Hello Missus A Girls Own Guide To Foreign Affairs:

Hello Missus Lynne Minion, 2004-01-01 Lynne Minion's debut peacekeeping mission ended up with her working as the only international advisor in the office of the new Prime Minister Mari Alkatiri. Her book documents the extraordinary behind-the-scenes events in the first year of East Timor's democracy and sheds light on the personalities involved in making history.

Narratives of Difference in Globalized Cultures Belén Martín-Lucas, Andrea Ruthven, 2017-12-07 This book is about how the marketing of transnational cultural commodities capitalizes on difference and its appeal for cosmopolitan consumers in our postmodern globalized world. At what price? What ethical and political conundrums does the artist-writer-reader confront when going global? This volume analyzes why difference—whether gender, sexual, racial, ethnic, or linguistic—has become such a prominent element in the contemporary cultural field and the effects of this prevalence on the production, circulation, and reception of cultural commodities in the context of globalization. At the intersection of globalization, diaspora, postcolonial, and feminist studies in world literature, these essays engage critically with a wide variety of representative narratives taken from diverse cultural fields, including humanitarian fiction, multilingual poetry, painting, text, image, art, performance, art film, documentary, and docu-poetry. The chapters included offer counter-readings that disrupt hegemonic representations of cultural identity within the contemporary neoliberal and globalized landscape. Bringing War to Book

Rachel Woodward, K. Neil Jenkins, 2018-05-04 This book explores how military memoirs come to be written and published. Looking at the journeys through which soldiers and other military personnel become writers, the authors draw on over 250 military memoirs published since 1980 about service with the British armed forces and on interviews with published military memoirists who talk in detail about the writing and production of their books. A range of themes are explored, including the nature of the military memoir, motivations for writing, authors' reflections on their readerships, inclusions and exclusions within the text, the memories and materials that authors draw on, the collaborations that make the production and publication of military memoirs possible, and the issues around the design of military memoirs' distinctive covers. Written by two leading commentators on the sociology of the military, Bringing War to Book offers a new and original argument about the representations of war and the military experience as a process of social production. The book will be of interest to students and scholars across a range of disciplines, including sociology, history, and cultural studies. Spaces of Aid Lisa

Smirl, 2015-03-12 Aid workers commonly bemoan that the experience of working in the field sits uneasily with the goals they've signed up to: visiting project sites in air-conditioned Land Cruisers while the intended beneficiaries walk barefoot through the heat, or checking emails from within gated compounds while surrounding communities have no running water. Spaces of Aid provides the first book-length analysis of what has colloquially been referred to as Aid Land. It explores in depth two high-profile case studies: the Aceh tsunami and Hurricane Katrina, in order to uncover a fascinating history of the objects and spaces that have become an endemic yet unexamined part of the delivery of humanitarian assistance. American Book
