Hydrographic Office, 1935 Catholic Social Teaching and Labour Law Mark Bell, 2024-02-08 This is a time marked by extensive reflection on how decent jobs and fair working conditions can be secured amidst considerable change in the labour market It is apparent that technological and environmental changes are causing transformations in the jobs available to be performed and the way in which work is organized These developments stand alongside enduring injustices such as low pay poor conditions and precarious working relationships Labour market disadvantage continues to affect disproportionately women and other social groups such as minority ethnic communities migrants and persons with disabilities The Covid 19 pandemic exposed the undervalued nature of many frontline jobs The President of the European Commission observed Beneath the Roar and Tumult Rachel Wheeler, Karen E. Eifler, 2025-10-15 How do Catholic university faculty attend to and support the prophetic imaginations of their students Among the treasures of the Catholic intellectual tradition two are especially vital for contemporary Catholic education the sacramental imagination and prophetic imagination A sacramental imagination as illuminated in this book's companion Becoming Beholders posits that God is made manifest in all the academic life But that reality of beauty and goodness must be held in tension with the prophetic imagination a worldview that is acutely attuned to injustices and looks with creative eyes towards a more peaceful and equitable world Composed of essays by faculty in Catholic higher education in various fields Beneath the Roar and Tumult addresses this tension with insight into practical strategies for attending to the prophetic imagination in the classroom In the classroom educators are called on to create spaces for their students to grapple with inequalities and to dream of an actionable way forward while cultivating a more wholistic vision of academic life in solidarity with the world outside of it Beneath the Roar and Tumult offers practical guidance for fostering inclusion and belonging in college classrooms to provide a space where the prophetic imagination is embraced

Attributive constructions in North-Eastern Neo-Aramaic Ariel Gutman,2018 This study is the first wide scope morpho syntactic comparative study of North Eastern Neo Aramaic dialects to date Given the historical depth of Aramaic almost 3 millennia and the geographic span of the modern dialects coming in contact with various Iranian Turkic and Semitic languages these dialects provide an almost pristine laboratory setting for examining language change from areal typological and historical perspectives While the study has a very wide coverage of dialects including also contact languages and especially Kurdish dialects it focuses on a specific grammatical domain namely attributive constructions giving a theoretically motivated and empirically grounded account of their variation distribution and development The results will be enlightening not only to Semitists seeking to learn about this fascinating modern Semitic language group but also for typologists and general linguists interested in the dynamics of noun phrase morphosyntax

Jürgen Moltmann and the Work of Hope M. Douglas Meeks,2018-10-31 These essays reflect on the future of Christian theology in light of the contributions Jürgen Moltmann has made in his prolific career as one of the world s foremost theologians They are not a prediction of what is coming in the future of theology since God s own actions and human history for that matter are not predictable Expressed here is hope for what future theology should take seriously from Moltmann's work Moltmann broke the mold of 19th and 20th century theology by focusing consistently on God's promises of a new heaven and a new earth The result was a theological imagination that is utterly realistic delighting in the creative tension of theology that lives in an unfinished open field of negations and possibilities Hope for the promised future of God casts its light on present sufferings that contradict that future The prominent themes here focus on the contradictions of God's promises and God's justice The essays see clearly the human domination that leads to the oppression of nature the hatred of the poor the dominance of one gender over the other the migration of those who find no home in their homeland and the wounds of neocolonialism For Moltmann these sufferings do not belong simply to ethics but to the heart of theology The doctrines of creation redemption and new creation are fully engaged in the political economic ecological and social problems of this time Here lies the way ecumenism will be reborn in the future The essays argue that theology should not turn aside from Moltmann's main theme of the resurrection of the Crucified One and of the presence of God's future in the present Hope opens our eyes to the work of God's Spirit of Life and the affirmation of eternal life in the present The future of Christian theology should not miss the theme of joy in the face of sin death and evil and the celebration of God's cosmic all inclusive future in which God will be at home in God's creation
