Heaven On Earth Family Style:

Heaven on Earth Family Style J. Norman Charles, Sharon Charles, 1980 Religion and Chinese Society Vol. 1
John Lagerwey, 2021-09-24 Thirty years ago Hu Shih's views of Chinese society and history were representative of Sinology in general. China itself had no native religion; just local customs. Its only real religion was an import: Buddhism. These views have now been completely overturned with massive implications for our understanding not only of China but also of humanity as a whole. It is no longer possible to imagine that at least one major traditional society constructed and construed itself without reference to a non-mundane world that permeated every facet of society and it therefore becomes indispensable for students of China to take the history of Chinese religion into account and for students of religion to take into account the Chinese experience of and Chinese categories for dealing with religious phenomena. The present volumes contain a selection of twenty-one essays presented in a conference convened jointly by the Ecole française d'Extrême Orient and the Centre for the Study of Religion and Chinese Society of the Chinese University of Hong Kong on Religion and Chinese Society: The Transformation of a Field and Its Implications for the Study of Chinese Culture held on May 29-June 2, 2000. The collection aims at providing as wide a coverage as possible of recent research in the history of Chinese religion and seeks to draw some tentative conclusions about the implications for the study of Chinese religion and society in general. Beyond Memory G. Uehling, 2004-11-26 In the early morning hours of May 18, 1944, the Russian army under orders from Stalin deported the entire Crimean Tatar population from their historical homeland. Given only fifteen minutes to gather their belongings, they were herded into cattle cars bound for Soviet Central Asia. Although the official Soviet record was cleansed of this affair and the name of their ethnic group was erased from all records and official documents, Crimean Tatars did not assimilate with other groups or disappear. This is an ethnographic study of the negotiation of social memory and the role this had in the growth of a national repatriation movement among the Crimean Tatars. It examines the recollections of the Crimean Tatars, the techniques by which they are produced and transmitted, and the formation of a remarkably uniform social memory in light of their dispersion throughout Central Asia. Through the lens of social memory, the book covers not only the deportation and life in the diaspora but the process by which the children and grandchildren of the deportees returned and anchored themselves in the Crimean Peninsula, a place they had never visited. Transatlantic Charismatic Renewal, c.1950-2000, 2021-07-05 In Transatlantic Charismatic Renewal c. 1950-2000 Andrew Atherstone, Mark Hutchinson, and John Maiden bring together leading researchers to examine one of the globally most important religious movements of the twentieth century. Various referred to as the charismatic renewal or revival, it was a key Christian response to globalization, modernity, and secularization. Unlike other accounts which focus either on denominational pentecostalism or charismatic phenomena outside the West, this volume describes transatlantic Christianity drawing deeply on its pneumatic roots to bring about renewal. New research in archives and overlooked journals illuminates key figures from David du Plessis to John Wimber.

providing insights which challenge the standard interpretations of the charismatic movement's origins and influence The Creation of Wing Chun Benjamin N. Judkins, Jon Nielson, 2015-07-21 Looks at southern Chinese martial arts traditions and how they have become important to local identity and narratives of resistance This book explores the social history of southern Chinese martial arts and their contemporary importance to local identity and narratives of resistance Hong Kong's Bruce Lee ushered the Chinese martial arts onto an international stage in the 1970s Lee's teacher Ip Man master of Wing Chun Kung Fu has recently emerged as a highly visible symbol of southern Chinese identity and pride Benjamin N Judkins and Jon Nielson examine the emergence of Wing Chun to reveal how this body of social practices developed and why individuals continue to turn to the martial arts as they navigate the challenges of a rapidly evolving environment After surveying the development of hand combat traditions in Guangdong Province from roughly the start of the nineteenth century until 1949 the authors turn to Wing Chun noting its development the changing social attitudes towards this practice over time and its ultimate emergence as a global art form MARTIAL SOUND COLIN P.
