

THE FAMILY GROUP CONFERENCE (FGC) PROCESS

THE REFERRAL

The process starts by a family being referred to an FGC service. The person who makes the referral is the 'referrer'. They will usually know and be working with the child or family. This could be a social worker, teacher or health visitor for example.

INDEPENDENT COORDINATOR APPOINTED

An independent coordinator is then appointed. Their job is to help families plan for their FGCs. They help families to think about the plans and decisions that need to be made. They are neutral. This means that the coordinator will:

- Not influence a family to make a particular decision.
- Be independent from any social worker from children's services that may be working with a family.

3

PREPARATION - EIGHT STEPS

1. Initial preparation.
2. Agreement for the FGC to be held.
3. Involving the child/young person in an FGC.
4. Who is invited to an FGC.
5. Practical arrangements.
6. Meeting invited family members.
7. Advocates for the young person or adults who would benefit from additional support.
8. Meeting the practitioners to prepare them for the FGC.

Family Group Conferences Perspectives On Policy And Practice:

Family Group Conferencing Gale Burford,2017-09-04 Family Group Conferencing indicates a large scale shift in assumptions about the way child welfare services are planned and delivered away from models that emphasize pathology and toward those seeking an ecological understanding of the families and social networks involved The contributors also present a wealth of information on related approaches such as community conferences circles and wraparound services The British Journal of Social Work noted that there are issues relating to both process and outcome This book offers some answers that are intelligent and passionate

Family Group Conferencing with Children and Young People Darrell Fox,2018-01-13 Family Group Conferences are seen as a progressive and influential form of practice in child welfare across the globe This book examines and identifies variations in independent advocacy provision offered to young people and their families in relation to undertaking a FGC and discusses how these can impact the outcomes both positively and negatively for young people involved Using critical discourse analysis and an original theoretical framework the outcomes of advocacy provision are examined from participants perspectives prior to during and after the FGC process has been completed The analysis develops themes that are discussed comprehensively and recommendations are made for the enhancement of advocacy provision generally and for young people involved in FGC specifically

Family Group Conferences Joe Hudson,Allison Morris,Gabrielle M. Maxwell,Burt Galaway,1996 This collection of papers assesses the principles and practices of family group conferences in the juvenile justice and child protection systems Contributors describe the how the values which distinguish family group conferences respecting the integrity of the family unit including the extended family strengthening family and community supports sharing power between the state and families creating opportunities for parents to feel responsible for their children and themselves and showing sensitivity and respect for families cultures are applied in various jurisdictions and settings

Restorative Justice Eugene McLaughlin,Open University,2003-06-02 Restorative Justice brings together key international writings that trace the development of restorative justice from its diverse beginnings to current global policies and practices

Child Victims and Restorative Justice Tali Gal,2011-07-11 With its unique human rights perspective on the study of childhood victimization and an innovative child inclusive restorative justice model this book promises to be a touchstone for practitioners policymakers and researchers concerned with children s well being in the aftermath of crime and violence

New Directions in Restorative Justice Elizabeth Elliott,Robert Gordon,2013-06-17 This book is based on papers originally presented at the 6th International Conference on Restorative Justice in Vancouver It is concerned with several new areas of practice within restorative justice with sections on restorative justice and youth aboriginal justice and restorative justice victimization and restorative justice and evaluating restorative justice

Restorative Justice and Violence Against Women James Ptacek,2009-11-16 Controversial and forward thinking this volume presents a much needed analysis of restorative justice practices in cases of violence against women Advocates community activists and scholars will find the theoretical perspectives and vivid case descriptions presented here to be invaluable tools for creating new ways for abused women to find justice

Handbook of Police Psychology Jack Kitaeff, 2011-03-17 The Handbook of Police Psychology represents the contributions of over thirty police psychologists all experts in their field on the core subject matters of police psychology Police psychology is broadly defined as the application of psychological principles and methods to law enforcement This growing area includes topics such as screening and hiring of police officers conducting screening for special squads e g SWAT fitness for duty evaluations investigations hostage negotiations training and consultation and stress counseling among others The book examines the beginnings of police psychology and early influences on the profession such as experimental investigations of psychological testing on police attitude and performance Influential figures in the field of police psychology are discussed including the nation's first full time police psychologist who served on the Los Angeles Police Department and the first full time police officer to earn a doctorate in psychology while still in uniform with the New York Police Department

Handbook of Restorative Justice Dennis Sullivan, Larry Tifft, 2007-05-07 Handbook of Restorative Justice is a collection of original cutting edge essays that offer an insightful and critical assessment of the theory principles and practices of restorative justice around the globe This much awaited volume is a response to the cry of students scholars and practitioners of restorative justice for a comprehensive resource about a practice that is radically transforming the way the human community responds to loss trauma and harm Its diverse essays not only explore the various methods of responding nonviolently to harms done by persons groups global corporations and nation states but also examine the dimensions of restorative justice in relation to criminology victimology traumatology and feminist studies In addition They contain prescriptions for how communities might re structure their family school and workplace life according to restorative values This Handbook is an essential tool for every serious student of criminal social and restorative justice

Restorative Justice and Family Violence Joan Pennell, 2025-09-25 By engaging families in taking charge of their affairs restorative justice can reverse family violence But the expansion of restorative programming into family violence is stymied by fears of setting family members at risk and heightening agency liability if harm results How does this anthology counter these fears In response it provides two decades of studies documenting successes of a restorative approach with gendered and intergenerational violence It offers feminist frameworks to explain how these successes are achieved And finally the author turns to cultural and religious messages from her own upbringing as a Quaker Religious Society of Friends to explain why a restorative approach makes lasting and just peace in homes The aim is to encourage others to identify such principles in their own backgrounds to safely and confidently expand the use of restorative programming to safeguard children and adults in the home

Restorative and Responsive Human Services Gale Burford, John Braithwaite, Valerie Braithwaite, 2019-03-04 In Restorative and Responsive Human Services Gale Burford John Braithwaite and Valerie Braithwaite bring together a distinguished collection providing rich lessons on how regulation in human services can proceed in empowering ways that heal and are respectful of human relationships and legal obligations The human services are in trouble combining restorative justice with responsive regulation might redeem them renewing their well intended principles Families provide glue that connects complex systems What are the challenges in scaling up relational practices that put families and primary groups at the core of health education and other social services This collection has a distinctive focus on the relational complexity of restorative practices How do they enable more responsive ways of grappling with complexity than hierarchical and prescriptive human services Lessons from responsive business regulation inform a re imagining of the human services to advance wellbeing and reduce domination Readers are challenged to re examine the perverse incentives and contradictions buried in policies and practices How do they undermine the capacities of families and communities to solve problems on their own terms This book will interest those who harbor concerns about the creep of domination into the lives of vulnerable citizens It will help policymakers and researchers to re focus human services to fundamental outcomes at the foundation of sustainable democracies This book is available for free in PDF format as Open Access from the individual product page at www.routledge.com It has been made available under a Creative Commons Attribution Non Commercial No Derivatives 4.0 license

Federal Probation, 2001 International Handbook of Penology and Criminal Justice Shlomo Giora Shoham, Ori Beck, Martin Kett, 2007-10-08 At the outset of the twenty first century more than 9 million people are held in custody in over 200 countries around the world from the essay Prisons and Jails by Ron King The first comparative study of this increasingly integral social subject International Handbook of Penology and Criminal Justice provides a comprehensive and balanced review

Restoring Respect for Justice Martin Wright, 2008 This book records a symposium where imaginary presenters consisting of a politician judge psychologist probation officer victim assistance worker philosopher and mediator discuss crime and punishment This is the springboard for a review of developments in the field of restorative justice challenging many sacred cows of crime and punishment and focusing on the people who suffer directly the victims A key theme is that if society as a whole does not encourage respect then it ought to be no surprise that offenders have scant regard for the property physical integrity or rights of other people The system itself can serve to weaken rather than improve safety and security The book points to the dangers of a punitive mind set and reflects on the arguments and data in favour of an effective inclusionary community based response to crime Restorative Justice & Responsive Regulation John Braithwaite, 2002 Braithwaite's argument against punitive justice systems and for restorative justice systems establishes that there are good theoretical and empirical grounds for anticipating that well designed restorative justice processes will restore victims offenders and communities better than existing criminal justice practices Counterintuitively he also shows that a restorative justice system may deter incapacitate and rehabilitate more effectively than a punitive system This is particularly true when the restorative justice system is embedded in a responsive regulatory framework that opts for deterrence only after restoration repeatedly fails and incapacitation only after escalated deterrence fails Braithwaite's empirical research demonstrates that active deterrence under the dynamic regulatory pyramid that is a hallmark of the restorative justice system he supports is far more effective than the passive deterrence that is notable in the stricter sentencing grid of current criminal justice systems

Balancing Family-centered Services and Child Well-being Elaine Walton, Patricia Sandau-Beckler, Marc Mannes, 2001 With contributions ranging from academic and professional theorists and policy developers to independent social workers this book explores the development of family centered services the processes by which these services are implemented the problems the field now faces and prospects for the future Multi faceted examinations of the field show how family centered services and child well being can be linked on a daily basis to better the lives of both parents and children

Comparative Youth Justice John Muncie, Barry Goldson, 2006-05-15 In this pathbreaking volume Muncie and Goldson bring together leading authors to examine and compare youth justice systems around the world Comparative Youth Justice will be of interest to all criminologists concerned with comparative penal policy and will be essential to all scholars of youth justice Professor Tim Newburn London School of Economics and Political Science and President of the British Society of Criminology Comparative Youth Justice is what we need in an era of hardening social policies and irresponsible political demagoguery thoughtful critiques comparative analysis and a commitment to the rights of youth John Muncie and Barry Goldson have done a fine job of bringing together a group of commentators who know the inner workings of juvenile justice and what it will take to change the current law and order model A book that is required reading for practitioners professors policy makers researchers and students concerned about the bankrupt state of juvenile justice and willing to consider new ideas and directions Tony Platt California State University Sacramento With contributions from leading commentators from 13 different countries this carefully integrated edited collection comprises the most authoritative comparative analysis of international youth justice currently available However Comparative Youth Justice is not simply an attempt to document national similarities and differences but looks critically at how global trends are translated at the local level This book also examines how youth justice is implemented in practice with a view to promoting change as well as reflection Each chapter addresses key critical issues the degree of compliance with international law the extent of repenalition adulteration tolerance the impact of experiments in restoration and risk management This book is designed as a companion volume to Youth Crime and Justice edited by Barry Goldson and John Muncie published simultaneously by SAGE Publications This is a brilliant set of edited volumes that will be an indispensable and timely source of information and analysis for anyone with an interest in issues of youth justice and comparative criminology David A Green Oxford University Victims and Restorative Justice Inge Vanfraechem, Daniela Bolívar Fernández, Ivo Aertsen, 2015-05-15 Restorative justice aims to address the consequences of crime by encouraging victims and offenders to communicate and discuss the harm caused by the crime that has been committed In the majority of cases restorative justice is facilitated by direct and indirect dialogue between victims and offenders but it also includes support networks and sometimes involves professionals such as police lawyers social workers or prosecutors and judges In theory the victim is a core participant in restorative justice and the restoration of the harm is a first concern In practice questions arise as to whether the victim is actively involved in the process what restoration may entail whether there is a risk of secondary victimisation and whether the victim is truly at the heart of the restorative response or whether the offender remains the focal point of attention Using a combination of victimological literature and empirical data from a European research project this book considers the role and the position of the victim in restorative justice practices focusing on legislative organisational and institutional frameworks of victim offender mediation and conferencing programmes at a national and local level as well as the victims personal needs and experiences The findings are essential reading for academics and students engaged in the study of justice victimology and law The publication will also be valuable to policymakers and professionals such as social workers lawyers and mediators

Restoring Harm Daniela Bolívar, 2019-01-04 To what extent is restorative justice able to restore the harm suffered by victims of crimes of interpersonal violence Restorative justice is an innovative participatory and inclusive reaction to crime that permits victims and offenders to engage in a communication process about the consequences of the offence It looks to the future actively involving parties to find agree and implement ways to repair the harm Restoring Harm analyses the restoration process from a psychosocial point of view and discusses the role of victim offender mediation within such a process It brings together literature from the fields of restorative justice victimology and psychology and shares original findings from victims who were interviewed in Belgium and Spain This book not only offers descriptive findings but also provides a theoretical and comprehensive model that elucidates several possibilities for why victim offender mediation may or may not play a role in victims processes of emotional restoration Well informed and well documented this volume brings together evidence from different regions and develops a detailed discussion of the effectiveness of restorative justice with regard to victims Providing new and solid evidence thanks to a quasi experimental methodological design theory and practice come together to offer relevant reflections for researchers and practitioners who are concerned about the victim s position within victim offender mediation and desire to develop a victim sensitive restorative justice practice

Restorative Community Justice Gordon Bazemore, Mara Schiff, 2015-05-20 An anthology of original essays this book presents debates over practice theory and implementation of restorative justice Attention is focused on the movement s direction toward a more holistic community oriented approach to criminal justice intervention
