Empowerment Through Service Delivery:

Governance and Service Delivery Anna Wetterberg, Derick W. Brinkerhoff, Jana C. Hertz, 2016-09-25 RTI International has extensive experience implementing international donor funded programs and projects including single sector and multisector policy and service delivery improvement efforts as well as governance and public management reforms Drawing on that experience this collection examines six recent RTI International projects funded mostly by the United States Agency for International Development that pursued several different paths to integrating service delivery and governance through engaging citizens public officials and service providers on issues related to accountability and sectoral services The six cases illustrate the multiple ways in which citizen participation in accountability called social accountability can lead to positive effects on governance citizen empowerment and service delivery The analysis focuses on both the intended and actual effects and unpacks the influence of context on implementation and the outcomes achieved

Measuring Empowerment in Practice Ruth Alsop, Nina Heinsohn, 2005 Alsop and Heinsohn present an analytic framework that can be used to measure and monitor empowerment processes and outcomes The measuring empowerment framework rooted in both conceptual discourse and measurement practice illustrates how to gather data on empowerment and structure its analysis The framework can be used to measure empowerment at both the intervention level and the country level as a part of poverty or governance monitoring The authors first provide a definition of empowerment and then explain how the concept can be reduced to measurable components Empowerment is defined as a person's capacity to make effective choices that is the capacity to transform choices into desired actions and outcomes The extent or degree to which a person is empowered is influenced by personal agency the capacity to make purposive choice and opportunity structure the institutional context in which choice is made Asset endowments are used as indicators of agency These assets may be psychological informational organizational material social financial or human Opportunity structure is measured by the presence and operation of formal and informal institutions including the laws regulatory frameworks and norms governing behavior Degrees of empowerment are measured by the existence of choice the use of choice and the achievement of choice Following the conceptual discussion and the presentation of the analytic framework the authors show how the measuring empowerment framework can be applied using examples from four development interventions Each example discusses how the framework guided analysis and development of empowerment indicators They also present a draft module for measuring empowerment at the country level The module can be used alone or be integrated into country level poverty or governance monitoring systems that seek to add an empowerment dimension to their analysis This paper a product of the Poverty Reduction Group Poverty Reduction and Economic Management Network is part of a larger effort in the network to conceptualize operationalize and measure empowerment Abstract

Achieving Better Service Delivery Through Decentralization in Ethiopia Marito Garcia, Andrew Sunil Rajkumar, 2008-02-15 Achieving Better Service Delivery Through Decentralization in Ethiopia examines the role decentralization has played in the improvement of human development indicators in Ethiopia Ethiopia has made major strides in improving its human development indicators in the past 15 years achieving significant increases in the coverage of basic education and health services in a short period of time Improvements took place during a period of massive decentralization of fiscal resources to the regions in 1994 and to woredas in 2002/03 The devolution of power and resources from the federal and regional governments to woredas appears to have improved the delivery of basic services Surveys of beneficiaries reveal that they perceive that service coverage and quality have improved Beneficiary satisfaction has increased markedly in education and less conspicuously in water and health services In the south the decentralization to woredas in 2002/03 tended to narrow differences in per capita expenditures on education and health across woredas Decentralization disproportionately favored woredas that are remote more than 50 kilometers from a zonal capital food insecure and pastoral suggesting that decentralization has been pro poor Decentralization also narrowed the gap in educational outcomes between disadvantage and better off woredas especially in the south Pastoral food insecure and remote woredas gained in terms of the educational outcomes examined gross enrollment rates grade 8 examination pass rates repetition rates pupil teacher ratios and teacher student ratios Innovations in Practice and Service Delivery Across the Lifespan David E.

Biegel, Arthur Blum, 1999 This text will introduce practitioners and students to recent strategies and innovations to effectively deal with a range of problems across the lifespan such as homelessness alcohol and drug abuse teen violence and mental illness Improving Health Service Delivery in Developing Countries David H. Peters, 2009 Reliable information on how health service strategies affect the poor is in short supply In an attempt to redress the imbalance Improving Health Service Delivery in Developing Countries presents evidence on strategies for strengthening health service delivery based on systematic reviews of the literature quantitative and qualitative analyses of existing data and seven country case studies The authors also explore how changes in coverage of different health services affect each other on the national level Finally the authors explain why setting international targets for health services has been not been successful and offer an alternative approach based on a specific country's experience The book's findings are clear and hopeful There are many ways to improve health services Measuring change and using information to guide decisions and inform stakeholders are critically important for successful implementation Asking difficult questions using information intelligently and involving key stakeholders and institutions are central to the learning and doing practices that underlie successful health service delivery Citizen
