Good Men And True The Aboriginal Police Of The Port Phillip District 1837 1853:

Good Men and True Marie Hansen Fels, 1988 Historical perceptions of Native Police Corps treachery or cooperation recruitment conditions of employment status relationship with remainder of Aboriginal population History Of The Port Phillip District Shaw A.G.L, 2013-05-31 This major new history is an account of the establishment of European settlement in what is now the State of Victoria The period from the first temporary convict camp of 1803 to the formal separation of Victoria from New South Wales in 1851 encompassed years of struggle adversity and uncertainty These are the years which Professor Shaw examines in his detailed narrative mdash years which saw the future of the territory shaped by diverse figures Aborigines whalers adventurers squatters speculators and immigrants This is the first general history of pre goldrush Victoria in more than ninety years It incorporates the advances in documentation and scholarship that have taken place since that time In particular it draws upon the correspondence between officials in Melbourne Sydney and London and on the Batman Swanston Port Phillip Association and La Trobe papers The story begins with the British government s decision to make a settlement on the shores of Bass Strait and with a study of the Aboriginal inhabitants of Port Phillip as they were at the dawn of the nineteenth century An account of the beginnings of Melbourne marked by the arrival of John Batman and John Pascoe Fawkner leads on to the topics of squatting speculation immigration economic depression and recovery and ends with an examination of the issues which led to the separation of the district from New South Wales The book is illustrated in colour with contemporary paintings many of which will be unfamiliar to most readers Civilisation of Port Phillip Thomas James Rogers, 2018-02-23 Port Phillip s free settlers often said that they were civilising a wilderness The truth was that the occupied country already had people laws politics and economies What did civilisation mean to the free settlers And what was the relationship between civilising and violence The Civilisation of Port Phillip tracks the violent history of the first years of British settlement in the Port Phillip District now the state of Victoria It illuminates the underlying free settler rhetoric that advocated and abetted violence on the frontier For the first time we hear the settlers tell us in their own words what the civilisation of Port Phillip really involved Frontier violence in Port Phillip involved Aboriginal peoples convicts free settlers and colonial officials This history shows how the lives of these different people interconnected in early Port Phillip in unlikely friendships dire misunderstandings and fatal clashes It paints a vivid picture of the period drawn from archival records a thorough re reading of older histories and new ideas in the scholarship of violence As well as sheep and firearms free settlers brought Enlightenment ideas about civilisation to Port Phillip When these European ideas were coupled with Australian frontier experience they manifested in an exterminatory attitude towards people deemed undesirable in the coming colony The Civilisation of Port Phillip shows how free settler rhetoric law and systems of classification reinforced and sought to justify the violence of the frontier One Law for All? Alan Richard Pope, 2011 Using rarely discussed documents Pope reveals how the complexities played out and where despite the rhetoric Aboriginal people were treated poorly Pub desc

Invasion to Embassy Heather Goodall, 2008-07-01 Invasion to Embassy challenges the conventional view of Aboriginal politics to present a bold new account of Aboriginal responses to invasion and dispossession in New South Wales

Food Security in Australia Quentin Farmar-Bowers, Vaughan Higgins, Joanne Millar, 2012-10-28 This book considers the ability and capacity of the food supply system in Australia to provide food security for the ever increasing domestic and international population in the face of growing challenges in production resource supply and failures within the food system itself Although Australia is a net food exporting country domestic food insecurity exists and will increase as food prices rise in the coming decades An overview of the food supply system highlights the main challenges that are determining the future Many of these challenges can be resolved by the Australian government but others are in the hands of global governance to which Australia can only adapt This book sheds light on the challenges and discusses the prospects for developing more sustainable and resilient future food systems in Australia In addition it covers food security and sovereignty issues under the heading of food equity and access food production policy and trade and impacts of land use planning on agriculture The unique features of the book include the following Most literature on food security pertains to developing countries By way of contrast this book explores food security in a developed nation Australia that seemingly should not have food security issues The topics covered in the book are relevant to other developed nations with growing populations and resource management challenges The book chapters are written by specialists to paint a comprehensive picture of the political social economic and environmental issues that give rise to food insecurity and the challenges these issues present to the security of the food system in coming decades The overall organization of the book uses a theoretically informed and multi disciplinary approach This enables a critical and in depth analysis of food security by outlining the key challenges as well as prospects for the development of more sustainable and resilient agri food systems The three principal topics in the book are dealt with by a multi disciplinary team of authors in a way that teases out diverse points of view illustrating the complexity of food security Author disciplines include health and nutrition agriculture ethics social science law and practitioners managing food aid programs The book shows how food security relates to many technical social and moral issues in society and how it is possible to develop successful programs to improve food security

Fantastic Dreaming Jane Lydon, 2009-04-16 Fantastic Dreaming explores how whites have measured Australian Aboriginal people through their material culture and domestic practices aspects of culture intimately linked to Enlightenment notions of progress and social institutions such as marriage and property Archaeological investigation reveals that the Moravian missionaries attempts to civilize the Wergaia speaking people of northwestern Victoria centered on spatial practices housing and the consumption of material goods After the mission closed in 1904 white observers saw the camp settlements that formed nearby as evidence of Aboriginal incapacity and immorality rather than as symptoms of exclusion and poverty Conceptions of transformation as acculturation survived in assimilation policies that envisioned Aboriginal people becoming the same as whites through living in European housing These ideas persist in archaeological analysis that insists on Aboriginality as otherness and difference and equates objects with identity However Wergaia tradition was place based and often invisibly Indigenous people maintained traditional relationships to kin and country resisting white authority through strategies of evasion and mobility This study examines the complex role of material culture and spatial politics in shaping colonial identities and offers a critique of essentialism in archaeological interpretation

A Global History of Gold Rushes Benjamin Mountford, Stephen Tuffnell, 2018-10-16 Nothing set the world in motion like gold Between the discovery of California placer gold in 1848 and the rush to Alaska fifty years later the search for the precious yellow metal accelerated worldwide circulations of people goods capital and technologies A Global History of Gold Rushes brings together historians of the United States Africa Australasia and the Pacific World to tell the rich story of these nineteenth century gold rushes from a global perspective Gold was central to the growth of capitalism it whetted the appetites of empire builders mobilized the integration of global markets and economies profoundly affected the environment and transformed large scale migration patterns Together these essays tell the story of fifty years that changed the world

Israel and Settler Society Lorenzo Veracini, 2006-01-20 The struggle between Israel and the Palestinians is not unique whatever the media may suggest Lorenzo Veracini argues that the conflict is best understood in terms of colonialism as like many other societies Israel is a settler society Looking at the evolution of other colonial regimes apartheid South Africa French Algeria and Australia Veracini presents a thoughtful interpretation of the dynamics of colonialism He challenges two important myths firstly that the Israeli Palestinian dispute is unique and defies comparative approaches and secondly that the struggle is mainly based in nationality and religion and therefore different to typical colonial conflicts Comparing and contrasting official apartheid regimes with the more recent history of Israel and Palestine he offers a critical perspective on colonialism as well as important new insights into patterns of imperialism today

Scars in the Landscape Ian Clark, 1995 Scars in the Landscape is a register of massacres and killings of Aboriginal people during 1803-1859 Deliberately challenging the ideology that the colonisation of Western Victoria was peaceful the register reveals that violence was widespread Through searching contemporary archival material utilising Aboriginal oral history and local histories and by studying place names in the region Ian Clark presents a detailed meticulously researched study of massacres on one Australian region

Black Gold Fred Cahir, 2012-09-01 Fred Cahir tells the story about the magnitude of Aboriginal involvement on the Victorian goldfields in the middle of the nineteenth century The first history of Aboriginal white interaction on the Victorian goldfields Black Gold offers new insights on one of the great epochs in Australian and world history the gold story In vivid detail it describes how Aboriginal people often figured significantly in the search for gold and documents the devastating social impact of gold mining on Victorian Aboriginal communities It reveals the complexity of their involvement from passive presence to active discovery to shunning the goldfields This detailed examination of Aboriginal people on the goldfields of Victoria provides striking evidence which demonstrates that Aboriginal people participated in gold mining and interacted with non Aboriginal people in a range of hitherto neglected ways Running through this book are themes of Aboriginal empowerment identity integration resistance social disruption and communication

Australian Frontier Wars, 1788-1838 John Connor, 2002 From the Swan River to the Hawkesbury and from the sticky Arnhem Land mangrove to the soft green hills of Tasmania this book describes the major conflicts fought on the Australian frontier to 1838 Based on extensive research and using overseas frontier wars to add perspective to the Australian experience The Australian Frontier Wars 1788 1838 will change our view of Australian history forever

Policing the Lucky Country Mike Enders, Benoît Dupont, 2001 Policing The Lucky Country addresses key challenges of contemporary Australian policing and places them within the context of Australia's particular culture and history The book's approach is to combine policing case studies with an analysis of the wider social and political environment Policing students are given information which enables them to think critically about contemporary policing practice and to understand the factors behind pervasive attitudes in the forces and the community In this way it aims to increase each officer's range of responses leading to appropriate policing practices and increased safety for the officer One of the key strengths of the book is the discussion of policing and indigenous persons with articles on policing indigenous peoples and indigenous participation in policing Specific police indigenous clashes are examined and situated within the Aboriginal policies of the day This historical perspective illuminates the discussion of current police force relationships with and responsibilities towards indigenous persons Other issues considered the use of technology the enforcement of drug laws the maintenance of public order the role of police in industrial disputes the social construction of crime are studied in similar fashion and provide a useful source of information and discussion about areas of policing relevant to contemporary police work This book is designed for first year policing students but will also be useful in criminology courses

Sovereign Bodies, Sovereign Spaces Maria John, 2025-03-18 Statistics indicate that Indigenous people worldwide suffer disproportionately poor health outcomes Since the mid twentieth century health activism has become increasingly central to expressions of Indigenous sovereignty and survivance In this innovative comparative study Maria John assesses the histories of urban Indigenous health activism in the United States and Australia and how it has sought to counter the medical mistreatment and neglect that Indigenous people have historically faced in these nations From the crisis of health care access in the 1970s to the strength of Indigenous community responses to COVID 19 John shows how the creation of Indigenous community controlled health clinics has been a vital response to settler colonial structures of neglect in medical care John illustrates that these clinics have also created a new kind of political space where Indigenous people from different tribal nations and geographies can develop and practice new ideas of nonterritorial sovereignty and pan Indigenous solidarities across regions and nations John's arguments expand our understanding of the ways urban places and spaces foster possibilities for Indigenous communities and her focus on health reveals how Indigenous people strategize struggle and work against systems they were never meant to survive

Eye Contact Jane Lydon, 2006-01-25 A historical ethnography of photographs as a colonial tool and as reappropriated by the indigenous population from the 1860s through the 1920s and in the present

South Melbourne Susan Priestley, 2013-04-01 South Melbourne is a state of mind Once you live there you don't want to shift Doris Condon South Melbourne resident from 1942 until her death in 1979 Mayor 1969 to 1970 The first of Melbourne's suburbs to adopt full municipal status South Melbourne has also been at the forefront of many of the forces that have shaped both the local and national landscapes Having seen its Aboriginal inhabitants displaced by European settlers what became of one of Melbourne's first industrial suburbs then underwent a shift from manufacturing to commercial industry after the Second World War before experiencing the recent push for inner city heritage conservation and urban renewal South Melbourne's people have participated in the national dramas of immigration federation booms busts and world war Not surprisingly in a suburb that boasts some of Melbourne's most popular beaches and sporting grounds the residents have contributed significantly to the national passions for beach culture and sport producing cricket heroes football legends and playing host most controversially to motor racing As the home of the National Gallery of Victoria the Victorian Arts Centre and other cultural institutions South Melbourne has a unique place in Australia's cultural life Part of an amalgamated City of Port Phillip since June 1994 the suburb now looks to draw strength from what Jessie Kennelly long time resident and widow of Senator Pat Kennelly calls it good past

Hunters and Collectors Tom Griffiths, 1996-04 Hunters and Collectors is about historical consciousness and environmental sensibilities in European Australia from the mid nineteenth century to the present It is in part a collective biography of amateur antiquarians archaeologists naturalists journalists and historians people who shaped the Australian historical imagination Dr Griffiths illuminates the way these avid collectors and investigators of the Australian land and of its indigenous inhabitants contributed a sense of identity at colony wide and eventually nationwide level He also considers the rise of professional history anthropology and archaeology in the universities which ignored the efforts of the amateurs Griffiths shows how the seemingly trivial activities of these hunters and collectors feed into the political and environmental debates of the 1990s This book is outstanding in its originality interpretative insight and literary flair

The Australian Nation Geoffrey Partington, The Australian Nation is an excellent book It will make a significant impact on the debate about the meaning of Australian Nationalism John Playford

The Enlightenment, Philanthropy and the Idea of Social Progress in Early Australia Ilya Lazarev, 2018-08-06 This book

seeks to highlight the influence of the Enlightenment idea of social progress on the character of the civilising mission in early Australia by tracing its presence in the various civilising attempts undertaken between 1788 and 1850. It also represents an attempt to marry the history of the British Enlightenment and the history of settler-Aboriginal interactions. The chronological structure of the book as well as the breadth of its content will facilitate the reader's understanding of the evolution of civilising attempts and their epistemological underpinnings while throwing additional light on the influence of the Enlightenment on Australian history as a whole.
