Framing France Essays On The Representation Of Landscape In France 1870 1914:

Framing France Richard Thomson,1998 Landscape painting in France between 1870 and 1914 was a battleground fought over by avant garde and conservative artists as well as the Left and Right in French politics This collection of essays by distinguished contributors throws light on how representing the land became an evolutionary vehicle not only for art but society as well 70 illustrations The Troubled Republic Richard Thomson,2004-01-01 This fascinating book examines how artists in fin de siècle France dealt with four hotly debated issues in society national decadence crowds and mass unrest religious imagery and revenge against Germany Rural Artists' Colonies in Europe, 1870-1910 Nina Lübbren,2001

This ground breaking book presents a critical study of pictorial narrative in nineteenth century European painting Covering works from France Germany Britain Italy and elsewhere it traces the ways in which immensely popular artists like Jean L. G. Meunier Karl von Piloty and William Quiller Orchardson used unique visual strategies to tell thrilling and engaging stories Regardless of genre content or national context these paintings share a fundamental modern narrative mode Unlike traditional art they do not rely on textual sources nor do they tell stories through the human body alone Instead they experiment with objects spaces cause and effect relations and open ended ambiguity prompting viewers and reviewers to read for clues in order to weave their own elaborate tales Architectures of Russian Identity, 1500 to the Present

Zuelow,Kevin J. James,2025-02-24 The Oxford Handbook of Tourism History offers a critical survey of the development of the field that unites historical scholarship along thematic lines and uses examples from diverse places to examine a wide set of tourism policies practices and niches in a global transnational context Empire of Landscape John Zarobell,2010 Explores visual culture and the social history of art through an analysis of French images of nineteenth century Algeria Provided by publisher Doubt Richard Shiff, 2012-04-23 In an age where art history's questions are now expected to receive answers Richard Shiff presents a challenging alternative In this essential new addition to James Elkins's series Theories of Modernism and Postmodernism in the Visual Arts Richard Shiff embraces doubt as a critical tool and asks how particular histories of art have come to be Shiff's turn to doubt is not a retreat to relativism but rather an insistence on clear thinking about art In particular Shiff takes issue with the style of self-referential art writing seemingly licensed by Roland Barthes With an introduction by Rosie Bennett Doubt is a study of the tension between practicing art and practicing criticism A Sourcebook of Gauguin's Symbolist Followers Russell T. Clement, Annick Houzé, Christiane Erbolato-Ramsey, 2004-06-30 Paul Gauguin 1848-1903 played a seminal role in Post-Impressionist France In his writings and work he favored emotional responses to nature over intellectual uses of lines color and composition In 1888 he and Emile Bernard developed a new style called Synthetism Three groups of Gauguin's symbolist followers Pont-Aven Les Nabis and Rose Croix pursued and extended the Synthetist vision This sourcebook focuses on the most prominent adherents of the three schools directly affected by Gauguin's symbolism This is the first comprehensive single-volume guide and bibliography of artists in these three important French avant-garde movements This work covers the entire careers of 16 artists by providing biographical sketches chronologies citations to primary and secondary literature and exhibitions The Work of Art Anthea Callen, 2015-02-15 In The Work of Art Anthea Callen analyzes the self-portraits portraits of fellow artists photographs prints and studio images of prominent nineteenth-century French Impressionist painters exploring the emergence of modern artistic identity and its relation to the idea of creative work Landscape painting in general she argues and the plein-air oil sketch in particular were the key drivers of change in artistic practice in the nineteenth century leading to the Impressionist revolution Putting the work of artists from Courbet and Cézanne to Pissarro under a microscope Callen examines modes of self-representation and painting methods paying particular attention to the painters' touch and mark-making Using innovative methods of analysis she provides new and intriguing ways of understanding material practice within its historical moment and the cultural meanings it generates Richly illustrated with 180 color and black-and-white images The Work of Art offers fresh insights into the development of avant-garde French painting and the concept of the modern artist Gendering Landscape Art Steven Adams, Anna Gruetzner Robins, 2000 While gender has been the subject of extensive critical inquiry the debate has focused primarily on the human particularly the female body The spaces bodies occupy and the ways in which those spaces are depicted in landscape art has not however been subject to investigation This book is the first sustained attempt to fill this gap in art history Cézanne to Picasso Rebecca A. Rabinow, Douglas W. Druick, Maryline Assante di Panzillo, Metropolitan Museum of Art (New York, N.Y.), Art Institute of Chicago, Musée d'Orsay, 2006 Van Gogh and the End of Nature Michael Lobel, 2024-06-25 A groundbreaking reassessment that foregrounds Van Gogh's profound engagement with the industrial age while making his work newly relevant for our world today Vincent van Gogh 1853-1890 is most often portrayed as the consummate painter of nature whose work gained its strength from his direct encounters with the unspoiled landscape Michael Lobel upends this commonplace view by showing how Van Gogh's pictures are inseparable from the modern industrial era in which the artist lived from its factories and polluted skies to its coal mines and gasworks and how his art drew upon waste and pollution for its subjects and even for the very materials out of which it was made Lobel underscores how Van Gogh's engagement with the environmental realities of his time provides repeated forewarnings of the threats of climate change and ecological destruction we face today Van Gogh and the End of Nature offers a radical revisioning of nearly the full span of the artist's career considering Van Gogh's artistic process his choice of materials and some of his most beloved and iconic pictures Merging a timely sense of environmental urgency with bold new readings of the work of one of the world's most acclaimed artists this book weaves together detailed historical research and perceptive analysis into an illuminating portrait of an artist and his changing world Cézanne's Shadows Nancy Locke, 2025-04-08 Modernism has often been described as a rejection of the art of the past but Cézanne's Shadows makes an eloquent case for precisely the opposite artistic practice In this book Nancy Locke argues that the idea of a modernist forgetting would never have taken hold if the modernist painters themselves and Cézanne in particular had not wrestled so fiercely with the work of their predecessors Cézanne routinely interrupted his work with a model to go back to the Louvre or to consult sketches and studies he did after the old masters Exploring the importance of Cézanne's involvement with the art of the past in essays devoted to Poussin Chardin and Rubens Locke argues that Cézanne's art cannot be understood without an investigation into what he made of these earlier models and how they continued to haunt even his mature work Cézanne's Shadows offers an elegant new model for understanding the relationship between modernist painting and the creative tradition it often feigns to reject This study of artistic ambitions and an analysis of nineteenth century art writing will be especially valuable to scholars of modernism and European art history Van Gogh's Cypresses Susan Alyson Stein, 2023-05-15 Vincent van Gogh 1853-1890 immortalized the cypress tree in signature images that have become synonymous with his fiercely original power of expression This richly illustrated publication illuminates the backstory of his invention for the first time from his initial investigations of the motif in benchmark drawings from Arles to his realization of their full evocative potential in such iconic canvases as The Starry Night and Wheat Field with Cypresses painted at the asylum in Saint-Rémy Susan Alyson Stein retraces the Dutch artist's inspired response to the flamelike evergreens as they gained ground in his works and artistic thinking over the course of his sojourn in the South of France The volume provides further insight into Van Gogh's creative process through a technical study focused on two celebrated works from the artist's epic painting campaign of June 1889 The visual and literary heritage of the cypresses is featured in a compilation of images and excerpts from nineteenth century poetry novels and travel writing many translated into English for the first time Colourworks Susan Harrow, 2020-12-10 How do modern writers write colour How do today's readers respond to the invitation to think colour as they read poetry and art writing and explore paintings To what extent can critical thought on colour in visual media illuminate the textual life of colour These are some of the lines of enquiry pursued in this bold new study of modern poetry and art writing in French where colour Susan Harrow argues is integral to the exploration of ethics ekphrasis objects bodies landscape and interiority The question of colour in a variety of disciplines and media has provoked debate from Aristotle to Goethe and from Baudelaire to Derek Jarman If the past twenty years have witnessed a colour turn in contemporary cultural studies and screen research colour values in literary and textual media are often elided or simply overlooked Colourworks tackles this lacuna in the study of modern poetry and art writing in French revealing the integral role of colour in the work of three iconic French writers in the modern tradition Stéphane Mallarmé Paul Valéry and Yves Bonnefoy This book spans the broad modern period from the 1860s to the early twenty first century in taking an exploratory approach to the viscosity of the verbal medium through an adventurous reading of text and image Harrow uncovers how colour moves and morphs in texts as it challenges the traditionalist containments of chromatic symbolism Beyond its primary area of investigation in modern poetry and art writing in French this richly colour illustrated study has significant interdisciplinary implications conceptual methodological and practical for the study of viscosity in humanities research from literature studies to material and visual culture studies

Concentrationary Art Griselda Pollock, Max Silverman, 2019-04-22 Largely forgotten over the years the seminal work of French poet novelist and camp survivor Jean Cayrol has experienced a revival in the French speaking world since his death in 2005 His concept of a concentrationary art the need for an urgent and constant aesthetic resistance to the continuing effects of the concentrationary universe proved to be a major influence for Hannah Arendt and other writers and theorists across a number of disciplines Concentrationary Art presents the first translation into English of Jean Cayrol's key essays on the subject as well as the first book length study of how we might situate and elaborate his concept of a Lazarean aesthetic in cultural theory literature cinema music and contemporary art

Gauguin's Challenge Norma Broude, 2018-03-08 Several decades have now passed since postcolonial and feminist critiques presented the art historical world with a demythologized Paul Gauguin 1848 1903 a much diminished image of the artist hero who had once been universally admired as the father of modernist primitivism In this volume both long established and more recent Gauguin scholars offer a provocative picture of the evolution of Gauguin scholarship in the recent postmodern era as they confront and consider how the dismantling of the longstanding Gauguin myth positions us now in the 21st century to deal with and assess the life work and legacy of this still perennially popular artist To reassess the challenges that Gauguin faced in his own day as well as those that he continues to present to current and future scholarship they explore the multiple contexts that influenced Gauguin s thought and behavior as well as his art and incorporate a variety of interdisciplinary approaches from anthropology philosophy and the history of science to gender studies and the study of Pacific cultural history Dealing with a wide range of Gauguin s production they challenge conventional art historical thinking highlight transnational perspectives and offer clues to the direction of future scholarship as audiences worldwide seek to make multicultural peace with Gauguin and his art Broude has raised the bar of Gauguin scholarship ever higher in this groundbreaking volume which will be necessary reading for students and scholars of art history late 19th century French and Pacific culture gender studies and beyond
