Crossing Borders, Reinforcing Borders Pablo Vila,2013-08-28 Along the U S Mexico frontier where border crossings are a daily occurrence for many people reinforcing borders is also a common activity Not only does the U S Border Patrol strive to hold the line against illegal immigrants but many residents on both sides of the border seek to define and bound themselves apart from groups they perceive as others This pathfinding ethnography charts the social categories metaphors and narratives that inhabitants of El Paso and Ciudad Ju rez use to define their group identity and distinguish themselves from others Pablo Vila draws on over 200 group interviews with more than 900 area residents to describe how Mexican nationals Mexican immigrants Mexican Americans African Americans and Anglos make sense of themselves and perceive their differences from others This research uncovers the regionalism by which many northern Mexicans construct their sense of identity the nationalism that often divides Mexican Americans from Mexican nationals and the role of ethnicity in setting boundaries among Anglos Mexicans and African Americans Vila also looks at how gender age religion and class intertwine with these factors He concludes with fascinating excerpts from re interviews with several informants who modified their views of other groups when confronted by the author with the narrative character of their identities The Saturday Evening Post ,1919 SCC Library has 1974 89 plus scattered issues LIFE ,1941-12-01 LIFE Magazine is the treasured photographic magazine that chronicled the 20th Century It now lives on at LIFE com the largest most amazing collection of
