Lamonde,2013-05-01 In The Social History of Ideas in Quebec 1760 1896 Yvan Lamonde traces the province s political and intellectual development from the British Conquest to the election of Prime Minister Wilfrid Laurier From the individuals who formulated them to the networks in which they circulated to their reception Yvan Lamonde focuses on ideas at work and their role in shaping Quebec history The mapping of a complete intellectual circuit allows Lamonde to follow the strains of ideological debates monarchism liberalism republicanism democracy revolution ultramontanist nationalism over more than a century His work is informed by an encyclopaedic reading of the print culture of the period and the book conveys a profound and nuanced knowledge of the social context and cultural channels educational institutions newspapers the book trade in which intellectual debate occurred Lamonde argues that while these ideas concerned politics they went beyond the political they were a fundamental and everyday element of civic society that was expressed in the public sphere through pamphlets the popular press and sermons Lamonde s scrutiny of public opinion in Quebec allows him to place such currents of thought in the colony s international context that of France England Rome the United States and their respective metropolises The Social History of Ideas in Quebec 1760 1896 covers a volatile time in the province s history from the end of the French Regime through the American invasion the War of 1812 and the Rebellions in Lower Canada capturing the cultural ascension of a society and the foundations of Quebec identity      Settling and Unsettling Memories Nicole express their jubilation on special occasions such as the 1860 visit of the Prince of Wales and the return in 1885 of the local

Volunteers who helped to suppress the Riel resistance in the North West In a contrasting mood people also took to the streets in anger to object to government measures such as the Rebellion Losses bill to heckle rival candidates in provincial election campaigns to assert their ethno religious differences and to support striking workers Expressive Acts examines instances of both celebration and protest when Torontonians publicly displayed their allegiances politics and values The book illustrates not just the Victorian city s vibrant public life but also the intense social tensions and cultural differences within the city Drawing from journalists accounts in newspapers Expressive Acts illuminates what drove Torontonians to claim public space where their passions lay and how they gave expression to them     The Hero and the Historians Alan Gordon,2010-07 This unique exploration of commemoration and memory traces Jacque Cartier s evolving image over five centuries to show how changing notions of the past have shaped identity formation and nationalism in English and French speaking Canada     Patrician Liberal John Little,2013-12-06 Patrician Liberal examines the life and career of a neglected figure in Canadian history Sir Henri Gustave Joly de Lotbini re This book provides a detailed account of Joly s political career as Quebec premier Cabinet minister in the Laurier government and lieutenant governor of British Columbia as well as his public role as a French speaking Protestant promoter of national unity a leading spokesperson for the Canadian forest conservation movement a Quebec seigneur and father to a large and devoted family Joly s life serves as a prism through which author J I Little elucidates important themes in Quebec and Canadian society economy politics and culture during the Victorian and Edwardian eras As Little reveals Joly s story is particularly fascinating for how closely the conflicting forces in his life religious cultural and social mirrored those of a Canadian society straining to forge a cohesive and distinctive national identity     Parallel Paths Garth Stevenson,2006-05-05 Predominantly Catholic societies subjected to British conquest and partial colonization Ireland and Quebec rebelled unsuccessfully and entered the modern era with populations divided by language and religion Ireland failed to achieve home rule within the United Kingdom and chose armed resistance which led to independence for most of the country at the price of partition Quebec achieved home rule as a province within the Canadian federation which led to a century of relative stability followed by the Quiet Revolution and the rise of an independence movement Almost simultaneously with increased pressure for independence in Quebec the Irish question erupted again with an armed struggle between supporters and opponents of partition in the six northern counties     For Canada's Sake Gary Richard Miedema,2005 This study uses the Centennial Celebrations of 1967 and Expo 67 to explore how religion informed Canadian nation building and national identities in the 1960s     Creating Colonial Pasts Cecilia Morgan,2015-01-01 Creating Colonial Pasts explores the creation of history and memory in Southern Ontario through the experience of its inhabitants especially those who took an active role in the preservation and writing of Ontario s colonial past the founder of the Niagara Historical Society Janet Carnochan twentieth century Six Nations historians Elliott Moses and Milton Martin and Celia B File high school teacher and historian of Mary Brant Examining the grand narratives of colonial Ontario the Loyalists the War of 1812 and the creation of settler society Cecilia Morgan argues that place played an important role in shaping memory and narrative in locations such as Niagara on the Lake the Six Nations territory at the Grand River and the Mohawk community at Tyendinaga Illuminating the pivotal role of women and Indigenous people in historical commemoration and uncovering the existence of a lively and interconnected circle of historians and heritage activists in late nineteenth and twentieth century Ontario Creating Colonial Pasts is a virtuoso study of history making

Blake, 2017-01-06 Holidays are a key to helping us understand the transformation of national regional community and ethnic identities In Celebrating Canada Matthew Hayday and Raymond Blake situate Canada in an international context as they examine the history and evolution of our national and provincial holidays and annual celebrations The contributors to this volume examine such holidays as Dominion Day Victoria Day Quebec's Fête Nationale and Canadian Thanksgiving among many others They also examine how Canadians celebrate the national days of other countries like the Fourth of July and how Dominion Day was observed in the United Kingdom Drawing heavily on primary source research and theories of nationalism identities and invented traditions the essays in this collection deepen our understanding of how these holidays have influenced the evolution of Canadian identities Thinkers and Dreamers Gerald Friesen, Doug Owram, 2011-01-01 Thinkers and Dreamers honours Carl C Berger professor of Canadian history at the University of Toronto for more than forty years and author of influential works on Canadian intellectual history In this collection Professor Berger's colleagues and former students explore the currents of intellectual life in North America since the mid nineteenth century Broad in scope the essays range in content from a commentary on works in intellectual history to analyses of the development of particular disciplines and distinctive cultural institutions Several of the contributions provide sharp critiques of historical thought including a discussion of professional scholarship and an analysis of the field of intellectual history Others address issues that combine institutional and cultural history such as an examination of Victorian Canada and a discussion of immigration and citizenship These varied reflections aptly convey Berger's contributions to the study of Canadian history Les idées en mouvement Michel Ducharme, Damien-Claude Bélanger, Sophie Coupal, 2004 Canadas of the Mind, Griffintown Matthew

Barlow, 2017-06-28 This vibrant biography of Griffintown an inner city Montreal neighbourhood brings to life the history of Irish identity in the legendary enclave As Irish immigration dwindled by the late nineteenth century Irish culture in the city became diasporic reflecting an imagined homeland Focusing on the power of memory to shape community Matthew Barlow finds that despite sociopolitical pressures and a declining population the spirit of this ethnic quarter was nurtured by the men and women who grew up there Today as Griffintown attracts renewed interest from developers this textured analysis reveals how public memory defines our urban centres Communicating in Canada's Past Gene Allen, Daniel J. Robinson, 2009-01-01

The first collection of its kind this volume assembles both well established and up and coming scholars to address sizable gaps in the literature on media history in Canada Commemorating Canada Cecilia Morgan, 2016-04-06 Commemorating Canada is a concise narrative overview of the development of history and commemoration in Canada designed for use in courses on public history historical memory heritage preservation and related areas Examining why when where and for whom historical narratives have been important Cecilia Morgan describes the growth of historical pageantry popular history textbooks historical societies museums and monuments through the nineteenth and twentieth centuries Showing how Canadians have clashed over conflicting interpretations of history and how they have come together to create shared histories she demonstrates the importance of history in shaping Canadian identity Though public history in both French and English Canada was written predominantly by white middle class men Morgan also discusses the activism and agency of women immigrants and Indigenous peoples The book concludes with a brief examination of present day debates over Canada's history and Canadians continuing interest in their pasts Time Travel Alan Gordon, 2016-04-15 In the 1960s Canadians could step through time to eighteenth century trading posts or nineteenth century pioneer towns These living history museums promised authentic reconstructions of the past but as Time Travel shows they revealed more about mid twentieth century interests and perceptions of history than they reflected historical fact An appetite for commercial tourism led to the rise of living history museums They became important components of economic growth especially as part of government policy to promote regional economic diversity and employment Alan Gordon explores how these museums were shaped by post war pressures personality conflicts funding challenges and the need to balance education and entertainment Ultimately the rise of the living history museum is linked to the struggle to establish a pan Canadian identity in the context of multiculturalism competing anglophone and francophone nationalisms First Nations resistance and the growth of the state

Fashioning the Canadian Landscape John Irvine Little, 2018-04-13 Interpretations of Canada's emerging identity have been largely based on a relatively small corpus of literary writing and landscape paintings overlooking the influence of the British and American travel writers who published hundreds of books and articles that did much to fix the image of Canada in the popular imagination In Fashioning the Canadian Landscape J I Little examines how Canada much like the United States came to be identified with its natural landscape Little argues that in contrast to the American identification with the wilderness sublime however Canada's image was strongly influenced by the picturesque convention favoured by British travel writers This amply illustrated volume includes chapters ranging from Labrador to British Columbia some of which focus on such notable British authors as Rupert Brooke and Rudyard Kipling and others on talented American writers such as Charles Dudley Warner Based not only on the views of the landscape but on the racist descriptions of the Indigenous peoples and the romanticization of the Canadian folk Little argues that the national image that emerged was colonialist as well as colonial in nature
