Reeve,2020-07-15 Gothic Architecture and Sexuality in the Circle of Horace Walpole shows that the Gothic style in architecture and the decorative arts and the tradition of medievalist research associated with Horace Walpole 1717 1797 and his circle cannot be understood independently of their own homoerotic culture Centered around Walpole s Gothic villa at Strawberry Hill in Twickenham Walpole and his Strawberry Committee of male friends designers and dilettantes invigorated an extraordinary new mode of Gothic design and disseminated it in their own commissions at Old Windsor and Donnington Grove in Berkshire Lee Priory in Kent the Wyne in Hampshire and other sites Matthew M Reeve argues that the new third sex of homoerotically inclined men and the new modern styles that they promoted including the Gothic style and chinoiserie were interrelated movements that shaped English modernity The Gothic style offered the possibility of an alternate aesthetic and gendered order a queer reversal of the dominant Palladian style of the period Many of the houses built by Walpole and his circle were understood by commentators to be manifestations of a new queer aesthetic and in describing them they offered the earliest critiques of what would be called a queer architecture Exposing the role of sexual coteries in the shaping of eighteenth century English architecture this book offers a profound and eloquent revision to our understanding of the origins of the Gothic Revival and to medievalism itself It will be welcomed by architectural historians as well as scholars of medievalism and specialists in queer studies

The Enchanted Land Janet Bord, Colin Bord, 1995 Where Dorset Meets Devon Francis Lawrance Bickley, 1912 Devon & Cornwall Notes & Queries, 1918 Early Tours in Devon and Cornwall Richard Pearse Chope, 1918 Into the River Ted Dawe, 2013-10-18

A gripping gritty and award winning coming of age novel for young adult readers When Te Arepa Santos is dragged into the river by a giant eel something happens that will change the course of his whole life The boy who struggles to the bank is not the same one who plunged in moments earlier He has brushed against the spirit world and there is a price to be paid an utu revenge to be exacted Years later far from the protection of whanau family and ancestral land he finds new enemies This time with no one to save him there is a decision to be made he can wait on the bank or leap forward into the river At the 2013 NZ Post Childrens Book Awards Into the River was judged the Margaret Mahy Book of the Year It also won the Young Adult Fiction category of the awards An engaging coming of age novel it follows its main protagonist from his childhood in small town rural New Zealand to an elite Auckland boarding school where he must forge his own way including battling with his cultural identity This prequel to Ted Dawe s award winning novel Thunder Road is gritty provocative at times shocking but always real and true The awards chief judge Bernard Beckett described a character caught between two worlds the explicit content was presented as the danger of people being left adrift by society And within that context hard hitting material is crucial it is what makes the book authentic real and important The Deputy Chief Censor of Film and Literature ruled that the book is not offensive The book deals with some stronger content There are sexual relationships between teenagers encounters with possible child sexual exploitation the use of illegal drugs and other criminal activities violent assault and a moderate level of highly offensive language These are well contextualised within an exciting fast moving narrative that has as its protagonist a young teenage Maori boy from a rural community who is finding his way through the strange uncomfortable environment of a boys boarding school and unfamiliar social mores The story captures the raw and real extremes of adolescence in teenage boys along with their yearnings and obsessions The book is notable for being one of the first in the New Zealand which specifically targets teenage boys and younger men a genre that does not have great representation The genre character is therefore significant The content immerses the reader in action wit and intrigue as well as a level of social realism all likely to engage teen and young adult readers and with particular appeal for older boys and young men No Go the Bogeyman Marina Warner,1998
