Hampshire Nunneries Diana K. Coldicott, 1989 The History of the Ancient Abbeys, Monasteries ... and Collegiate Churches John Stevens, 1722 Monasticon Anglicanum William Dugdale, 1718 The Culture of Medieval English Monasticism James G. Clark, 2007 Examinations of the culture artistic material musical of English monasteries in the six centuries between the Conquest and the Dissolution The cultural remains of England's abbeys and priories have always attracted scholarly attention but too often they have been studied in isolation appreciated only for their artistic codicological or intellectual features and not for the insights they offer into the patterns of life and thought the underlying norms values and mentality of the communities of men and women which made them Indeed the distinguished monastic historian David Knowles doubted there would ever be sufficient evidence to recover the mentality of the ordinary cloister monk These twelve essays challenge this view They exploit newly catalogued and newly discovered evidence manuscript books wall paintings and even the traces of original monastic music to recover the cultural dynamics of a cross section of male and female communities It is often claimed that over time the cultural traditions of the monasteries were suffocated by secular trends but here it is suggested that many houses remained a major cultural force even on the verge of the Reformation James G Clark is Professor of History at the University of Exeter Contributors DAVID BELL ROGER BOWERS JAMES CLARK BARRIE COLLETT MARY ERLER G R EVANS MIRIAM GILL JOAN GREATREX JULIAN HASELDINE J D NORTH ALAN PIPER AND R M THOMSON The Cartulary of Chatteris Abbey Chatteris Abbey, 1999 Takes its place as perhaps the finest available study of a house for women religious ENGLISH HISTORICAL REVIEW The fifteenth century cartulary of the Benedictine nunnery of Chatteris Abbey in Cambridgeshire founded in the early eleventh century has important implications for the study of women religious especially in the light of the small number of surviving cartularies from English nunneries yet until now it has received little attention perhaps due to its damage in the Cotton Library fire of 1731 This critical edition of the manuscript which contains documents copied into it from the mid twelfth to the fifteenth centuries offers a full transcription together with historical notes and apparatus The introduction draws on the cartulary

itself as well as manorial and episcopal records to analyse the nunnery's relationship with its patron the bishop of Ely and the development and management of its estates it also examines the location and layout of the abbey the social and geographical origins of the nuns and the production and organisation of the cartulary The edition is accompanied by an annotated list of all known abbesses prioresses and nuns CLAIRE BREAY gained her Ph D at the Institute for Historical Research at the University of London she is currently a curator of medieval manuscripts at the British Library Women in England in the Middle Ages Jennifer Ward, 2006-10-12 Medieval women faced many of the problems of their modern counterparts in bringing up their families balancing family and work and responding to the demands of their communities Of many women in the period of a thousand years before 1500 we know little or nothing though their typical ways of life on farms or in the towns can be reconstructed with accuracy from a variety of sources We know more about a far smaller number of elite women including queens such as Eleanor of Aquitaine and Margaret of Anjou noblewomen whose characters and attitudes can be sensed directly or indirectly and a variety of religious women Literary sources help flesh out real attitudes such as those of Chaucer's Wife of Bath Jennifer Ward shows the life cycle of medieval women from birth via marriage and child rearing to widowhood and death She also brings out the slow changes in the position of women over a millennium

Religious Life for Women c.1100-c.1350 Berenice M. Kerr, 1999-07-22 This is the first detailed scholarly study of the Order of Fontevraud's English monastic houses During the twelfth and thirteenth centuries the Order was notably prestigious and autonomous renowned both for the prayerfulness of its members and for their independent management of their affairs The huge following of Robert Arbrissel d 1116 included many women not at first the aristocrats who later dominated the Order of Fontevraud but prostitutes beggars and other representatives of the dregs of society Urged by Church authorities to stabilize his women followers Robert gave them a Rule which was in essentials that of St Benedict but he introduced men as chaplains clerks and lay brothers for the nuns Uniquely however for contemporary houses for women the men were placed firmly under the direction of the nuns and remained there throughout the Order's history Sister Berenice Kerr's study of Fontevraud's English establishments Amesbury Nuneaton and Westwood Grovebury the Order's fourth foundation was never more than administrative centre opens up a wide range of insights and information about monasticism and religious life for women in the middle ages Dr Kerr examines the endowment of each house and its subsequent acquisition of property and its administration monastic observance domestic economy including expenditure on food and drink the scale and layout of conventual buildings and the exploitation of new assets such as salt pans markets and appropriated churches Monasticon Anglicanum...a History of the Abbies and Other Monasteries...and Cathedral and Collegiate Churches...in England and Wales William Dugdale, 1846 Monastic Life in the Medieval British Isles Julie Kerr, Emilia Jamroziak, Karen Stöber, 2018-10-15 This book celebrates the work and contribution of Professor Janet Burton to medieval monastic studies in Britain Burton has fundamentally changed approaches to the study of religious foundations in regional contexts Yorkshire and Wales placing importance on social networks for monastic structures and female Cistercian communities in medieval Britain moreover she has pioneered research on the canons and their place in medieval English and Welsh societies This Festschrift comprises contributions by her colleagues former students and friends leading scholars in the field who engage with and develop themes that are integral to Burton s work The rich and diverse collection in the present volume represents original work on religious life in the British Isles from the twelfth to the sixteenth century as homage to the transformative contribution that

The Use of Hereford Mr William Smith, 2015-10-28

The Use of Hereford a local variation of the Roman rite was one of the diocesan liturgies of medieval England before their abolition and replacement by the Book of Common Prayer in 1549 Unlike the widespread Use of Sarum the Use of Hereford was confined principally to its diocese which helped to maintain its individuality until the Reformation This study seeks to catalogue and evaluate all the known surviving sources of the Use of Hereford with particular reference to the missals and gradual which so far have received little attention In addition to these a variety of other material has been examined including a number of little known or unknown important fragments of early Hereford service books dismembered at the Reformation and now hidden away as binding or other scrap in libraries and record offices
