BY ELEANOR DARK. Eleanor Dark,1945 Backgazing: Reverse Time in Modernist Culture Paul Giles,2019-02-14 This volume traces ways in which time is represented in reverse forms throughout modernist culture from the beginning of the twentieth century until the decade after World War II Though modernism is often associated with revolutionary or futurist directions this book argues instead that a retrograde dimension is embedded within it By juxtaposing the literature of Europe and North America with that of Australia and New Zealand it suggests how this antipodean context serves to defamiliarize and reconceptualize normative modernist understandings of temporal progression Backgazing thus moves beyond the treatment of a specific geographical periphery as another margin on the expanding field of New Modernist Studies Instead it offers a systematic investigation of the transformative effect of retrograde dimensions on our understanding of canonical modernist texts The title backgazing is taken from Australian poet Robert G Fitzgerald's 1938 poem Essay on Memory and it epitomizes how the cultural history of modernism can be restructured according to a radically different discursive map Backgazing intellectually reconfigures US and European modernism within a planetary orbit in which the literature of Australia and the Southern Hemisphere far from being merely an annexed margin can be seen substantively to change the directional compass of modernism more generally By reading canonical modernists such as James Joyce and T S Eliot alongside marginalized writers such as Nancy Cunard and others and relatively neglected authors from Australia and New Zealand this book offers a revisionist cultural history of modernist time one framed by a recognition of how its measurement is modulated across geographical space Storm Of Time Eleanor Dark,2013-08-01 Book two of The Timeless Land trilogy The Storm of Time continues Eleanor Dark s sweeping saga of colonial Sydney under governors Hunter King and Bligh Sydney Cove 1799 and three years since Governor Phillip departed Against a background of continuing convict settlement hunger rebellion and the terrifying force of a barely understood land the saga of Ellen Prentice and the Mannion family continues Stephen Mannion marries the lovely Conor Moore and brings her back for Ellen to serve Johnny Prentice goes bush and re emerges for one last confrontation with his old master By the Book Patrick Buckridge,Belinda McKay,2007 By the Book is an indispensable history of the literature of Queensland from its establishment as a separate colony in the mid nineteenth century through major economic political and cultural transformations to the beginning of the twenty first century Queensland figures in the Australian imagination as a frontier a place of wild landscapes and wilder politics but also as Australia s playground a soft tourist paradise of warm weather and golden beaches Based partly on real historical divergences from the rest of Australia these contradictory images have been questioned and scrutini Shooting Blanks at the Anzac Legend Dr Donna Coates,2023-11-01 War is traditionally considered a male experience By extension the genre of war literature is a male dominated field and the tale of the battlefield remains the privileged and only canonised war story In Australia although women have written extensively about their wartime experiences their voices have been distinctively silenced Shooting Blanks at the Anzac Legend calls for a re definition of war literature to include the numerous voices of women writers and further recommends a re reading of Australian national literatures with women s war writing foregrounded to break the hold of a male dominated literary tradition and pass on a vital but unexplored women s tradition Shooting Blanks at the Anzac Legend examines the rich body of World Wars I and II and Vietnam War literature by Australian women providing the critical attention and treatment that they deserve Donna Coates records the reaction of Australian women writers to these conflicts illuminating the complex role of gender in the interpretation of war and in the cultural history of twentieth century Australia By visiting an astonishing number of unfamiliar non canonical texts Shooting Blanks at the Anzac Legend profoundly alters our understanding of how Australian women writers have interpreted war especially in a nation where the experience of colonising a frontier has spawned enduring myths of identity and statehood No Barrier Eleanor Dark,2013-08-01 Book three of The Timeless Land trilogy Eleanor Dark s best known work continues the story of colonial Sydney up to the crossing of the Blue Mountains the story of the Mannion family continues after the Bligh rebellion As the young Mannions grow to maturity so too the settlement at Sydney Cove develops into a town of substance And later the longings of young Miles Mannion are echoed in the efforts of the settlers to spread to the west the discovery of a route over the Blue Mountains west of Sydney means there will be no
