Sovacool, Jon Rozhon, 2014-11-27 This edited volume looks at energy poverty an issue whose pivotal role in the fight for human development is only now being recognised by policymakers Nearly one quarter of humanity still lacks access to electricity Close to one third rely on traditional fuels like firewood and cow dung for cooking at great cost to their health and welfare While most prevalent in parts of Africa and Asia energy poverty is a global problem which concerns us all This book which brings together economists policymakers entrepreneurs and other practitioners from all over the world is dedicated to a single goal finding a solution to this haunting problem It is part history part economics part political analysis part business case review and part field handbook Part One focuses on defining and measuring the problem and benchmarking progress in solving it an obvious prerequisite to any successful energy access policy Part Two reviews past and current energy access programs with an eye towards finding out what worked and what didn't and what can be replicated elsewhere These case reviews are told as seen on the ground China's experience by top Chinese officials and Africa's by African regulators and scholars Based in part on those cases the book's last more forward looking section aims to present practitioners with a tool kit a menu of options to speed up their efforts The energy access agenda is gaining traction at a time of rising concerns about climate change and resource constraints This book shows that bringing modern energy to those who lack it not just a moral imperative but will likely benefit the world as a whole without harming the environment or unduly stretching finite resources Alleviating Global Poverty Lewis D. African Regional Conference, International Labour Office, 1993 Financing Micro Health Insurance: Theory, Methods And Evidence David M Dror, 2018-12-27 Healthcare for all at affordable prices is still a major but universally elusive goal Everyone spends money on healthcare and it is the most impoverishing consumption item Thus most governments and the United Nations promote Universal Health Coverage each country's unique blend of tools for healthcare financing including taxes subsidies and market controls Most people in low and middle income countries LMICs have no health insurance of any kind And most LMIC governments lack the political will information or resources to require their citizens to buy health insurance themselves or to subsidize insurance for all who cannot afford the price This book deals with financing voluntary and contributory health insurance for resource poor and rural groups in LMICs This book addresses three issues The first is how to catalyse demand for health insurance and develop insurance literacy among the largely illiterate and innumerate target population using training programs to build an enabling consensus allowing locals to create and administer such schemes The second involves the process of developing simplified methods for risk assessment which can help to underwrite risks price the micro health insurance schemes and ensure proper implementation The third issue is formulating a compelling business case which would make this health insurance affordable financially sustainable and operationally scalable This book develops insurance education and financial literacy for students of economics business administration insurance development studies and social work to prepare them for practical work as implementers policymakers or evaluators A supplementary section for teachers and students includes comprehension questions
