Banich, Rebecca J. Compton, 2018-04-05 Updated thoroughly this comprehensive text highlights the most important issues in cognitive neuroscience supported by clinical applications Emerging Voices Barry L. Saylor, 2020-11-30 Recent research has demonstrated a loss of verbalization or grasp of the Christian language in the emerging generations of Western Christianity As contemporary culture rejects Christian identity more and more subsequent generations are losing the ability to proclaim their faith well This is particularly troubling for those on the theological campus seeking to train and disciple today's emerging adults as the next generation of ministers Emerging Voices attempts to identify factors behind this phenomenon and to map out a better way forward particularly for the theological campus As contemporary issues such as the elimination of faith from public discourse and the ubiquitous influence of technology shape students in the years before college what can be done to reclaim the Christian language for students tasked with preaching the gospel This project combines a deep dive into some of the leading research regarding religion and spirituality in youth and emerging adulthood alongside of a focused study group In uniting these approaches Emerging Voices attempts to give expression to those who most need to be heard in the coming decades of the Christian church in Western culture      The Wandering Mind John A. Biever, Maryann Karinch, 2012-08-09 Have you ever had a daydream If so you've had a dissociative experience The same is true if you've had an out of body moment or thought you were somewhere else as you drifted off to sleep These are seemingly harmless and temporary dissociations But further down the spectrum of such experiences you find people actually traveling to a strange city and suddenly not remembering how they got there You also find people with multiple personalities and other disordered thinking In The Wandering Mind Dr John Biever and co author Maryann Karinch use the stories of people all along the spectrum of dissociative conditions from those who are perfectly normal to those diagnosed with Dissociative Identity Disorder to expose the natures and functions of dissociation Their lives and stories serve as a way of exploring chronic dissociation and the trek back to good mental health The authors look closely at what signs and symptoms indicate normal everyday dissociation and those that indicate a more serious problem While daydreamers may not meet the criteria for diagnosis trauma victims who relive their nightmares in real time may require both diagnosis and treatment The authors also delve into the phenomenon of deliberate dissociation such as Buddhist monks in meditation And they take a close look at the process of diagnosing a dissociative disorder as well as factors that put patients on the road to reintegration and recovery      Psychological Assessment in South Africa Sumaya Laher, Kate Cockcroft, 2013-01-01 This book provides an overview of the research related to psychological assessment across South Africa The thirty six chapters provide a combination of psychometric theory and practical assessment applications in order to combine the currently disparate research that has been conducted locally in this field Existing South African texts on psychological assessment are predominantly academic textbooks that explain psychometric theory and provide brief descriptions of a few testing instruments Psychological Assessment in South Africa provides in depth coverage of a range of areas within the broad field of psychological assessment including research conducted with various psychological instruments The chapters critically interrogate the current Eurocentric and Western cultural hegemonic practices that dominate the field of psychological assessment The book therefore has the potential to function both as an academic text for graduate students as well as a specialist resource for professionals including psychologists psychometrists remedial teachers and human resource practitioners      A Woman Looking at Men Looking at Women Siri Hustvedt, 2016-12-06 A compelling radical richly explored The New York Times Book Review and insightful Vanity Fair collection of essays on art feminism neuroscience psychology and philosophy from prize winning novelist Siri Hustvedt the acclaimed author of The Blazing World and What I Loved In a trilogy of works brought together in a single volume Siri Hustvedt demonstrates the striking range and depth of her knowledge in both the humanities and the sciences Armed with passionate curiosity a sense of humor and insights from many disciplines she repeatedly upends received ideas and cultural truisms A Woman Looking at Men Looking at Women which provided the title of this book examines particular artworks but also human perception itself including the biases that influence how we judge art literature and the world Picasso de Kooning Louise Bourgeois Anselm Kiefer Susan Sontag Robert Mapplethorpe and Karl Ove Knausgaard all come under Hustvedt's intense scrutiny The Delusions of Certainty exposes how the age old unresolved mind body problem has shaped and often distorted and confused contemporary thought in neuroscience psychiatry genetics artificial intelligence and evolutionary psychology What Are We Lectures on the Human Condition includes a powerful reading of Kierkegaard a trenchant analysis of suicide and penetrating reflections on the mysteries of hysteria synesthesia memory and space and the philosophical dilemmas of fiction A Woman Looking at Men Looking at Women is an erudite Booklist wide ranging irreverent and absorbing meditation on thinking knowing and being Kirkus Reviews starred review     Fractured Minds Jenni A. Ogden, 2005-02-17 Fractured Minds is an engaging text that introduces the student health professional and lay reader to clinical neuropsychology Two introductory chapters precede 17 chapters that each focus on a specific disorder Topics range from common disorders such as traumatic brain injury and dementia to rare disorders such as autotopagnosia and each chapter includes a theory section and a detailed case study The second edition adds new chapters on multiple sclerosis Parkinson's disease and Huntington's disease and chapters retained from the first edition have been revised to reflect current research and clinical advances     Injured Brains of Medical Minds II Narinder Kapur, Vaughan Bell, Daniel Friedland, Steven Kemp, 2024-10-17 There are three aims of Injured Brains of Medical Minds II Firstly to provide perceptive accounts of symptoms and the natural history of brain disorders by people specially trained in the art of observing and reporting thus yielding unique insights into the lived experience of what it is like to be a patient and to be disabled Secondly to offer insights into how the brain works since the articles are written by patients who are uniquely privileged in view of their understanding of the brain Thirdly to highlight ways in which the conditions described in the book can be best managed and treated by healthcare professions and carers Each chapter includes a set of articles by doctors and other healthcare professionals who have suffered a brain injury illness or brain injury recounting their experience accompanied by a commentary for each article The commentaries critically examine the piece relating it to current issues in neuropsychology neurology and cognitive neuroscience Accounts from over 40 individuals cover a wide range of conditions including stroke traumatic brain injury Alzheimer's Disease and other forms of dementia brain tumour infectious and inflammatory conditions multiple sclerosis and epilepsy Summaries are also included of recent books written by doctors scientists who suffered a brain disorder This second volume includes totally new articles and commentaries providing a valuable insight into what it is like to suffer from a brain disorder as well as advice both to patients and practitioners as to what can best be done to improve everyday limitations resulting from a brain disorder The first volume was published by Oxford University Press in 1997     The Handbook of Memory Disorders Alan D. Baddeley, Michael

D. Kopelman, Barbara A. Wilson, 2003-04-11 The eagerly awaited 2nd edition of this classic handbook is a critical thorough account of memory disorders relating to neurological processes and to developmental and acquired brain damage and presents comprehensive sections on theory assessment treatment and management of memory disorders Written by a truly international team of experts this completely updated edition offers an authoritative review of the key areas of research and development in this field Completely updated and expanded New sections and chapters reflect many of the biggest growth areas in the field in recent years such as confabulation false memory and the frontal lobes Written by an international team of experts      Psychiatry Morning Report: Beyond the Pearls E-Book Tammy Duong, Rebecca L.
