profiles of Tin Pan Alley's lyricists and composers Jones explains how a group of undereducated and untraveled writers the vast majority of whom were urban northerners or European immigrants constructed the specific and detailed images of the South used in their song lyrics In the process of evaluating the origins of Tin Pan Alley's songbook Jones analyzes these songwriters attitudes about North South reconciliation ideals of honor and hospitality and the recurring theme of the yearning for home Though a few of the songs employed parody or satire to undercut the vision of a peaceful romantic South the majority ignored the realities of racism and poverty in the region By the end of Tin Pan Alley's era of cultural prominence in the mid twentieth century Jones contends that the work of its writers had cemented the moonlight and magnolias myth in the minds of millions of Americans Reinventing Dixie sheds light on the role of songwriters in forming an idyllic vision of the South that continues to influence the American imagination The Painter and Decorator, 1928 The Saturday Evening Post, 1925 They Still Sing of Love Sigmund Spaeth, 1929 A Century of American Popular Music David A.
