Emperor Frederick II:

Frederick II David Abulafia,1992 In this the first revisionist biography of Frederick II David Abulafia dispels Frederick's long lived distorted reputation as a monarch tolerant to the Jews and Muslims defiant of papal rule and eager to create a new secular world order Abulafia is the first to place Frederick in the wider historical context his enormous empire demands portraying him as less tolerant and far sighted in his cultural religious and politics ambitions than generally thought

Stupor Mundi Lionel Allshorn,1912 The Emperor Strikes Back Helena P. Schrader PhD,2020-11-16 Emperor Frederick II has re established Christian control over Jerusalem by means of a treaty with the Egyptian Sultan al Kamil but the Sultan brags that he will drive the Christians out as soon as the ten year truce expires The common people of the Holy Land show their contempt for the Emperor and his treaty by pelting him with offal while the barons resist Frederick's absolutism with the demand for rule of law Filled with resentment and bitterness toward his impertinent subjects the Emperor vows to destroy the family that embodies the independent spirit of Outremer the Ibelins The Emperor's deputies will stop at nothing to fulfill their orders but the Ibelins fight back Then the Pope goes over to the side of the Emperor and Balian's marriage becomes a spiritual weapon turned against his father Frederick II David Abulafia,1992-01 Frederick II 1194-1250 King of Sicily Holy Roman Emperor King of Jerusalem expert ornithologist Wonder of the World has long been considered the first Renaissance ruler A visionary autocrat who embraced the religious divisions within his empire to challenge the armies and oppressive limitations of the medieval church he has also been denounced as the Antichrist a heretic and a heathen who died condemned by the papacy to eternal damnation From the Trade Paperback edition The Emperor Frederick II of Hohenstaufen Thomas Curtis Van Cleve,1972 Frederick the Second 1194-1250 Ernst Kantorowicz,2019-06-13 Stupor Mundi Lionel Allshorn,2015-07-20 Excerpt from Stupor Mundi The Life Times of Frederick II Emperor of the Romans King of Sicily and Jerusalem 1194-1250 The arrogant and defiant assertion that man is the supreme controller of his own destinies can hardly be applied even by the most rebellious intelligence to those mortals who rule over the kingdoms of the world However great the personality of a monarch may be the success or failure of his reign and the magnitude of his power are governed by the temper and tendencies of his age Our own Henry VIII owed the enjoyment of his absolute authority not primarily to his profound sagacity and dominating will but to the fact that the men of his century were eager to secure the peace and order that a benevolent despotism brings in its train And the unhappy Charles was the victim not so much of his own unstable mind and wavering purpose as of the gradual revulsion of feeling in a nation which grown strong and self confident under the good governance of the Tudor dynasty was now eager to free itself from the controlling power which had led it into the haven of peace About the Publisher Forgotten Books publishes hundreds of thousands of rare and classic books Find more at www.forgottenbooks.com This book is a reproduction of an important
