Reclaiming Biblical Heroines Monika Czekanowska-Gutman, 2022-11-07 Although recently more studies have been devoted to the representations of Biblical heroines in modern European art less is known about the contribution to the portrayals of Biblical women by modern Jewish artists This monograph explores why and how heroines of the Scripture Judith Esther and the Shulamite received a particular meaning for acculturated Jewish artists originating from the Polish lands in the last decades of the nineteenth century and the first two decades of the twentieth century It convincingly proves that artworks by Maurycy Gottlieb Wilhem Wachtel Ephraim Moses Lilien Maurycy Minkowski Samuel Hirszenberg and Boris Schatz significantly differed from renderings of contemporary non Jewish artists adopting a Jewish perspective creating complex and psychological portrayals of the heroines inspired by Jewish literature and as well as by historical and cultural phenomena of Jewish revival and the cultural Zionism movement      JPS: The Americanization of Jewish Culture, 1888-1988 Jonathan D. Sarna, 2021-09 Published to mark the 100th anniversary of The Jewish Publication Society Jonathan Sarna's engaging blend of anecdote and analysis presents the personalities and the controversies the struggles and the achievements behind a century of publishing by the oldest English language publisher of Jewish books in the world Includes black and white photographs and extensive listings of JPS officers and editors governing boards and authors translators and illustrators up to 1988      Till We Have Built Jerusalem Adina Hoffman, 2016-04-05 A biographical excavation of one of the world's great troubled cities A remarkable view of one of the world's most beloved and troubled cities Adina Hoffman's Till We Have Built Jerusalem is a gripping and intimate journey into the very different lives of three architects who helped shape modern Jerusalem The book unfolds as an excavation It opens with the 1934 arrival in Jerusalem of the celebrated Berlin architect Erich Mendelsohn a refugee from Hitler's Germany who must reckon with a complex new Middle Eastern reality Next we meet Austen St Barbe Harrison Palestine's chief government architect from 1922 to 1937 Steeped in the traditions of Byzantine and Islamic building this most private of public servants finds himself working under the often stifling and violent conditions of British rule And in the riveting final section Hoffman herself sets out through the battered streets of today's Jerusalem searching for traces of a possibly Greek possibly Arab architect named Spyro Houris Once a fixture on the local scene Houris is now utterly forgotten though his grand Armenian tile clad buildings still stand a ghostly testimony to the cultural fluidity that has historically characterized Jerusalem at its best A beautifully written rumination on memory and forgetting place and displacement Till We Have Built Jerusalem uncovers the ramifying layers of one great city's buried history as it asks what it means everywhere to be foreign and to belong      Jacob & Esau Malachi Haim

Hachohen, 2019-01-10 Accommodates both the cosmopolitan narrative of the Jewish diaspora with traditional Jews and their culture      Fifty Jewish Women Who Changed The World Deborah G. Felder, Diana Rosen, 2005 From fiery social activists such as Emma Goldman to businesswomen like Estee Lauder Jewish women have made their mark on history Whether born in the ghetto or into lives of privilege they have overcome prejudice and persecution by the power of their intellect and courage And what a difference they have made In this inspiring volume the histories of fifty Jewish women come vividly alive in text and pictures From biblical times to the present the personal odysseys of dozens of Jewish women bear witness to their enormous accomplishments and are presented for all to see      Romanticism/Judaica Sheila A. Spector, 2016-04-08 The twelve essays in Romanticism/Judaica explore the four major cultural strands that have converged from the French Revolution to the present The first section Nationalism and Diasporianism contains essays on the diasporian mentality of the Romantics Byron's attitude towards nationalism and Polish immigrant Hyman Hurwitz's attempt to gain acceptance among the British by having Coleridge translate his Hebrew elegy for Princess Charlotte Essays of the second section Religion and Anti-Semitism deal with the complexities of Jewish-Christian relations in the Romantic Period. Specifically, they discuss philosopher Solomon Maimon's lack of response to Kant's anti-Semitism, novelist Maria Polack's use of Christian subject matter to combat anti-Semitism, and short story writer Grace Aguilar's incorporation of the British Bible-centered Evangelical culture along with various strands of British Romanticism. In the third section, Individualism and Assimilationism essays consider different ways the Jews were assimilated into the dominant culture specifically through the theater, sports, and post-Enlightenment philosophy. Finally, the volume concludes with Criticism and Reflection, a reevaluation of earlier scholarship on Anglo-Jewish literature, the establishment of Harold Fisch's covenantal hermeneutics as a model for reading Keats, and an analysis of Lionel Trilling, M.H. Abrams, Harold Bloom, and Geoffrey Hartman in terms of their Jewish origins, suggesting the further implications for Romanticism as a field.

Carleton Germanic Papers, 1997      The Jewish Year Book, 1907      The Posen Library of Jewish Culture and Civilization, Volume 8 Todd M. Endelman, Zvi

Gitelman, Deborah Dash Moore, 2020-04-07 The eighth volume in a landmark series, this anthology of Jewish culture and civilization encompasses the period between the world wars. An anthology of Jewish culture between the world wars, the editors' selections convey the variety, breadth, and depth of Jewish creativity in those tempestuous decades. Despite, or perhaps because of, external threats, Jews fought vigorously over religion, politics, migration, and their own relation to the state and to one another. The texts, translated from many languages, span a wide range of politics, culture, literature, and art. This collection examines what was simultaneously a tense and innovative period in modern Jewish history.

Framing History in East-Central Europe and Beyond LIT Verlag, 2022-09-06 During the 1970s, today's Austrian Federal Ministry of Education, Science, and Research (Bundesministerium für Bildung, Wissenschaft und Forschung BMBWF) supported the founding of the Center for Austrian Studies at the University of Minnesota in Minneapolis and the Austrian Chair at Stanford University in California. These foundations were the initial incentives for the worldwide spreading of similar institutions; currently, nine Centers for Austrian and Central European Studies exist in seven countries on three continents. The funding of the Ministry enables to connect senior scholars with young scholars to help young PhD students to participate in and to benefit from the scientific connection of experienced researchers and to get in touch with the national scientific community by sniffing scientific air, as the Austrians like to say. Furthermore, it aims to avoid prejudices and to spread a better understanding and knowledge about Austria and Central Europe by promoting scientific exchange. This volume contains the annual reports 2018/2019, 2019/2020 of the Center Directors and the papers of their PhD students, which discuss various topics on mostly East-Central European history from several perspectives and in different centuries. Ferdinand K. Hnel, Postdoc researcher at the Institute of East European History, University of Vienna; Nedad Ku, PhD candidate at the Institute of East European History, University of Vienna; Marija Wakounig, Professor at the Institute of East European History, University of Vienna.
