German Life Writing in the Twentieth Century Birgit Dahlke, Dennis Tate, Roger Woods, 2010 Life writing an increasingly accepted category among scholars of literature and other disciplines encompasses not just autobiography and biography but also memoirs diaries letters interviews and even non written texts such as film Whether these were produced in diary or letter form as events unfolded or long after the event in the form of autobiographical prose common to all are attempts by individuals to make sense of their experiences In many such texts the authors reassess their lives against the background of a broader public debate about the past This book of essays examines German life writing after major turning points in twentieth century German history the First World War the Nazi era the postwar division of Germany and the collapse of socialism and German unification The volume is distinctive because it combines an overview of academic approaches to the study of life writing with a set of German language case studies In this respect it goes further than existing studies which often present life writing material without indicating how it might fit into our broader understanding of a particular culture or historical period

The Nazi Party 1919-1945 Dietrich Orlow, 2013-10-18 The only existing in depth exhaustive and complete history of the Nazi Party New Theatre Quarterly 66: Volume 17, Part 2 Clive Barker, Simon Trussler, 2001-05-10 Provides an international forum where theatrical scholarship and practice can meet

The Downfall of Hitler Michael Fitzgerald, 2024-08-30 Examines Hitler's ambitions how they were never realistic and deemed that his failure was inevitable Hitler's career remains one of the most extraordinary in world history No one else has gone from sleeping on park benches to become a world leader After the First World War he became involved in extremist politics first on the far left and then the far right It is often assumed that Hitler's ambitions were never realistic and his failure was inevitable This book challenges that view and suggests a number of missed opportunities or misjudgements that might have led to a different result Michael FitzGerald shows how Hitler's personal defects contributed considerably to Germany's defeat In addition to the military mistakes he made a series of political economic and foreign policy blunders were major factors in his failure to achieve his goals

KL Nikolaus Wachsmann, 2015-04-14 The deeply researched groundbreaking first comprehensive history of the Nazi concentration camps Adam Kirsch The New Yorker In a landmark work of history Nikolaus Wachsmann offers an unprecedented integrated account of the Nazi concentration camps from their inception in 1933 through their demise seventy years ago in the spring of 1945 The Third Reich has been studied in more depth than virtually any other period in history and yet until now there has been no history of the camp system that tells the full story of its broad development and the everyday experiences of its inhabitants both perpetrators and victims and all those living in what Primo Levi called the gray zone In KL Wachsmann fills this glaring gap in our understanding He not only synthesizes a new generation of scholarly work much of it untranslated and unknown outside of Germany but also presents startling revelations based on many years of archival research about the functioning and scope of the camp system. Closely examining life and death inside the camps and adopting a wider lens to show how the camp system was shaped by changing political, legal, social, economic, and military forces, Wachsmann produces a unified picture of the Nazi regime and its camps that we have never seen before. A boldly ambitious work of deep importance, KL is destined to be a classic in the history of the twentieth century. Praise for KL: A Wall Street Journal Best Book of 2015, A Kirkus Reviews Best History Book of 2015, Finalist for the National Jewish Book Award in the Holocaust category. A monumental study, a work of prodigious scholarship with agonizing human texture and extraordinary detail, Wachsmann makes the unimaginable palpable. That is his great achievement. Roger Cohen, The New York Times Book Review. Wachsmann's meticulously detailed history is essential for many reasons, not the least of which is his careful documentation of Nazi Germany's descent from greater to even greater madness. To the persistent question, How did it happen? Wachsmann supplies voluminous answers. Earl Pike, The Plain Dealer, Cleveland.

Leni Riefenstahl Rainer Rother, 2003-10-01. Leni Riefenstahl, now aged 101, achieved fame as a dancer, actress, photographer, and director, but her entire career is colored by her association with the Nazi party. This overt tension between the political meaning of her work for National Socialism and its essential aesthetic quality forms the basis of the compelling account. Appointed by Hitler, Leni Riefenstahl directed the Nazi propaganda film Triumph des Willens along with her best-known work Olympia, a documentary of the 1936 Berlin Olympics. By 1939, Riefenstahl was arguably the most famous woman film director in the world. Yet after World War II, she was never again accepted as a filmmaker. Rainer Rother's book is a remarkable account of the fascinating life and work of Germany's most controversial photographer and filmmaker.

Hitler's Engineers Blaine Taylor, 2020-01-10. An intriguing account of two of Nazi Germany's top architects and how their work prolonged the war for months, includes hundreds of photos. WWII History. A Selection of the Military Book Club. While Nazi Germany's temporary ascendancy owed much to military skill, the talent of its engineers not only buoyed the regime but allowed it to survive longer than would normally be expected. This unique work focusing on Fritz Todt and Albert Speer is based on many previously unpublished photographs and artwork from captured Nazi records. Todt was the brilliant builder of the world's first superhighway system, the Autobahn, and the architect of the German West Wall, the Siegfried Line, that predated the later Atlantic and East Walls. The builder of each of the wartime Führer Headquarters as well as the submarine pens, Todt was killed in a still-mysterious airplane crash that may well have been a Nazi death plot, though he was given a state funeral by Hitler. Todt was succeeded as German Minister of Armaments and War Production by the Führer's longtime personal architect, Albert Speer, who was described by the Allies after the war as having prolonged the conflict by at least a year. Called a genius by Hitler, Speer designed and built the prewar Nuremberg Nazi Party Congress rally stands and buildings. More importantly, amid the constant rain of Allied bombs and the Soviet advances from the East, Speer managed to keep the German industrial machine running until the spring of 1945, though it was driven ever further underground He also allocated resources to fortifications and counterattacks like the V missile installations against both West and East in attempts to stave off defeat Convicted as a war criminal at Nuremberg Speer served twenty years at Spandau Prison and remained a Nazi apologist who died in London in 1981 on the anniversary of the German invasion of Poland Together Todt and Speer were the pillars that propped up the Third Reich through the vicissitudes of battlefield fortune With over three hundred photographs this is the first work that examines their role in history s most terrible war

Religion and the Domestication of Dissent Russell T. McCutcheon,2016-04-08 Since the events of 9 11 the representation of Islam has increasingly come adrift from its actuality Scholars and pundits have effectively demonised a whole faith by wilfully apportioning blame and by ignoring the differences within the Islamic movement Religion and the Domestication of Dissent examines how the classifications we use to name and negotiate our social worlds notably religion are implicitly political The study ranges widely from contemporary film and art to the War on Terror and will be invaluable to readers interested in the politics behind the portrayal of dissenting religious groups

Atonement Eleonore Stump,2018-11-22 The doctrine of the atonement is the distinctive doctrine of Christianity Over the course of many centuries of reflection highly diverse interpretations of the doctrine have been proposed In the context of this history of interpretation Eleonore Stump considers the doctrine afresh with philosophical care Whatever exactly the atonement is it is supposed to include a solution to the problems of the human condition especially its guilt and shame Stump canvasses the major interpretations of the doctrine that attempt to explain this solution and argues that all of them have serious shortcomings In their place she argues for an interpretation that is both novel and yet traditional and that has significant advantages over other interpretations including Anselms well known account of the doctrine In the process

she also discusses love union guilt shame forgiveness retribution punishment shared attention mind reading empathy and various other issues in moral psychology and ethics Secrets of the Holy Lance Jerry E. Smith, George Piccard, 2005
