This Compost Jed Rasula, 2012-09-01 Poetry for Jed Rasula bears traces of our entanglement with our surroundings and these traces define a collective voice in modern poetry independent of the more specific influences and backgrounds of the poets themselves In This Compost Rasula surveys both the convictions asserted by American poets and the poetics they develop in their craft all with an eye toward an emerging ecological worldview Rasula begins by examining poets associated with Black Mountain College in the 1950s Charles Olson Robert Creeley and Robert Duncan and their successors But This Compost extends to include earlier poets like Robinson Jeffers Ezra Pound Louis Zukofsky Kenneth Rexroth and Muriel Rukeyser as well as Clayton Eshleman Gary Snyder Michael McClure and other contemporary poets Walt Whitman and Emily Dickinson also make appearances Rasula draws this diverse group of poets together uncovering how the past is a compost fertilizing the present He looks at the heritage of ancient lore and the legacy of modern history and colonial violence as factors contributing to ecological imperatives in modern poetry This Compost restores the dialogue between poetic language and the geophysical biological realm of nature that so much postmodern discourse has sought to silence It is a fully developed carefully argued book that deals with an underrepresented element in modern American culture where the natural world and those who write about it have been greatly neglected in contemporary literary history and theory Persephone

Unveiled Charles Stein, 2006-06-09 Persephone Unveiled reveals the goddess in all her guises as the daughter of Demeter the Queen of the Underworld the archetypal female healer and as a central figure in the Eleusinian Mysteries where celebrants experienced sacred visions through secret rituals fueled by an LSD like substance The author examines the known details about the psychoactive agent and explores the Mysteries influence on and relationship to early Christianity Guided meditations using active imagination techniques help readers summon an experience with the goddess Talisman, 1995

Never by Itself Alone David Grundy, 2024 Through its comprehensive history of post war queer writing in Boston and San Francisco from the 1940s through the 21st century Never By Itself Alone provides a new view of queer history Grundy intertwines analysis of lesbian gay and queer literature of the time centering voices which have not yet before been explored in existing criticism The book elevates the underrepresented work of writers of color and those with gender nonconforming identities underscores the link between activism and literature and insists upon the vital importance of radical accounts of race class and gender in any queer studies worthy of the name Answerable to None Edward Halsey Foster, 1999 Essays on contemporary American Literature Five Fingers Review, 1996 Spin Cycle Chris Stroffolino, 2001 A unique and extremely valuable work of criticism It is the first work I know to recognize the gulf between established contemporaries about whom many of us write and other usually younger writers who have much greater claims to be capturing what might
