Frameworks Patterns For Living And Believing Today:

Healthcare and Spirituality Stephen P Kliever, John Saultz, 2017-11-22 Here is a selection of multiple choice questions and case studies designed for candidates for the Diploma of the Royal College of Obstetricians and Gynaecologists DRCOG. The 90 multiple choice questions cover all major areas of the syllabus and are accompanied by extended answers to help the revision process. The case studies are ideal preparation for the other sections of the examination as well as for general revision. This book will be suitable not only for the DRCOG and other examinations such as the MRCOG but also for anyone wanting to update and test their understanding of obstetrics and gynaecology. One Church, Four Generations Gary L. McIntosh, 2002-04-01 The challenge facing today's church is simultaneous and effective ministry to people of four widely divergent generations. More than at any time in history, pastors must plan programs that will appeal to a mosaic of groups and subgroups. This updated edition of Three Generations Riding the Waves of Change in Your Church adds an entirely new section on Bridgers, the youngest generation and perhaps the most difficult one to reach for Christ. Characteristics, interests, and values of each group, Builders, Boomers, Busters, and Bridgers, are explored in relation to the historical events and social trends that have shaped them. McIntosh thoughtfully analyzes the factors that influence each generation's relationship to the church, and he gives helpful suggestions for types of ministry and worship styles to draw members of that group. Helpful tables offer summaries of information relating to each generation, including formative experiences, religious characteristics, and methods of ministry. Pastors, church leaders, seminary professors, and students will find One Church, Four Generations a valuable resource in mapping out strategies for relevant church programming in the twenty-first century. Choosing Church Carol E. Lytch, 2004-01-01 This well-researched study explains what attracts teenagers to church and keeps them there. It provides a helpful description of the most effective ways that congregations and parents can build a faith in early teens that is not anti-institutional and that helps them value the church. Alligators in the Swamp: George B. Thompson, 2005-09-01 What tools hold the greatest promise to assist pastors in leading congregations to be faithful witnesses for Jesus? Alligators in the Swamp: Power, Ministry, and Leadership with a foreword by Andrew Young attempts to answer this question. George B. Thompson will show you that the topic is power. Not a pie in the sky, by and by, version of power, but a day-to-day, dead-serious-in-your-face version of power. Alligators in the Swamp aims its sights and enables you to explore the practice of power in human life. Displacing the Divine Douglas Alan Walrath, 2010-05-07 As religious leaders, ministers are often assumed to embody the faith of the institution they represent. As cultural symbols, they reflect subtle changes in society and belief, specifically people's perception of God and the evolving role of the church. For more than forty years, Douglas Alan Walrath has tracked changing patterns of belief and church participation in American society, and his research has revealed a particularly fascinating trend: portrayals of ministers in American fiction mirror changing perceptions of the Protestant church and a Protestant God. From the novels of Harriet Beecher Stowe, who portrays ministers as faithful Calvinists, to the works of Herman Melville who challenges Calvinism to its very core Walrath considers a variety of fictional ministers including Garrison Keillor's Lake Wobegon Lutherans and Gail Godwin's women clergy He identifies a range of types religious misfits harsh Puritans incorrigible scoundrels secular businessmen perpetrators of oppression victims of belief prudent believers phony preachers reactionaries and social activists He concludes with the modern legacy of nineteenth and early twentieth century images of ministers which highlights the ongoing challenges that skepticism secularization and science have brought to today's religious leaders and fictional counterparts Displacing the Divine offers a novel encounter with social change giving the reader access through the intimacy and humanity of literature to the evolving character of an American tradition

Episcopal Women the late Catherine M. Prelinger,1996-03-14 The opening of the ordained ministry to women in the larger context of the women's movement in America has created an unprecedented situation within Protestant denominations. Women are now increasingly visible in religious organizations previously administered solely by men. Congregations, church agencies, educational institutions, and volunteer organizations are all affected by the gender shift within mainstream Protestantism. Episcopal Women is the first careful historical and sociological study of the impact of these gender changes on a particular religious institution. This groundbreaking volume includes essays on Episcopal theology and women's spirituality, the urban church, aging, and the church women's organizations, women donors, clerical leadership, and black women's experience in the Episcopal Church. Year Book of the Churches, 1990. One Gospel Many Ears. Ronald J. Allen, Joseph R. Jeter, Every time a congregation gathers for worship, many different people from different points in life, with different needs and perspectives, come together, each refracting messages through their own lenses. Each person processes communication in ways that are influenced by age, gender, race, personality type, ethnicity, education, and social and economic background. Jeter and Allen explore how these factors affect the ways in which members of the congregation receive and process sermons and how the preacher can optimize the opportunity for each to hear and understand the gospel and one another. Counterpoints Douglas Alan Walrath, 1991.
