House,1868 Cloaks and Maidens; Gods and Train Christopher Dutton, A collection of short stories and excerpts from novels A few quotes from the book are as follows We make fiction for the same reason we make gods To awaken aspirations Or deviations Even a billion dollars is only so many pennies yes the bulk of it will make most men bow over but not all it is coinage yes but it rarely makes change Guilt is the strongest prison he who is a fugitive from himself is never free Childhood ends when we stop believing in monsters and start making them You Tell Your Dog First Alison Pace,2012-11-06 You Tell Your Dog First About the date you just had about the questionable results of a medical test about the good and the bad about everything For years award winning author Alison Pace was a dog person without a dog And then she got Carlie a feisty and fluffy West Highland white terrier She could weed out bad boyfriends with a sniff of her button black nose and win the hearts of lifelong friends with an adoring gaze Suddenly Alison had a constant companion and confidante who went with her on long morning rambles in Central Park on trips to the country and the beach and on her search for inner peace love and happiness Through Carlie Alison found herself connected to the world as never before With her trademark warmth wit and humor Alison shares her stories the tales of a dog person who found her dog Laws of the State of New York New York (State),1889 Nebraska Keith Reddin,2001 THE STORY It s the end of the Cold War but for the men and women stationed at an air force base outside of Omaha the tensions of existence seem to increase each day Dean Swift has been transferred to missile silo duty Seventy feet underground The Lesbian Lyre Jeffrey M. Duban,2016-08-23 Hailed by Plato as the Tenth Muse of ancient Greek poetry Sappho is inarguably antiquity s greatest lyric poet Born over 2 600 years ago on the Greek island of Lesbos and writing amorously of women and men alike she is the namesake lesbian What s left of her writing and what we know of her is fragmentary Shrouded in mystery she is nonetheless repeatedly translated and discussed no appropriated by all Sappho has most recently undergone a variety of treatments by agenda driven scholars and so called poet translators with little or no knowledge of Greek Classicist translator Jeffrey Duban debunks the postmodernist scholarship by which Sappho is interpreted today and offers translations reflecting the charm and elegant simplicity of the originals Duban provides a reader friendly overview of Sappho s times and themes exploring her eroticism and Greek homosexuality overall He introduces us to Sappho s highly cultured island home to its lyre accompanied musical legends and to the fabled beauty of Lesbian women Not least he emphasizes the proximity of Lesbos to Troy making the translation and enjoyment of Homer s Iliad and Odyssey a further focus More than anything else argues Duban it is free verse and its rampant legacy and no two persons more than Walt Whitman and Ezra Pound that bear responsibility for the ruin of today s classics in translation to say nothing of poetry in the twentieth century Beyond matters of reflection for classicists Duban provides a far ranging beginner s guide to classical literature with forays into Spenser and Milton and into the colonial impulse of Virgil Spenser and the West at large Journal of the Senate of the State of California ,1913
