater transparency a more open and participatory governance in the church and for a greatly expanded role for the people of God who make up the church It is in this way Dockecki believes the church will be better able to keep the innocent children of the church safe from harm www.congregationalresources.org Richard Bass,2004-12-30 An ever increasing number of resources compete for the attention of congregational leaders With a seemingly endless number of choices finding the best resource on a particular topic for a specific congregation is an often daunting challenge www congregationalresources org is an invaluable companion to the groundbreaking online version of Alban Institute s and Indianapolis Center for Congregation s jointly researched and produced Congregational Resource Guide launched in 2001 and accessed by thousands of seekers each week The book conveniently and cogently puts the rich array of important resources into context by examining in depth the key books organizations Web sites and people that will help leaders gain an understanding of important issues facing their congregations The book features ten overviews of important topics by widely recognized experts in their fields including Amy Sherman on Community Ministry Tom Fischer on Congregational Health Lee Ramsey on Preaching Paul Chaffee on Leadership John Janka on Evaluation and Jean Trumbauer on Lay Ministry Each essay is accompanied by an annotated list of selected resources for researching further information Helpful guides for using these valuable resources to promote and encourage congregational understanding and transformation are also included Living in the Margins Terry A. It is based in Des Plaines, Illinois, a suburb of Chicago, and is listed in the Official Catholic Directory as an organization affiliated with the United States Catholic Conference.

Doing Ministry in the Igbo Context Cajetan E. Ebuozem, 2011. Doing Ministry in the Igbo Context: Towards an Emerging Model and Method for the Church in Africa arises out of reflection on experience and practice. The volume reflects on the author's own cultural context, religious heritage, and pastoral functioning. In addition, it considers the author's personal experiences in relation to the common experiences of others within the author's cultural and religious traditions and places these experiences and the voices they represent into mutually critical correlation. Thus, commonalities and dissonances in them emerge, leading to insights where to go from there in providing ministry to the People of God in the local church context and still within the framework of one universal church. This book presents a contextual model of local theology that begins its reflection with the Igbo cultural context. The Igbo or Nigerian or African Church can have a pattern of ministry with a model and a method that are consistent with the people's values. To accomplish this goal, a local cultural value must be explored and brought into the scene. Since the Igbo society is the heart of Christianity and Catholicism in Africa, the author relies on Igboland as his situational context. The exploration of the indigenous Igbo value of collaboration will be an advantage in ministering to the rest of the African people who have cultural resemblances to Igbos. The African Church has to learn from the Igbo values of umunna bu ike. Umunna is the basic Igbo unit and possibly the most powerful missionary force in Igboland and potentially an Igbo gift to the Church in Nigeria and Africa and even beyond.

The Theology of Priesthood Donald J. Goergen, Ann Garrido, 2017-02-28. By engaging in conversation with those whose experience, perspectives, and theological traditions vary from their own, the contributors to The Theology of Priesthood explore in detail the fundamental questions being asked about the ordained priesthood today. Priests, deacons, and students of theology will find these articles an engaging means to understanding Church ministry and priesthood more deeply. The Theology of Priesthood includes ten essays that explore facets of ordained ministry and the ministerial priesthood. Paul Philibert OP begins with an overview of issues involved in the contemporary discussion on priesthood within the Roman Catholic tradition. Frank Quinn OP addresses the significance of language as it pertains to priesthood and ministry and how language is manifested in rites of ordination. Thomas O'Meara OP situates the discussion on priesthood within the context of an expansion of ministry in the Church since Vatican II and the implications of this expansion for ministry in the future Stephen DeLeers articulates a theology of priesthood grounded in Vatican II and post Vatican II documents which focuses on the primacy of preaching Thomas Rausch SJ then takes up the issue of diversity within ministerial priesthood as he reflects on priesthood within the context of apostolic religious life Jack Risley OP returns to the question of the relationship between ordained ministry and lay ministry The final three articles reflect on ordained ministry from distinctive perspectives Benedict Ashley OP takes the Letter to the Hebrews as his starting point Paul Wesche looks at priesthood through the lens of an Eastern Orthodox priest Donald Goergen OP asks what insights African theology specifically African Christology might offer a contemporary Catholic theology of priesthood Paul Philibert OP provides a concluding reflection Donald J Goergen OP is a preacher teacher lecturer author and theologian who taught systematic theology for many years He was also previously the provincial for the Dominican friars of the Central Province He is the editor of A Theology of Jesus series and Being a Priest Today published by Liturgical Press
