The Secret Elephants Gareth Patterson, 2012-09-28 The elephants of the Knysna forest have long been the subject of mystery and conjecture Over the years they have taken on an almost mythical quality with many doubting whether they existed at all In 1994 the local forestry department maintained that there was only one surviving Knysna elephant the seldom seen female known as The Matriarch The Knysna elephant was thus described as functionally extinct This was the official stance until September 2000 when forest guard Wilfred Oraai encountered and photographed a young bull from a distance of some thirty metres The question arose who was its mother And indeed who was its father In 2001 Gareth Patterson began an independent study of the Knysna elephant For the next seven years he covered thousands of kilometres on foot following ancient elephant paths through the dense Afromontane forest and the surrounding mountain fynbos He found abundant signs to suggest that far from dying out the Knysna elephants are quietly and secretly holding their own Patterson's fieldwork and his dna research in collaboration with conservation geneticist Lori Eggert established that at least five young females exist lending support to Patterson's growing evidence that the Knysna forest and its surroundings are home to a small herd of young elephants The Secret Elephants is the story of these remarkable animals that fought their way back from the brink of extinction without any help from humankind

The Psychological Effects of War and Violence on Children Lewis A.

Leavitt, Nathan A. Fox, 2014-01-14 The outgrowth of a conference planned as a response to the need for researchers and clinicians to develop integrated plans for addressing the psychological trauma of children exposed to violence this volume's goals are to summarize research on the subject with particular emphasis on the Gulf War to use this information to formulate an outline of what current knowledge suggests are reasonable approaches to public mental health intervention and to develop an agenda for future research necessary for improving clinical efforts in varying international conflicts A significant collection of diverse perspectives attending to a diversity of cultural and political contexts the contributors offer many conclusions about important dimensions for analyzing the effects of violence on children Suggesting informed approaches to public mental health efforts which can be implemented the work presented here directs attention to the need for interdisciplinary collaboration among researchers and clinicians to better understand the effects of exposure to violence on the psychological well being of children and the optimal modes of remediation on individual family and community levels

Baraboo Sauk County Historical Society, 2017 Like many small Midwestern cities Baraboo has had the usual share of postcards printed featuring its buildings and landscapes However Baraboo's unique place in Wisconsin history provided for a much richer array of subject matter As the original winter quarters of the Ringling Brothers Circus along with its proximity to Devil's Lake and its place as a division headquarters for the Chicago North Western railroad Baraboo has always provided an interesting setting for postcard images

Endangered Elephants Bobbie Kalman, 2005 Elephants are the largest land dwelling mammals on Earth best known for their tremendous trunks and tusks These majestic animals are in danger of becoming extinct however Endangered Elephants details both the African and Asian habitats of these animals the stages of the elephant life cycle and the social structure of elephant herds This book also explains how habitat loss war and poaching have contributed to the endangerment of elephants and what people are doing to help save them from extinction

Postcards James Prideaux, 1970 For thirty years Margaret and Leonardo have sat each day at adjoining desks writing postcards to famous people without ever getting any answers Having run out of live personages to write to they decide to address their cards to the famous dead but suddenly much to their consternation a reply does arrive Its effect is shattering and brings on a poignant revelation of the unspoken feelings which have through all the years lay dormant beneath the calm surface of their very correct relationship

Outside the Anthropological Machine Chiara Mengozzi, 2020-05-14 In the midst of the climate crisis and the threat of the sixth extinction we can no longer claim to be the masters of nature Rather we need to unlearn our species arrogance for the sake of all animals human and non human Rethinking our being in the world as

Homo sapiens this monograph argues starts precisely from the way we relate to our closer companion species The authors gathered here endeavour to find multiple exit strategies from the anthropocentric paradigms that have bound the human and social sciences Part I investigates the unexplored margins of human history by re reading historical events literary texts and scientific findings from an animal s perspective rather than a human s Part II explores different forms of human animal relationships putting the emphasis on the institutions spaces and discourses that frame our interactions with animals Part III engages with processes of translation that aim to render animals experience and perception into human words and visual language

Making an Elephant Graham Swift,2010-05-04 From the acclaimed Booker Prize winning author of Last Orders this highly personal book is a singular and open spirited account of a writer s life In Making an Elephant Swift brings together richly varied essays portraits poetry and interviews full of insights into his passions and motivations and wise about the friends family and other writers who have mattered to him over the years Kazuo Ishiguro advises on how to choose a guitar Salman Rushdie arrives for Christmas under guard and Ted Hughes shares the secrets of a Devon river There are private moments too with long dead writers as well as musings on history and memory that readers of Swift s novels will recognize and love Making an Elephant is a book of encounters between a son and his father between an author and his younger selves between writer and reader and between friends It brims with charm and candour and reveals Swift s alertness to experience and his true engagement with words

The Elephant Has Two Sets of Teeth Alice Neikirk,2023-12-01 This ethnography follows Bhutanese refugees who fled Bhutan resided in camps in Nepal and finally settled in the vastly different culture of Australia Along the way they learn the ways that humanitarian compassion is used to oppress contain and erode human rights They also learn however that this charitable framework has small cracks that allow for action The Bhutanese find ways to move between the contradictory expectations of refugee ness as they strive to become citizens Their experiences illustrate the complex strands of power that intertwine to limit the scope of people who deserve compassion Neikirk also describes how responses to refugee crises have shifted from facilitating the movement of people to enforcing their containment Readers in refugee studies anthropology and development studies will be interested in this rich transnational study

Going to See the Elephant Rodes Fishburne,2011-04-19 The trade paperback reprint of Rodes Fishburne s highly praised first novel GOING TO SEE THE ELEPHANT which was published in hardcover 1 09

Elephant's Life Caitlin O'connell,2011-11-22 An Elephant s Life provides a unique and fascinating immersion into the world of the African elephant told by a leading field biologist who has been researching and photographing these animals in their natural habitat for nearly two decades Here for the first time readers get a fuller picture of elephant society cast in a broader context including the life of the male elephant in all its high drama

Elephant Jam Sam Jasper,2013-12-10 Eleven year old twins Demi and Semmy are haunted by a different yet familiar sound They thought they knew all the sounds as music is a big part of their lives So who or what is making this disturbing sound Can their great grandmother help solve the mystery Or do they have to be brave and find this strange musician on their own If the twins are brave what will happen to them if they befriend this stranger Could it change their lives forever There is only one way to find out      The 'book' of Travels Palmira Johnson Brummett,2009 The early modern era is often envisioned as one in which European genres both narrative and visual diverged indelibly from those of medieval times This collection examines a disparate set of travel texts dating from the thirteenth to the seventeenth centuries to question that divergence and to assess the modes themes and ethnologies of travel writing It demonstrates the enduring nature of the itinerary the variant forms of witnessing including imaginary maps the crafting of sacred space as a cautionary tale and the use of the travel narrative to represent the transformation of the authorial self Focusing on European travelers to the expansive East from the soft architecture of Timur s tent palaces in Samargand to the ambiguities of sexual identity at the Mughul court these essays reveal the possibilities for cultural translation as travelers of varying experience and attitude confront remote and foreign or not so foreign space

The Tiny Museums Carolyn Abbs,2017 Highly Commended in the 2016 Dorothy Hewett Award for an Unpublished Manuscript Carolyn Abbs s poems in her poised collection The Tiny Museums live in the gap between deep time and now They are insistently alive to the rich tensions between those two registers This pairing of past present plays out in other unifying doublings and mirrorings particularly those between the UK and Western Australia between photography and poetry and a fertile creative relationship shared by sisters Abbs deftly creates the world of her book through a phenomenological approach Elegant layers of textures colours sounds and movement invite the reader into an experiential sense of this trench between the past and the present In this way her sensibility is painterly but its a Northern light in her poems reminiscent of the crisp mysteries of Vermeer Abbs s poems dealing with family grief are the centrepieces of the book and are admirable in their ability to move the reader without any cloying sentimentality Along with a skilled attentiveness to the ways in which sound moves through a line this beautifully modulated emotional intelligence is a very great strength of her poetry The 2016 Dorothy Hewett Award judges report Series UWAP Poetry Subject Poetry      Explorations in Thai Tourism Erik H.

Cohen,2008-05-08 Intends to contribute to the formation embodiment and advancement of knowledge in the field of tourism This series includes application of theoretical methodological and substantive contributions from such fields as anthropology business administration ecology economics geography history hospitality leisure and planning      The Masterwork of a

Painting Elephant Michelle Cuevas,2011-10-11 Ever since he was an infant Pigeon Jones has lived on the back of an artistically gifted white elephant named Birch Birch is a loving father but that doesn t stop Pigeon from wondering about the human parents who abandoned him Birch has dreams too of being a well known artist and of finding the acrobat he fell in love with while they performed together in a circus years ago And so on Pigeon s tenth birthday their search for fame and lost loves begins Pigeon and Birch paint their way across the world dodging an evil circus ringleader freeing zoo animals and befriending singing hoboes along the way But when they reach the end of their journey Birch must master the most difficult art of all letting go and allowing his beloved Pigeon to stand on his own two feet      Postcards from China Sandra Slavin, 2003-11 This book is a compilation of humorous emails written to family and friends during the author's two years living in China. They moved to China in August 2000 hoping to escape the hectic lifestyle of living in San Francisco and allow their adopted Chinese daughter an opportunity to learn the language and culture of her birth country. This book chronicles their life and provides an intimate look into what it is like to live in China as an American family. It reveals how it affected the building of an identity for their Chinese American daughter. The author writes about the numerous friends they made among the Chinese people from Glenn their housekeeper to the couple who sold tofu in the market. She describes shopping at the local market, ordering in local restaurants and describes how the local Chinese live and work. This book describes their life full of curiosities and adventures. Learn why Chinese men grow long their fifth finger nail, how to avoid disaster when traveling to Mongolia, how to cross the street and the difficulties in purchasing and getting an egg from market to home. After reading the book, you may be inspired to try your own adventure.
