Family Dynamics In China A Life Table Analysis:

Family Dynamics in China Yi Zeng, 1991 Based on the author's doctoral dissertation submitted to Brussels Free U in March 1986 and subsequent research presents an overview of the demographic profile of families in China discusses the construction and validation of a general family status life table model which is an extension of Bongaarts nuclear family model and deals with the application of the model and presents new findings concerning family dynamics in China Paper edition unseen 15 95 Annotation copyrighted by Book News Inc Portland OR

Demographic Trends and Patterns in the Soviet Union Before 1991 Wolfgang Lutz, Sergei Scherbov, Andrei Volkov, 2002-09-11 This book provides an overview of demographic trends and patterns in the republics of the Soviet Union The material presented provides a comprehensive and detailed review of fertility marriage and the family age and mortality With data evaluated by leading Soviet and Western demographers this book forms the first compendium of demographic research on the former Soviet republics through the twentieth century

China's Revolutions and Intergenerational Relations Martin Whyte, 2020-08-06 China's Revolutions and Intergenerational Relations counters the widely accepted notion that traditional family patterns are weakened by forces such as economic development and social revolutions China has experienced wrenching changes on both the economic and the political fronts yet from the evidence presented here the tradition of filial respect and support for aging parents remains alive and well Using collaborative surveys carried out in 1994 in the middle sized industrial city of Baoding and comparative data from urban Taiwan the authors examine issues shaping the relationships between adult Chinese children and their elderly parents The continued vitality of intergenerational support and filial obligations in these samples is not simply an instance of strong Confucian tradition trumping powerful forces of change Instead and somewhat paradoxically the continued strength of filial obligations can be attributed largely to the institutions of Chinese socialism forged in the era of Mao Zedong With socialist institutions now under assault in the People's Republic of China the future of intergenerational relations in the twenty first century is once again uncertain

China In The Post-utopian Age Christopher J. Smith, 2019-04-11 China in the Post Utopian Age is an interdisciplinary book about China in the post utopian age focusing on the transformations that have occurred during the leaderships of Deng Xiaoping and Jiang Zemin throughout the 1980s and 1990s

Preparing for an Aging World National Research Council, Division of Behavioral and Social Sciences and Education, Committee on National Statistics, Committee on Population, Panel on a Research Agenda and New Data for an Aging World, 2001-07-26 Aging is a process that encompasses virtually all aspects of life Because the speed of population aging is accelerating and because the data needed to study the aging process are complex and expensive to obtain it is imperative that countries coordinate their research efforts to reap the most benefits from this important information Preparing for an Aging World looks at the behavioral and socioeconomic aspects of aging and focuses on work retirement and pensions wealth and savings behavior health and disability intergenerational transfers and concepts of well being It makes recommendations for a collection of new cross national data on aging populations data that will allow nations to develop policies and programs for addressing the major shifts in population age structure now occurring These efforts if made internationally would advance our understanding of the aging process around the world The SAGE Handbook of

Fertility Behaviour Weiguo Zhang, 2013-12-19 Based on an intensive fieldwork in a southern Hebei village in northern China 1992-3 the author takes an institutional approach and focuses on the way deliberate Chinese state policies driven by new economic and social agendas since the late 1970s have impacted on marriage family relations and consequently on the way fertility trends have been adversely affected the study is also very much concerned with the human dimension and the way in which such social and economic changes are perceived and applied in a rural community The research presented in this study goes a long way to unravelling the puzzle concerning the reasons for a very rapid decline in Chinese fertility rates contrasting sharply with a very different fertility transition within western cultures Law and Politics in Modern China

Sharron Gu, 2009 This is an original interdisciplinary study of Chinese law its language and political institution Evolving within a complex literary framework over thousands of years Chinese language has lost its conceptual distinctiveness to its multilevel and overlapping meanings and connotations Chinese law has become inflated with contrary rulings and exceptions This mass of rules requires an extra lingual legal authority to redefine boundaries and specify applications This book follows and continues the author's The Boundaries of Meaning and the Formation of Law McGill University Press by illustrating how language shapes the formation application and administration of law in various cultural environments Law and Politics in Modern China is an important book for those interested in Chinese history culture law and politics It also provides refreshing insights about the way that law continues to function after its language matures and creates contradictions and loopholes within its system of rules one of the most important issues facing Western legal administration in the immediate future

International Perspectives on Elder Abuse Amanda Phelan,2013-03-12 Elder abuse has been increasingly recognised over the past ten years in many countries and progress has been made in both understanding and addressing the issue This volume provides a much needed international overview of the topic Opening with an examination of what elder abuse is Amanda Phelan sets it in a theoretical context and looks at assessment and approaches to the issue in residential and community care environments The book then presents a range of country studies which provide an overview of the context of elder abuse in the country and a discussion of related policy legislation research and practice Countries covered include Ireland United Kingdom Spain China Australia Kenya Israel Canada and the United States whilst a regional chapter looks at South America A concluding chapter draws together cross cultural comparisons and provides some guidance as to best practice The only comprehensive book in this area International Perspectives on Elder Abuse is an invaluable reference for practitioners academics and researchers from a range of disciplines including nursing social work sociology public health and social policy

Village China Under Socialism and Reform Huaiyin Li,2009-03-12 Village China Under Socialism and Reform offers a comprehensive account of rural life after the communist revolution detailing villager involvement in political campaigns since the 1950s agricultural production under the collective system family farming and non agricultural economy in the reform and everyday life in the family and community Li s rich examination draws on original documents from local agricultural collectives newly accessible government archives and his own fieldwork in Qin village of Jiangsu province to highlight the continuities in rural transformation Firmly disagreeing with those who claim that recent developments in rural China represent a radical break with pre reform sociopolitical practices and patterns of production Li instead draws a clear history connecting the current situation to ecological social and institutional changes that have persisted from the collective era

Annual Review of Gerontology and Geriatrics, Volume 24, 2004 Merril Silverstein, PhD,2004-11-18 This volume examines the importance of time and place as applied to aging families In the first section chapters focus on the temporal dimension of intergenerational relations using frameworks from human development sociology social history and social psychology The second section focuses on the social ecology of intergenerational relations in terms of the national contexts within which families are embedded The contributors demonstrate how the social cultural historical and institutional forces that orient older and younger family members toward each other in both structured and adaptive ways

Making Sense of China's Economy Tao Wang,2023-03-28 For years China s transformation from one of the world s poorest nations was lauded as a triumph that lifted hundreds of millions of people out of poverty There were always questions about data reliability and growth sustainability but the general views on China have recently taken a decidedly sour turn Concerns abound about state interference in the economy an ageing population and high debt level Making Sense of China s Economy untangles China s complex economic structure evolving issues and curious contradictions and explains some key features of this most puzzling of global economic powerhouses This book reveals how factors such as demographics the initial stage of development in 1978 the transition away from full state ownership and central planning the dual urban rural society and a decentralised governance structure have combined to shape the economy its development and its reforms It shows how the pragmatic and adaptive nature of China s policymaking upends familiar perspectives and hinders simple cross country comparisons The book also explores crucial topics including the property market debt accumulation and environmental challenges In this book Tao Wang innovatively weaves the multiple strands of China s economy into a holistic and organic tapestry that gives us unique insights from both a Chinese and an international perspective This book is critical reading for business leaders investors policymakers students and anyone else hoping to understand China s economy and its future evolution and impact written by a specialist who has studied the country from both inside and out

Population Ageing in Central and Eastern

Europe Andreas Hoff, 2016-04-08 During the 1990s Europe became the first continent with a mature society where people aged 60 years and older outnumber children and as this trend continues the resulting ageing societies will differ from previous societies in their make up in their needs and in their resource allocation Population ageing poses an even greater challenge to the post communist societies of Central and Eastern Europe While still struggling to cope with the aftermath of the economic and social transition process following the breakdown of communism they are now facing even more rapid demographic change than Western Europe This book brings together leading scholars to present an understanding of the processes underlying the very rapid population ageing in Central and Eastern Europe In addition to discussing the main demographic drivers behind this development in each of the countries examined this volume also discusses its implications for policy healthcare provision workforces intergenerational family relations the social cohesion of future Central and Eastern European societies and the quality of life experienced by their citizens Organised around broad geographical regions with final sections analysing the book s findings and their future implications Population Ageing in Central and Eastern Europe will be of interest to gerontologists policy makers students and scholars of population change
