Four Portraits, 1947 Four Portraits Peter Quennell, 1947 Four Portraits Studies of the 18th Century, by Peter Quennell Peter Quennell, 1945 Four Portraits Peter Quennell, 1945 Four Portraits. Studies of the Eighteenth Century. (James Boswell.-Edward Gibbon.-Laurence Sterne.-John Wilkes.) [With Plates, Including Portraits.] Peter Quennell, Edward Gibbon, 1945 Four Portraits Peter Quennell, 1945 Labyrinth of Digressions René Bosch, 2007-01-01 With their appearance during the 1760s the five instalments of Laurence Sterne's The Life and Opinions of Tristram Shandy Gentleman caused something like a booksellers hype Small publishers and anonymous imitators seized on Sterne's success by bringing out great numbers of spurious new volumes critical or ironic pamphlets and works that in style and title express a congeniality with Tristram Shandy This study explores these eighteenth century imitations as indicators of contemporary assumptions about Sterne's intentions Comparisons between the original the first reactions and a number of late eighteenth century imitations show that Tristram Shandy was initially read against the background of Augustan and Grub street satire The earliest imitators harked back to traditions of banter and folklore bawdy and grotesque humour pathetic stories and orthodox religiosity reaffirming a pattern of moral and aesthetic values that was conservative for its time Philosophical Sentimentalism appears to have been a late development It is also argued that partly because of their bad reputation some of the authors of forgeries and parodies had a greater influence on the original than the reviewers to whom Sterne is often said to have listened The imitators followed leads and themes in the first instalments developing them according to their own conception of Sterne's project and the reasons for his success As a consequence they unintentionally put a pressure on Sterne to alter his course and even to abandon some of the narrative lines and themes he had set out for himself The literature section contains a chronological checklist of English eighteenth century Sterneana Sterne's 'Journal to Eliza' Eva C. van Leewen, 1981 The National Union Catalog, Pre-1956 Imprints Library of Congress, American Library Association.
