Eliminating Human Poverty Santosh Mehrotra, Enrique Delamonica, 2008-02-29 This book focuses on the provision of basic social services in particular access to education health and water supplies as the central building blocks of any human development strategy The authors concentrate on how these basic social services can be financed and delivered more effectively to achieve the internationally agreed Millennium Development Goals Their analysis which departs from the dominant macro economic paradigm deploys the results of broad ranging research they led at UNICEF and UNDP investigating the record on basic social services of some 30 developing countries In seeking to learn from these new data they develop an analytical argument around two potential synergies at the macro level between poverty reduction human development and economic growth and at the micro level between interventions to provide basic social services Policymakers they argue can integrate macro economic and social policy Fiscal monetary and other macro economic policies can be compatible with social sector requirements They make the case that policymakers have more flexibility than is usually presented by orthodox writers and international financial institutions and that if policymakers engaged in alternative macro economic and growth oriented policies this could lead to the expansion of human capabilities and the fulfillment of human rights This book explores some of these policy options The book also argues that more than just additional aid is needed Specific strategic shifts in the areas of aid policy decentralized governance health and education policy and the private public mix in service provision are a prerequisite to achieve the goals of human development The combination of governance reforms and fiscal and macro economic policies outlined in this book can eliminate human poverty in the span of a generation

Equal Opportunities and Ethnic Inequality in European Labour Markets Karen Kraal, Judith Roosblad, John Wrench, 2025-10-01 The need to analyse labour market mechanisms in post industrial Western societies is urgent Despite laws and policy measures being developed at the European national and local levels job seeking immigrants and ethnic minorities still suffer unequal access and ethnic discrimination This volume endeavours to understand why Four chapters dealing with discrimination gender equity policies and diversity management present a lively discussion of the current scientific debate Besides providing empirical evidence the authors recommend methods for conducting further research in the field and evaluate the actual effects of discrimination combating policies One conclusion is that systematic analysis of the labour market and its subsequent equity policies must be supported by hard data such as statistics With its state of the art scope and unique thematic exploration this volume transfers knowledge from social science studies to a more operational realm From here both scholars and practitioners can help make equal opportunities more accessible than ever

Legal Reform in Central America Martha A. Field, William W. Fisher, 2001 The countries of Central America afflicted for many years by civil strife and economic stagnation are entering a new era of peace democracy and economic development Now more than ever it is necessary for reforms in the legal system to successfully support these changes This volume examines two fields of law in which reforms are especially crucial the improvement of the judicial systems and other mechanisms for resolving noncriminal disputes and modernization of the laws governing both tangible and intellectual property Among the specific topics addressed in the volume are the debate over oralidad the problem of interlocutory appeals nonjudicial procedures for resolving disputes negotiation mediation conciliation and arbitration land and trademark registration systems land reform in Nicaragua the management of genetic resources online legal databases and legal education Annual World Bank Conference on Development in Latin America and the Caribbean, 1995

Education and National Development in Asia Asian Development Bank, 2001 Assesses the status of education in Asia identifies major trends and issues and examines policies and practices that have successfully promoted equity and access strengthened management and efficiency improved quality and enhanced the education resource base Begins with an examination of demographic and economic trends that affect education then analyzes the relationship between education and economic and social development After reviewing the main issues in education development looks at some persistent issues and trends by subsector Finally examines policies and strategies that could be used to address some prevalent challenges facing education in developing Asian countries Confronting Future Challenges Fernando Reimers, Noel F. McGinn, Kate Wild, 1995 The simultaneous presence of a revolutionary change in information technologies and a growing demand for fundamental changes in the education system have set in motion a reassessment of the relationship among information research and decision making The International Bureau of Education IBE considered it necessary to introduce new elements into the discussion based on the conclusions of a series of new case studies on the use of research in the process of educational change and on the ways that educational information and documentation systems function There are two studies presented here Using Research in Educational Policy and Administrative Decision Making Fernando Reimers and Noel McGinn and Information Availability and Its Impact on Educational Policy Making Planning and Decision Making Implications for Educational Information Services Kate Wild that IBE considers propitious to publish in a single volume The thesis of the first paper is that supporting decision making with research based knowledge is a complex undertaking A fruitful strategy involves identifying and addressing the multiple groups of stakeholders involved as part of the research process The purpose of the second paper is to explore the relationship between the availability of information and improvements in the effectiveness of educational systems particularly but not exclusively as it relates to the reporting of research results and to examine the implications for information and documentation services The basic objective of this publication is to promote a dialogue among the three main partners in this process political decision makers researchers and documentalists based on systematic and up to date information Such a dialogue should lead to a reduction in the rifts misunderstandings stereotypes and obstructions that have often weakened the outcomes of this work MAS
