Britten and the Far East Mervyn Cooke, 1998 Investigation into the influence of Eastern music on Britten's composition Benjamin Britten's interest in the musical traditions of the Far East had a far reaching influence on his compositional style this book is the first to investigate the highly original cross cultural synthesis he was able to achieve through the use of material borrowed from Balinese Japanese and Indian music Britten's visit to Indonesia and Japan in 1955-6 is reconstructed from archival sources and shown to have had a profound impact on his subsequent work the techniques of Balinese gamelan music were used in the ballet The Prince of the Pagodas 1957 and then became an essential feature of Britten's compositional style at their most potent in Death in Venice 1973 The No drama and Gagaku court music of Japan were the inspiration for the trilogy of church parables Britten composed in the 1960s The precise nature of these influences is discussed Britten's sporadic borrowings from Indian music are also fully analysed There is a survey of critical responses to Britten's cross cultural experiments Dr MERVYN COOKE lectures in music at the University of Nottingham
