Fragments Of Development Nation Gender And The Space Of Modernity:

Fragments of Development Suzanne Bergeron, 2004 Connecting post colonial and feminist scholarship to economic theory this book explains how modern economics has helped to constitute an expert discourse of development that marginalizes alternative perspectives and practices It assesses theories of modernization structural adjustment and globalization

Feminist Economics and the World Bank Edith Kuiper, Drucilla Barker, 2006-05-02 In this book an international team of contributors including Diane Elson Suzanne Bergeron and Cheryl Doss provide an assessment of the World Bank

International Women's Year Jocelyn Olcott, 2017 A rich narrative of the 1975 International Women's Year Conference in Mexico City where the idiom sisterhood is powerful was fractured by global feminism

Embodied Power Mary Hawkesworth, 2016-04-28 Embodied Power explores dimensions of politics seldom addressed in political science illuminating state practices that produce hierarchically organized groups through racialized gendering despite guarantees of formal equality Challenging disembodied accounts of citizenship the book traces how modern science and law produce race gender and sexuality as purportedly natural characteristics masking their political genesis Taking the United States as a case study Hawkesworth demonstrates how diverse laws and policies concerning civil and political rights education housing and welfare immigration and securitization policing and criminal justice create finely honed hierarchies of difference that structure the life prospects of men and women of particular races and ethnicities within and across borders In addition to documenting the continuing operation of embodied power across diverse policy terrains the book investigates complex ways of seeing that render raced gendered relations of domination and subordination invisible From common assumptions about individualism and colorblind perception to disciplinary norms such as methodological individualism methodological nationalism and abstract universalism problematic presuppositions sustain mistaken notions concerning formal equality and legal neutrality that allow state practices of racialized gendering to escape detection with profound consequences for the life prospects of privileged and marginalized groups Through sustained critique of these flawed suppositions Embodied Power challenges central beliefs about the nature of power the scope of state action and the practice of liberal democracy and identifies alternative theoretical frameworks that make racialized gendering visible and actionable

Key Features Demonstrates how understandings of politics change when the experiences of men and women of diverse classes races and ethnicities are placed at the center of analysis Explains why race neutral and gender neutral policies fail to eliminate entrenched inequalities Shows how accredited methods in political science and the social sciences more generally mask state practices that create and sustain racial and gender inequality Traces how mistaken notions of biological determinism have diverted attention from political processes of racialization gendering and sexualization Argues that the intersecting categories of race class gender and sexuality are essential to all subfields of political science if contemporary power is to be studied systematically

context in Brazil to reexamine traditional questions and notions pertaining to the nature of Latin America's political culture and institutions. It was in this period that the region lived some of its most intense and successful experiences of fast economic growth which was paradoxically marred by heightened ideological divisions, political disruptions and the emergence of widespread authoritarian rule. Combining original sources of political, diplomatic, intellectual, cultural and labor histories, Ioris provides a comprehensive history of the fruitful debates concerning national development in postwar Brazil, a time when the so-called country of the future faced one of its best moments for consolidating political democracy and economic prosperity. He argues that traditional views on political instability have been excessively grounded on an institutional focus which should be replaced by in-depth analysis of events on the ground. In so doing, he reveals that as national development meant very different things to multiple different social segments of the Brazilian society, no unified support could have been provided to the democratically elected political regime when things rapidly became socially and politically divisive early in the 1960s. Innovating in its multidimensional analytical scope and interdisciplinary focus, Transforming Brazil provides a rich political, cultural and intellectual examination of a historical period characterized by rapid socio-economic changes amidst significant political instability and the heightened ideological polarization shaping the political scenario of Brazil and much of Latin America in the Cold War era. The Argumentative Turn Revisited Frank Fischer, Herbert Gottweis, 2012-06-04 Sheds new light on the ways that policy is communicatively created, conveyed, understood and implemented. Political Worlds of Women, Student Economy Edition Mary Hawkesworth, 2018-04-19 This book examines female engagement in both traditional and unconventional political arenas including female sociability salons, child rearing and education, health, consumption, religious reform and nationalism. EU Strategies on Governance Reform Wil Hout, 2013-09-13 This book discusses the European Union's approach to governance reform in its development assistance relationships with various groups of developing countries. A group of expert authors outline the general features of the position on governance taken by the EU, which is currently the major multilateral donor of development assistance, and discuss the implementation of EU policies in a set of cases: the group of African, Caribbean and Pacific (ACP) states, the New Partnership for Africa's Development (NEPAD), Southeastern Europe, Central Asia, the Euro-Mediterranean, Latin America and fragile states. The contributions to the book argue that the EU's position on governance reform, particularly since the adoption of the European Consensus on Development in 2005, has had distinctly neoliberal overtones. The EU's governance-related strategies have been instrumental to deepening market-based reform in aid-receiving countries. Policies on state building adopted by the EU reflect mainly the interests of and ideas embraced by the EU and its member states. To an important extent, the rhetoric accompanying EU policies does not match with the political and social dynamics inherent in governance structures on the ground in many of its aid recipient partner countries. This book was published as a special issue of Third World Quarterly. Women as Agents of Democratisation Faith Kihiu, 2010 Following a gendered approach, this study presents a descriptive analysis of the role women's organisations have played in the democratisation process in Kenya since the pre colonial era Supported by this historical analysis an indepth study of five political women organisations in Kenya is presented in which organisations structure programs and strategic approach to political participation presented by the new available spaces after the introduction of a multiparty state in 1992 are illustrated

Postcolonial Economies Jane Pollard, Doctor Cheryl McEwan, Doctor Alex Hughes, 2011-05-12 Postcolonial approaches to understanding economies are of increasing academic and political significance as questions about the nature of globalisation transnational flows of capital and workers and the making and re making of territorial borders assume centre stage in debates about contemporary economies and policy Despite the growing academic and political urgency in understanding how other cultures encounter the west economics oriented approaches within social sciences have been slow to engage with the ideas and challenges posed by postcolonial critiques In turn postcolonial approaches have been criticised for their simplistic treatment of the economic and for not engaging with existing economic analyses of poverty and wealth creation Utilising examples drawn from India to Latin America and bringing together scholars from a range of disciplines including Geography Economics Development Studies History and Women's Studies Postcolonial Economies breaks new ground in providing a space for nascent debates about postcolonialism and its treatment of the economic

What's Wrong with the United Nations and How to Fix it Thomas G. Weiss, 2013-05-20 Six decades after its establishment the United Nations and its system of related agencies and programs are perpetually in crisis While the twentieth century's world wars gave rise to ground breaking efforts at international organization in 1919 and 1945 today's UN is ill equipped to deal with contemporary challenges to world order Neither the end of the Cold War nor the aftermath of 9 11 has led to the next generation of multilateral institutions But what exactly is wrong with the UN and how can we fix it Is it possible to retrofit the world body In his succinct and hard hitting analysis Thomas G Weiss takes a diagnose and cure approach to the world organization's inherent difficulties In the first half of the book he considers the problems of international leadership and decision making in a world of self interested states the diplomatic difficulties caused by the artificial divisions between the industrialized North and the global South the structural problems of managing the UN's many overlapping jurisdictions agencies and bodies and the challenges of bureaucracy and leadership The second half shows how to mitigate these maladies and points the way to a world in which the UN's institutional ills might be cured His remedies are not based on pious hopes of a miracle cure for the UN but rather on specific and encouraging examples that could be replicated With considered optimism and in contrast to received wisdom Weiss contends that substantial change in intergovernmental institutions is plausible and possible The new and expanded second edition of this well regarded and indispensable book will continue to spark debate amongst students scholars and policymakers concerned with international politics as well as anyone genuinely interested in the future of the United Nations and multilateral cooperation dimensional and interdisciplinary standpoint this book challenges the teleological and unidirectional notions of development embodied in the idea of modernisation or progress and offers a critique of the tendency to consider Africa as a basket case which often gives the Western self an undeserving privilege and superiority over the African other. Mostly authored by emerging African scholars, this 16 chapter volume addresses the historical application of development projects in Africa and their modern impact in economic, political, cultural, social and infrastructural contexts among others. The book therefore unearths development dynamics in specific African countries, examines the continent's external relations, rethinks predominant ideas on development and engages in critical examination of concepts and practices that have maintained hegemonic positions in the discussions on Africa's development. Its uniqueness lies in the ability to bring these several voices and themes together into a concise conception of both the challenges and possibilities of Africa's sustainable development. The book targets both the academic and policy worlds in Africa and around the world as well as ordinary members of the public who seek to broaden their theoretical and empirical understanding on the changing dynamics on the African continent.

Reshaping the Holy Elora Shehabuddin, 2008 Through extensive field research, Elora Shehabuddin explores the profound implications of women's political and social mobilization for reshaping Islam. Specifically, she examines the lives of Muslim women in Bangladesh who have become increasingly mobilized by the activities of predominantly secular NGOs, yet who desire to retain, reclaim and reshape rather than reject their faith. In their employment and in their interactions with the legal system, the state, NGOs and political and religious groups, women are changing state practices, views of women in the public sphere and the nature of lived Islam itself. In contrast to most work on Islam and Muslims which has focused on the Middle East and has privileged the study of religious and legal texts, this book redirects our attention to South Asia, home to one of the largest Muslim populations in the world, and emphasizes the actual experiences of Muslim women and gender as well as Bangladesh's formally democratic context as central to this inquiry and analysis.

Strategic Culture(s) in Latin America Félix E. Martín, Nicolás Terradas, Diego Zambrano, 2023-11-17 Strategic Culture's in Latin America elucidates why many state actors in the Global South exhibit a remarkable degree of policy continuity in their external behavior despite structural incentives for change. This book contends that the theoretical notion of strategic culture is instructive to explain such a puzzle. It extends the application of strategic culture beyond the policy of nuclear deterrence among great powers into other equally strategic areas of policy such as diplomacy, political economy, regional international institutions, legal norms, politico-military institutions and different security agendas beyond war and peace, for example, the illicit drug trade and peacekeeping missions. The overall contribution of this book is three-fold: first, it rescues, updates and expands the original conceptual and theoretical dimensions of strategic culture. Second, it extrapolates further theoretical implications of the concept through its application to five policy domains in Latin America beyond the original application of the strategic culture perspective to nuclear weapons strategy among great powers in the 1970s. Third, it draws together the theoretical and policy implications of the strategic cultures in Latin America and identifies possible applications for other peripheral non great power policy areas and issues in the Global South This book will be of interest to academics graduate and undergraduate students policy analysts and practitioners of Latin American Studies International Relations Theory and Security Studies Decolonizing Economics Devika Dutt, Carolina Alves, Surbhi Kesar, Ingrid Harvold Kvangraven, 2025-07-21 Decolonization has long been debated across the social sciences but the economics discipline has so far avoided such critical engagement This book provides a much needed intervention Dutt Alves Kesar and Kvangraven uncover the deeply Eurocentric foundations that shape how economists study the world today These have rendered the discipline ill equipped to tackle critical questions such as structural racism uneven development the climate crisis labour relations and how structural power shapes economic outcomes Decolonizing economics entails challenging the norms of neutrality and objectivity that economists claim to speak from while fostering alternative ways of understanding the economy that take seriously structural power relations and contemporary processes of economic development Readers will come to understand the political stakes of decolonization and the wide range of scholarship that already exists that can help us grasp economics from non Eurocentric perspectives Through such scholarship we can gain an enriched understanding of capitalism and its relationship to exploitation colonialism and racialization The author order is randomized All authors contributed equally to the book Childhoods Gaile Sloan Cannella, Lourdes Diaz Soto, 2010 For the past 20 years a range of scholars educators and cultural workers have examined dominant discourses of childhood using critical feminist and other postmodern perspectives Located in a variety of disciplines these poststructural deconstructive and even postcolonial critiques have challenged everything from notions of the universal child to adult child dualisms to deterministic developmental theory The purpose of this volume is to acknowledge the profound contributions of that large body of literature while demonstrating the ways that critical analyses can be used to generate avenues actions that increase possibilities for social justice for those who are younger while at the same time avoiding determinism In this time of globalization hyper capitalism and discourses that would control and disqualify through constructions like accountability we believe that projects such as this are of utmost importance The volume is divided into four major sections to reflect the multiplicity of human voices and perspectives section I contemporary circumstances and dominant discourses within which we all attempt to function sections II and III and the generation of new possibilities for constructing relationships together section IV Finally a voice from the heart within a reconceptualist social science agenda for early childhood studies is presented Writing Neoliberal Values Rachel C. Riedner, 2015-10-05 This book examines human interest stories unpacking from them violence inherent to neoliberalism and considers if it is possible to find in these stories hints of people and labour that suggest other narratives IISS 2019 George Towar Ikbāl Tawakkal , Wike , Nuddin Harahab , Alifiulahtin Utaminingsih, Amin Setyo Leksono (, 2020-03-09 The International Interdisciplinary Studies Seminar IISS is an annual scientific conference that provides a unique platform for scientists researchers and professionals across multiple disciplines to share their research advancements and critical ideas to address the social sciences issues Social capacity for environmental protection community driven environmental management The conference was initiated 12 years ago by recognising that social problems require an interdisciplinary approach to reach a holistic solution Every year the conference has been attended by hundreds of participants from various disciplines of science The 13th IISS conference held on October 30th 31st 2019 at Malang East Java Indonesia Women and Peace in the Islamic World Yasmin Saikia, Chad Haines, 2015-01-20 How realistic is the prospect of peace in the Muslim world This question is the predominant focus for global analysis today but its debate frequently ignores the cultural and social complexity of the Muslim world reducing it into a system of states and select actors This book addresses such a failing by exploring how the everyday interactions of women in accordance with Islamic personal ethics can offer the world a new interpretation of peace In particular it focuses on the women in Islamic societies from Aceh to Bosnia Morocco to Bangladesh initiating a dialogue on the role of these women in peacemaking This concentration upon the complex issues of the everyday both enables a detailed exploration of how people conceptualise peace and opens up new frameworks for conflict resolution The discussions that emerge lead to a critical questioning of assumptions about peace as a state policy and cessation of violence Drawing upon original research from different parts of the Middle East North Africa and Asia including Iran India Afghanistan Bangladesh Bosnia Egypt and Sudan the contributors offer a refreshing new look at Muslim women as peacemakers challenging any assumptions of Islam as an inherently violent religion Such a timely work provides new and important analyses on the role of Muslim women in forging new pathways of peace in the contemporary world The United Nations and Changing World Politics Thomas G. Weiss, 2019-10-22 This completely revised and updated eighth edition serves as the definitive text for courses in which the United Nations is either the focus or a central component Built around three critical themes in international relations peace and security human rights and humanitarian affairs and sustainable human development the eighth edition of The United Nations and Changing World Politics guides students through the seven turbulent decades of UN politics This new edition is fully revised to incorporate recent developments on the international stage including new peace operations in Mali and the Central African Republic ongoing UN efforts to manage the crises in Libya Syria and Iraq the Iran Nuclear Deal and the new Sustainable Development Goals The authors discuss how international law frames the controversies at the UN and guides how the UN responds to violence and insecurity gross violations of human rights poverty underdevelopment and environmental degradation Students of all levels will learn that the UN is a complex organization comprised of three interactive entities that cooperate and also compete with each other to define and advance the UN s principles and purposes
