Structure, Interaction and Social Theory (RLE Social Theory) Derek Layder,2014-08-21 A central problem in contemporary social theory is that of providing an account of social interaction that does justice both to the self monitoring capacities of the individuals involved and to the society that frames the interaction This book attempts to resolve this problem arguing for an objectivist or structuralist account which does not undervalue the importance of the indexical and negotiated aspects of interaction and which takes seriously the Marxist rationalist critique of empiricism and humanism and the associated idea that society should be treated as a supra individual preconstituted and constraining object of scientific analysis First Dr Layder pinpoints certain of the strengths and weaknesses of various schools of thought social psychology scrutinized in both its sociological and psychological forms sociology the Marxist rationalist approach Whilst rejecting the mechanistic or naively deterministic theories which are often associated with an objectivist stance he argues that the productive activities of situated actors must be understood as existing in an articulated relationship with and within sets of preconstituted contextual constraints This thesis is illustrated conceptually by the development of a framework which distinguishes two types and levels of social structure with different modes of production and reproduction and empirically by an analysis of aspects of interaction in the occupation of acting The Routledge Handbook of Family Communication Anita L. Vangelisti,2012-11-27 With a synthesis of research on issues key to understanding family interaction as well as an analysis of many theoretical and methodological choices made by researchers studying family communication the Handbook serves to advance the field by reframing old questions and stimulating new ones The contents are comprised of chapters covering theoretical and methodological issues influencing current conceptions of family research and theory centering around the family life course communication occurring in a variety of family forms individual family members and their relationships dynamic communication processes taking place in families family communication embedded in social cultural and physical contexts Key changes to the second edition include updates throughout providing a thorough and up to date overview of research and theory new topics reflecting the growth of the discipline including chapters on singles as family members emerging adults and physiology and physical health Highlighting the work of scholars across disciplines communication social psychology clinical psychology sociology family studies and others this volume captures the breadth and depth of research on family communication and family relationships The well known contributors approach family interaction from a variety of theoretical perspectives and focus on topics ranging from the influence of structural

Handbook of Marriage and the Family Suzanne K. Steinmetz, Marvin B. Sussman, 2013-11-11 The lucid straightforward Preface of this Handbook by the two editors and the comprehensive perspectives offered in the Introduction by one of them leave little for a Foreword to add It is therefore limited to two relevant but not intrinsically related points vis a vis research on marriage and the family in the interval since the first Handbook Christensen 1964 appeared namely the impact on this research of the politicization of the New Right and of the Feminist Enlightenment beginning in the mid sixties about the time of the first Handbook In the late 1930s Willard Waller noted Fifty years or more ago about 1890 most people had the greatest respect for the institution called the family and wished to learn nothing whatever about it Everything that concerned the life of men and women and their children was shrouded from the light Today much of that has been changed Gone is the concealment of the way in which life begins gone the irrational sanctity of the home The aura of sentiment which once protected the family from discussion clings to it no more We want to learn as much about it as we can and to understand it as thoroughly as possible for there is a rising recognition in America that vast numbers of its families are sick from internal frustrations and from external buffeting We are engaged in the process of reconstructing our family institutions through criticism and discussion 1938 pp 3 4 Family
