Hebrewisms Of West Africa 193:

Hebrewisms of West Africa Joseph J. Williams, 1999 In this massive work Joseph J Williams documents the Hebraic practices customs and beliefs which he found among the people of Jamaica and the Ashanti of West Africa He initially examines the close relationship between the Jamaican and the Ashanti cultures and the folk beliefs He then studies the language and culture of the Ashanti of whom many Jamaicans have descended by comparing them to well known and established Hebraic traditions William s findings suggest stunning similarities And he challenges the reader by concluding that Hebraic traditions must have swept across negro Africa and left its influence among the various tribes While Williams presents a strong case his evidence including hundreds of quoted sources also builds a strong case for the reverse that an indigenous continent wide belief system among African people stands at the very root of Hebrew culture and Western religion First published in 1931 and long out of print today s reader will find Hebrewisms a valuable resource for understanding the cultural unity of African people

The Bible in Africa Gerald West, Musa Dube, 2021-10-01 Although the arrival of the Bible in Africa has often been a tale of terror the Bible has become an African book This volume explores the many ways in which Africans have made the Bible their own The essays in this book offer a glimpse of the rich resources that constitute Africa s engagement with the Bible Among the topics are the historical development of biblical interpretation in Africa the relationship between African biblical scholarship and scholarship in the West African resources for reading the Bible the history and role of vernacular translation in particular African contexts the ambiguity of the Bible in Africa the power of the Bible as text and symbol and the intersections between class race gender and culture in African biblical interpretation The book also contains an extensive bibliography of African biblical scholarship In fact it is one of the most comprehensive collections of African biblical scholarship available in print This publication has also been published in paperback please click here for details

Context is the first volume of a unique collection of essays in honour of David A Kerr who was well known for his contributions in the areas of Christian Muslim dialogue Ecumenical Studies and Missions With contributions from recognised experts in these fields the book provides a platform for examining critical issues facing twenty first century Christianity with a special emphasis on contemporary Christian Muslim relations Let My People Live Kenneth N. Ngwa, 2022-04-12 Let My People Live reengages the narrative of Exodus through a critical life affirming Africana hermeneutic that seeks to create and sustain a vision of not just the survival but the thriving of Black communities While the field of biblical studies has habitually divided objective interpretations from culturally informed ones Kenneth Ngwa argues that doing interpretive work through an activist culturally grounded lens rightly recognizes how communities of readers actively shape the priorities of any biblical interpretation In the Africana context communities whose identities were made disposable by the forces of empire and colonialism both in Africa and in the African diaspora across the globe likewise suffered the stripping away of the right to interpretation of both sacred texts and of themselves Ngwa shows how an Africana approach to the biblical text can intervene in this narrative of breakage as a mode of resistance By emphasizing the irreducible life force and resources nurtured in the Africana community which have always preceded colonial oppression the Africana hermeneutic is able to stretch from the past into the future to sustain and support generations to come Ngwa reimagines the Exodus story through this framework elaborating the motifs of the narrative as they are shaped by Africana interpretative values and approaches that identify three animating threats in the story erasure undermining the community's very existence alienation separating from the space of home and from the ecosystem and singularity holding up the individual over the collective He argues that what he calls badass womanism an intergenerational and interregional life force and epistemology of the people embodied in the midwives Miriam the Egyptian princess and other female figures in the story have challenged these threats He shows how badass womanist triple consciousness creates and is informed by communal approaches to hermeneutics that emphasize survival over erasure integration over alienation and multiplicity over singularity This triple consciousness surfaces throughout the Exodus narrative and informs the narrative portraits of other characters including Moses and Yahweh As the Hebrew people navigate the exodus journey Ngwa investigates how these forces of oppression and resistance shift and take new shapes across the geographies of Egypt the wilderness and the mountain area preceding their passage into the promised land For Africana these geographies also represent colonial global and imperial sites where new subjectivities and epistemologies develop The Times Literary Supplement Index, 1902-1939, 1978 Recasting the Past Derek R. Peterson, Giacomo Macola, 2009-09-15 The study of intellectual history in Africa is in its infancy We know very little about what Africa's thinkers made of their times Recasting the Past brings one field of intellectual endeavor into view The book takes its place alongside a small but growing literature that highlights how in autobiographies historical writing fiction and other literary genres African writers intervened creatively in their political world The past has already been worked over by the African interpreters that the present volume brings into view African brokers pastors journalists kingmakers religious dissidents politicians entrepreneurs all have been doing research conducting interviews reading archives and presenting their results to critical audiences Their scholarly work makes it impossible to think of African history as an inert entity awaiting the attention of professional historians Professionals take their place in a broader field of interpretation where Africans are already reifying editing and representing the past The essays collected in Recasting the Past study the warp and weft of Africa's homespun historical work Contributors trace the strands of discourse from which historical entrepreneurs drew highlighting the sources of inspiration and reference that enlivened their work By illuminating the conventions of the past Africa's history writers set their contemporary constituents on a path toward a particular future History writing was a means by which entrepreneurs conjured up constituencies claimed legitimate authority and mobilized people around a cause By illuminating the spheres of debate in which Africa's own scholars participated Recasting the Past repositions the practice of modern history
