Electronic Illusions:

Electronic Illusions Ian Reinecke, 1984 Transferred Illusions Marilyn Deegan, Kathryn Sutherland, 2016-02-24 This is a study of the forms and institutions of print newspapers books scholarly editions publishing libraries as they relate to and are changed by emergent digital forms and institutions In the early 1990s hypertext was briefly hailed as a liberating writing tool for non linear creation Fast forward no more than a decade and we are reading old books from screens It is however the newspaper for around two hundred years print s most powerful mass vehicle whose economy persuasively shapes its electronic remediation through huge digitization initiatives dominated by a handful of centralizing service providers funded and wrapped round by online advertising The error is to assume a culture of total replacement The Internet is just another information space sharing characteristics that have always defined such spaces wonderfully effective and unstable loaded with valuable resources and misinformation that is both good and bad This is why it is important that writers critics publishers and librarians in modern parlance the knowledge providers be critically engaged in shaping and regulating cyberspace and not merely the passive instruments or unreflecting users of the digital tools in our hands Ideological Battlegrounds - Constructions of Us and Them Before and After 9/11 Volume 1 Joanna Witkowska, Uwe Zagratzki, 2014-10-16 The effects of 9 11 ramify through a network of conduits and pathways including the examples of expressive culture this volume explores and the registration of those effects will likewise be felt in an array of documents and texts The cultural literary and mass mediated effects of 9 11 encompass the globe and the chapters in this volume assume a transnational and international range of vantage points The topics examined include the representation of Islam and Moslems in a number of texts and genres the political and psychological dilemmas faced by characters in a number of literary works and the refraction of current psycho cultural political tensions in forms of expressive culture in which the effects of 9 11 are felt in other than explicit ways Was 9 11 a moment that punctuated and disrupted the movement of history or as one of the authors suggests did it act as a catalyst to escalate existing stereotypes The chapters investigate not just different genres and cultural forms but distinct modes of intersection between the political the cultural and the psychological One achievement of this volume is to show how 9 11 s effects at times insinuate themselves in discourse through nuance and subtlety and at other times frontally assault texts and images In the words of one article modern Dutch post 9 11 novels directly participate in current cultural and political discourses By the same token these cultural and political discourses participate in novels films TV shows and the effects of 9 11 proliferate and concentrate in this exchange This volume draws timely attention to the multiple forms of this complex interaction Dr Patrick Hagopian University of Lancaster Digital Illusion Clark Dodsworth, 1998 Digital Illusion is the future of entertainment That future as seen in this book is at the intersection of show business and interactivity It is a future where games theme park attractions and networked virtual worlds are built with seamless interactive computer technology and where exciting new kinds of experience and enjoyment are made possible It s a future that has already begun Clark Dodsworth has participated for years in this convergence of the computer and entertainment industries Here he gathers prominent contributors from both worlds to describe the design and implementation of computer based entertainment applications With striking examples they show what has been accomplished and preview what is yet to come
