Elemental South An Anthology Of Southern Nature Writing:

Elemental South Dorinda G. Dallmeyer, 2004 Includes a gathering of poetry essays and fiction by the region's best nature writers such as Rick Bass and Janisse Ray Some featured writers are originally from the South and others migrated there but all have honed their voices on the region's distinctive landscapes Simultaneous Ruin and Resilience Daniel Spoth, Scott Romine, 2023-04-05 In Ruin and Resilience Daniel Spoth confronts why the environmental stories told about the U S South curve inevitably toward distressing plotlines Examining more than a dozen works of postbellum literature and cinema Spoth's analysis winds from John Muir's walking journey across the war-torn South through the troubling of southern environmentalism's modernity by Faulkner and Hurston past the accounts of its acceleration in Welty and O'Connor and finally into the present uncovering how the tragic econarrative is transformed by contemporary food studies climate fiction and speculative tales inspired by the region Phrased as a reaction to the rising temperatures and swelling sea levels in the South Ruin and Resilience conceptualizes an environmental ecocritical ethos for the southern United States that takes account of its fundamentally vulnerable status and navigates the space between its reactionary politics and its ecological failures Nature and Literary Studies Peter Remien, Scott Slovic, 2022-08-04 Nature and Literary Studies supplies a broad and accessible overview of one of the most important and contested keywords in modern literary studies Drawing together the work of leading scholars of a variety of critical approaches historical periods and cultural traditions the book examines nature's philosophical theological and scientific origins in literature as well as how literary representations of this concept evolved in response to colonialism industrialization and new forms of scientific knowledge Surveying nature's diverse applications in twenty-first century literary studies and critical theory the volume seeks to reconcile nature's ideological baggage with its fundamental role in fostering appreciation of nonhuman being and agency Including chapters on wilderness pastoral gender studies critical race theory and digital literature the book is a key resource for students and professors seeking to understand nature's role in the environmental humanities Ecocriticism and the Future of Southern Studies Zackary Vernon, 2019-08-14 As the planet faces ever-worsening disruptions to global ecosystems carbon and chemical emissions depletions of the ozone layer the loss of biodiversity rising sea levels air toxification and worsening floods and droughts scholars across academia must examine the cultural effects of this increasingly postnatural world That task proves especially vital for southern studies given how often the U S South serves as a site for large-scale damming initiatives like the TVA disasters on the scale of Hurricane Katrina and the Deepwater Horizon spill and the extraction of coal oil and natural gas Ecocriticism and the Future of Southern Studies is the first book-length collection of scholarship that applies interdisciplinary environmental humanities research to cultural analyses of the U S South Sixteen essays examine novels nature writing films television and music that address a broad range of ecological topics related to the region including climate change manmade and natural environments the petroleum industry food cultures waterways natural and human induced disasters waste management and the Anthropocene Edited by Zackary Vernon this volume demonstrates how the greening of southern studies in tandem with the southernization of environmental studies can catalyze alternative ways of understanding the connections between regional and global cultures and landscapes By addressing ecological issues central to life throughout the South Ecocriticism and the Future of Southern Studies considers the confluence between region and environment while also illustrating the growing need to see environmental issues as matters of social justice Tracking Desire Susan Cerulean, 2006-03-01 It took just one sighting of a swallow tailed kite to dispatch Susan Cerulean on a pilgrimage through its fragmented and ever shrinking habitats In Tracking Desire Cerulean immerses us in the natural history and biology of Elanoides forficatus At the same time she sifts through her past as a child student biologist parent and activist to muse on a lifelong absorption with nature P 4 of cover Edna Lewis Sara B. Franklin, 2018-02-14 Edna Lewis 1916 2006 wrote some of America's most resonant lyrical and significant cookbooks including the now classic The Taste of Country Cooking Lewis cooked and wrote as a means to explore her memories of childhood on a farm in Freetown Virginia a community first founded by black families freed from slavery With such observations as we would gather wild honey from the hollow of oak trees to go with the hot biscuits and pick wild strawberries to go with the heavy cream she commemorated the seasonal richness of southern food After living many years in New York City where she became a chef and a political activist she returned to the South and continued to write Her reputation as a trailblazer in the revival of regional cooking and as a progenitor of the farm to table movement continues to grow In this first ever critical appreciation of Lewis's work food world stars gather to reveal their own encounters with Edna Lewis Together they penetrate the mythology around Lewis and illuminate her legacy for a new generation The essayists are Annemarie Ahearn Mashama Bailey Scott Alves Barton Patricia E Clark Nathalie Dupree John T Edge Megan Elias John T Hill who provides iconic photographs of Lewis Vivian Howard Lily Kelting Francis Lam Jane Lear Deborah Madison Kim Severson Ruth Lewis Smith Toni Tipton Martin Michael W Twitty Alice Waters Kevin West Susan Rebecca White Caroline Randall Williams and Joe Yonan Editor Sara B Franklin provides an illuminating introduction to Lewis and the volume closes graciously with afterwords by Lewis's sister Ruth Lewis Smith and niece Nina Williams Mbengue Altamaha, 2012 Formed by the confluence of the Ocmulgee and Oconee Rivers the Altamaha is the largest free flowing river on the East Coast and drains its third largest watershed It has been designated as one of the Nature Conservancy's seventy five Last Great Places because of its unique character and rich natural diversity In evocative photography and elegant prose Altamaha captures the distinctive beauty of this river and offers a portrait of the man who has become its improbable guardian Few people know the Altamaha better than James Holland Raised in Cochran Georgia Holland spent years on the river fishing hunting and working its coastal reaches as a commercial crabber Witnessing a steady decline in blue crab stocks Holland doggedly began to educate himself on the area's environmental and political issues reaching a deep conviction that the only way to preserve the way of life he loved was to protect the river and its watershed In 1999 he began serving as the first Altamaha Riverkeeper finding new purpose in protecting the river and raising awareness about its plight with people in his community and beyond At first Holland used photography to document pollution and abuse but as he came to appreciate and understand the Altamaha in new ways his photographs evolved focusing more on the natural beauty he fought to save More than 230 color photographs capture the area s majestic landscapes and stunning natural diversity including a generous selection of some the 234 species of rare plants and animals in the region In their essays Janisse Ray offers a profile of Holland s transformation from orphan and troubled high school dropout to river advocate and Dorinda G Dallmeyer celebrates the biological richness and cultural heritage that the Altamaha offers to all Georgians

Bartram's Living Legacy Dorinda G. Dallmeyer, 2010 More than two centuries have passed since the publication of William Bartram s Travels in 1791 That his book remains in print would be notable enough but Bartram s work was visionary It fostered the development of a truly American strain of natural history His writings transcended scientific boundaries to deeply influence Coleridge Wordsworth and other Romantic poets And his text continues to ignite the imaginations of Southerners who love nature Bartram s ability to marry science with poetry ensured Travels a worldwide audience for the last 200 years William Bartram was a cultural historian too carefully recording the way in which the Indians used the land along with the changes wrought by European settlers Being on the road with Bartram involves cliffhanger encounters with dreadful weather charismatic predators and even deadlier humans And throughout the book Bartram reveals a deep spiritual connection to nature as a manifestation of divine Creation Bartram s holism lays the foundation for major themes of modern nature writing as well as environmental philosophy In this unique anthology for the first time Travels is joined with essays acknowledging the debt Southern nature writers owe the man called the South s Thoreau We hope this book will introduce a new generation of environmentally minded Southerners to Bartram s timeless work not only standing on its own but also interpreted through passionate personal essays by some of the region s finest nature writers Rather than wallowing in nostalgia for the long gone world Bartram describes this anthology provides us with a starting point for reconstructing and reclaiming the natural heritage of the South
