Hedgehog The Fox And The Magisters Pox:

The Hedgehog, the Fox, and the Magister's Pox Stephen Jay Gould, 2003 Draws on the philosophy of seventh century B C Greek soldier and poet Archilochus to challenge assumptions about an inescapable conflict between science and the humanities rebut ideas from Edward O Wilson's Consilience and explain why the pursuit of knowledge must always operate in tandem with nature Reprint 50 000 first printing

The Hedgehog, the Fox, and the Magister's Pox Stephen Jay Gould, 2011-10 In his final book and his first full length original title since Full House in 1996 the eminent paleontologist Stephen Jay Gould offers a surprising and nuanced study of the complex relationship between our two great ways of knowing science and the humanities twin realms of knowledge that have been divided against each other for far too long In building his case Gould shows why the common assumption of an inescapable conflict between science and the humanities is false mounts a spirited rebuttal to the ideas that his intellectual rival E O Wilson set forth in his book Consilience and explains why the pursuit of knowledge must always operate upon the bedrock of nature's randomness The Hedgehog the Fox and the Magister's Pox is a controversial discourse rich with facts and observations gathered by one of the most erudite minds of our time

The Hedgehog, The Fox And The Magister's Pox Stephen Jay Gould, 2011-12-31 Completed shortly before his death this is the last work of science from the most celebrated popular science writer in the world In characteristic form Gould weaves the ideas of some of Western society's greatest thinkers from Bacon to Galileo to E O Wilson with the uncelebrated ideas of lesser known yet pivotal intellectuals He uses their ideas to undo an assumption born in the seventeenth century and continuing to this day that science and the humanities stand in opposition Gould uses the metaphor of the hedgehog who goes after one thing at a measured pace systematically investigating all the fox skilled at many things intuitive and fast and the magister's pox a censure from the Catholic Church involved in Galileo's downfall to illustrate the different ways of responding to knowledge in a scientific humanistic or fearful way He argues that in fact each would benefit by borrowing from the other

The Hedgehog, the Fox, and the Magister's Pox Steven James Gold, 2004 Stephen Jay Gould offers a surprising and nuanced study of the complex relationship between our two great ways of knowing science and the humanities twin realms of knowledge that have been divided against each other for far too long To establish his two protagonists Gould draws from a seventh century b c proverb attributed to the Greek soldier poet Archilochus that said roughly The fox devises many strategies the hedgehog knows one great and effective strategy While emphatically rejecting any simplistic attempt to assign either science or the humanities to one or the other of these approaches to knowledge Gould uses this ancient concept to demonstrate that neither strategy can work alone but that these seeming opposites can be conjoined into a common enterprise of tremendous unity and power In building his case Gould shows why the common assumption of an inescapable conflict between science and the humanities in which he includes religion is false mounts a spirited rebuttal to the ideas that his intellectual rival E O Wilson set forth in his book Consilience and explains why the pursuit of knowledge must always operate upon the bedrock of nature's randomness The hedgehog the fox and the magister's pox is a controversial discourse rich with facts and observations gathered by one of the most erudite minds of our time

Understanding Complex Ecosystem Dynamics William S. Yackinous, 2015-06-03 Understanding Complex Ecosystem Dynamics A Systems and Engineering Perspective takes a fresh interdisciplinary perspective on complex system dynamics beginning with a discussion of relevant systems and engineering skills and practices including an explanation of the systems approach and its major elements From this perspective the author formulates an ecosystem dynamics functionality based framework to guide ecological investigations Next because complex system theory across many subject matter areas is crucial to the work of this book relevant network theory nonlinear dynamics theory cellular automata theory and roughness fractal theory is covered in some detail This material serves as an important resource as the book proceeds In the context of all of the foregoing discussion and investigation a view of the characteristics of ecological network dynamics is constructed This view in turn is the basis for the central hypothesis of the book i.e. ecological networks are ever changing networks with propagation dynamics that are punctuated local to global and perhaps most importantly fractal To analyze and fully test this hypothesis an innovative ecological network dynamics model is defined designed and developed The modeling approach which seeks to emulate features of real world ecological networks does not make a priori assumptions about ecological network dynamics but rather lets the dynamics develop as the model simulation runs Model analysis results corroborate the central hypothesis Additional important insights and principles are suggested by the model analysis results and by the other supporting investigations of this book and can serve as a basis for going forward complex system dynamics research not only for ecological systems but for complex systems in general Provides a fresh interdisciplinary perspective offers a broad integrated development and contains many new ideas Clearly explains the elements of the systems approach and applies them throughout the book Takes on the challenging and open issues of complex system network dynamics Develops and utilizes a new innovative ecosystem dynamics modeling approach Contains over 135 graphic illustrations to help the reader visualize and understand important concepts

Writing Environments Sidney I. Dobrin, Christopher J. Keller, 2012-02-01 Writing Environments addresses the intersections between writing and nature through interviews with some of America's leading environmental writers Those interviewed include Rick Bass Cheryll Glotfelty Annette Kolodny Max Oelschlaeger Simon J. Ortiz David Quammen Janisse Ray Scott Russell Sanders Edward O. Wilson and Ann H. Zwinger From the standpoints of activists scientists naturalists teachers and highly visible writers the interviewees consider how different environments have influenced them how their writing affects environments and the ways readers experience environments The interviews are followed by critical responses from writing scholars This diverse range of voices speaks lucidly and captivantly about topics such as place writing teaching politics race and culture and how these overlap in many complex ways      Reading Literary Animals Karen L. Edwards, Derek Ryan, Jane Spencer, 2019-08-29 Reading Literary Animals explores the status and representation of animals in literature from the Middle Ages to the present day Essays by leading scholars in the field examine various figurative agential imaginative ethical and affective aspects of literary encounters with animality showing how practices of close reading provoke new ways of thinking about animals and the texts in which they appear Through investigations of works by Shakespeare Aphra Behn William Wordsworth Charles Dickens Virginia Woolf and Ted Hughes among many others Reading Literary Animals demonstrates the value of distinctively literary animal studies      Coming Into Contact Annie Merrill Ingram, 2007 A snapshot of ecocriticism in action Coming into Contact collects sixteen previously unpublished essays that explore some of the most promising new directions in the study of literature and the environment They look to previously unexamined or underexamined aspects of literature's relationship to the environment including swamps internment camps Asian American environments the urbanized Northeast and lynching sites The authors relate environmental discourse to practice including the teaching of green design in composition classes the restoration of damaged landscapes the persuasive strategies of environmental activists the practice of urban architecture and the impact of human technologies on nature The essays also put ecocriticism into greater contact with the natural sciences including elements of evolutionary biology biological taxonomy and geology Engaging both ecocritical theory and practice these authors more closely align ecocriticism with the physical environment with the wide range of texts and cultural practices that concern it and with the growing scholarly conversation that surrounds this concern      A Companion to Paleopathology Anne L. Ferocious Minds Damien Broderick, 2005-01-01 Two centuries ago the first Enlightenment failed when its dream of reason smashed into the passions and fury of stubborn humans Without a deep broad understanding of the world the emerging Enlightenment was left floundering its best impulses perverted into the bloody excess of the French Revolution Arguably its idealism and noble goals led directly and shockingly to the 20th century's totalitarian nightmares Now the 21st century is learning anew the Faustian hunger to know everything that can be known But Enlightenment values of reason and tolerance enriched by new knowledge face a complex world no less eager to embrace medieval terrorism and ancient superstitions a world bizarrely denying itself many of the fresh opportunities and insights availed by science Can we find cures for poverty unhappiness ignorance the ruination of the planet aging and perhaps for death itself If so should we

How the ubiquitous human tendency to polarize either or nature nurture body mind yin yang can be explained in terms of coordination dynamics a new conception of brain function and how such polar opposites can be reconciled The First Domestication Raymond Pierotti, Brandy R. Fogg, 2017-11-28 A riveting look at how dog and humans became best friends and the first history of dog domestication to include insights from indigenous peoples In this fascinating book Raymond Pierotti and Brandy Fogg change the narrative about how wolves became dogs and in turn humanity's best friend Rather than describe how people mastered and tamed an aggressive dangerous species the authors describe coevolution and mutualism Wolves particularly ones shunned by their packs most likely initiated the relationship with Paleolithic humans forming bonds built on mutually recognized skills and emotional capacity This interdisciplinary study draws on sources from evolutionary biology as well as tribal and indigenous histories to produce an intelligent insightful and often unexpected story of cooperative hunting wolves protecting camps and wolf human companionship This fascinating assessment is a must read for anyone interested in human evolution ecology animal behavior anthropology and the history of canine domestication

Animal Encounters Susan Crane, 2012-11-29 Traces of the living animal run across the entire corpus of medieval writing and reveal how pervasively animals mattered in medieval thought and practice In fascinating scenes of cross species encounters a raven offers St Cuthbert a lump of lard that waterproofs his visitor's boots for a whole year a scholar finds inspiration for his studies in his cat's perfect focus on killing mice and a dispossessed knight wins back his heritage only to give it up again in order to save the life of his warhorse Readers have often taken such encounters to be merely figurative or fanciful but Susan Crane discovers that these scenes of interaction are firmly grounded in the intimate cohabitation with animals that characterized every medieval milieu from palace to village The animal encounters of medieval literature reveal their full meaning only when we recover the living animal's place within the written animal The grip of a certain humanism was strong in medieval Britain as it is today the humanism that conceives animals in diametrical opposition to humankind Yet medieval writing was far from univocal in this regard Latin and vernacular works abound in other ways of thinking about animals that invite the saint the scholar and the knight to explore how bodies and minds interpenetrate across species lines Crane brings these other ways of thinking to light in her readings of the beast fable the hunting treatise the saint's life the bestiary and other genres Her substantial contribution to the field of animal studies investigates how animals and people interact in culture making how conceiving the animal is integral to conceiving the human and how cross species encounters transform both their animal and their human participants
