Wang, 2018-06-15 This text explores urban public life through the microcosm of the Chengdu teahouse Like most public spaces the teahouse was and still is an enduring symbol of Chinese popular culture stemming back centuries and prevailing through political transformations modernization and globalization The time period covered begins basically with the establishment of the People's Republic in 1949 50 goes through the end of the Cultural Revolution and into the post Mao reform era Beyond Chinatown Mette Thunø, 2007 Annotation The rough camps and shantytowns built by nineteenth and early twentieth century Chinese immigrants to the West eventually became settled Chinatowns across the globe Because it opens a new approach to the study of recent Chinese migration this volume will be of vital interest in the fields of both general and Chinese migration studies But bringing to life as it does the momentous changes now sweeping the Chinese world in all parts of the globe it will also attract a far wider readership The Homeric Simile in Comparative

Perspectives Jonathan L. Ready, 2018 Presenting a new take on what made the Homeric epics such successful examples of verbal artistry this volume explores the construction of the Homeric simile and the performance of Homeric poetry from the neglected comparative perspectives offered by the study of modern day oral traditions China Imagined Gregory

Lee, 2018-12-15 If China as Lee argues is a product of Westernization then the West is itself in the process of becoming China

Kinship and Food in South East Asia Monica Janowski, Fiona Kerlogue, 2007 There has been a growing acceptance that food has an important role in establishing and structuring social and kin relations in South East Asian societies This study looks at a wide variety of groups in the region and demonstrates that within all of them the feeding relationship is fundamental to the establishment and the nature of relations within generations and between generations Presenting material from ten societies in the region the papers included in this volume argue that the feeding of foods drink and meals based on the focal starch crop grown by these agricultural groups rice in eight of the groups covered here sago in one and cassava in one is used to manipulate biological kinship and to construct a kinship particular to humans which is nevertheless founded in a natural process the flow of life blessings and potency between generations Asian Folklore Studies, 2005

Exploring Ethnic Diversity in Burma Mikael Gravers, 2007 While the image of modern Myanmar Burma tends to be couched in human rights terms and especially of a heroic Aung San Suu Kyi opposing an oppressive military regime in reality there are several conflicts with ethnic and religious dimensions as well as political and ideological differences between the opposition and the ruling military regime This is not surprising in a country where 30% of the population and much of the land area are non Burman and where contradictory tendencies towards regional separatism versus unitary rule have divided the people since before independence In what is probably the most comprehensive study of Burma s ethnic minorities to date this volume discusses the historical formation of ethnic identity and its complexities in relation to British colonial rule as well as to the modern state the present situation of military rule and its policy of Myanmarification Changes of identity in exile and due to religious conversion are also analysed and discussed Finally the book deals with relevant and recent anthropological and sociological theoretical discussions on the ethnic identity boundaries and space of all the main ethnic groups in Burma It probes into the complexity and diversity of ethnicity in Burma and it provides more details and up to date information than previously collected in one volume

Politics, Culture and Self Geir Helgesen, Søren Risbjerg Thomsen, 2006 Globalization may be undermining Kipling s assertion that East is East and West is West but arguably this is more in the realms of technological advances and consumer behaviour than say in political culture In the latter arena much is still made of the contrasts between Eastern culture characterized by collectivism and belief in authority and Western culture characterized by individualism and belief in democracy Such comfortable assumptions will be shattered for readers of Politics Culture and Self This volume indeed confirms that differences between East Asia and northern Europe do exist Provocatively however it also points to major similarities e g regarding social harmony and the role of the family in society as well as significant contrasts mirrored within the two regions e g concerning interpersonal and institutional trust These results are of especial interest because of the care taken to reduce cultural contamination The data is derived from extensive and in depth surveys conducted by a crosscultural research team in East Asia and northern Europe Here methodological techniques were used to control for non cultural differences as well as cultural variation in how people respond to questionnaires This survey data is augmented by a wealth of historical and analytical contexts that will make the book an essential item in the library of anyone concerned with issues relating to political behaviour at all levels

Mongols from Country to City Ole Bruun, Li Narangoa, 2006 This volume examines the process of cultural change in Mongol societies since the early 20th century by considering the interaction of the basic structural features of pastoral nomadism in Mongolia with larger economies both communist and capitalist the effect of deliberate cultural reconstruction ranging from changes to the education system to purges and outright cultural destruction on the conduct of the pastoral economy and the efforts of Mongols themselves to develop aspects of their own cultural identity under conditions of territorial partition episodes of intense political repression and in the Russian and Chinese regions very substantial immigration by non Mongol groups In particular this volume will examine those modernization processes entailed in urbanization secularization industrialization democratization and national identity formation A central question is to what extent these take a different shape in a pastoral society as compared to an ordinary sedentary agricultural society
