Ginkel, Hendrika Lena Murre-van den Berg, Theo Maarten van Lint, 2005 Cultural interaction in the Middle East since the Rise of Islam such was the title of a combined research project of the Universities of Leiden and Groningen aimed at describing the various ways in which the Christian communities of the Middle East expressed their distinct cultural identity in Muslim societies As part of the project the symposium Redefining Christian Identity Christian cultural strategies since the rise of Islam took place at Groningen University on April 7 10 1999 This book contains the proceedings of this conference From the articles it becomes clear that a number of distinct cultural strategies can be identified some of which were used very frequently others only in certain groups or at particular periods of time The three main strategies that are represented in the papers of this volume are i reinterpretation of the pre Islamic Christian heritage ii inculturation of elements from the new Islamic context iii isolation from the Islamic context Viewed in time it is clear that the reinterpretation of older Christian heritage was particularly important in the first two centuries after the rise of Islam the seventh and eighth centuries that inculturation was the dominant theme of the Abbasid period in the ninth to twelfth centuries whereas from the Mongol period onwards from the thirteenth to the eighteenth centuries isolation more and more often occurs although inculturation of elements from the predominantly Muslim environment never came to a complete standstill Crafts in the Early Isin Period Marc Van de Mieroop, 1987 La presente synthese porte sur 920

The Aramaeans Edward Lipiński, 2000 In order to present the Aramean history during some six hundred years down to the seventh century B C it was necessary to analyze a wide range of sources mainly cuneiform epigraphic and biblical Chapter I deals with Aramean pre history and proto history while chapter II examines the question of the alleged relationship between the Hebrew forefathers and the ancient Arameans Chapters III to XIV give a relatively accurate description of the territory of each historically attested Aramean group or state and present a detailed narrative of political events Chapter XIV

the most extensive considers the situation of the Arameans in Babylonia also in relation to the Chaldeans and to the North Arabian tribes Chapters XV to XVIII deal with Aramean institutions economy legal practices and religion Special attention is paid to linguistic features of the available evidence when they can help resolving historical questions The book concludes with an extensive general index and with an index of biblical sources Hamlet on a Hill Martin F. J. Baasten, W. Th. van Peursen, 2003 This volume is published in honour of Professor Takamitsu Muraoka on the occasion of his retirement from the Chair of Hebrew Israelite Antiquities and Ugaritic at Leiden University a date which coincides with the celebration of his sixty fifth birthday The laureate is well known for his expertise in the languages of the Bible and cognate studies and this volume includes contributions covering as far as possible the wide field of his interests Some of his friends and colleagues from all parts of the world are presenting him with this valuable collection of forty two articles They include studies on the Greek of the Septuagint Hebrew Biblical and Qumran Aramaic Old Official and Qumran Syriac and Neo Aramaic Canaanite Amarna Ugaritic and Phoenician Punic Medieval Jewish exegesis and Karaite studies M F J Baasten and W Th van Peursen two former students of Muraoka at Leiden have edited the volume Egypt and Syria in the Fatimid, Ayyubid and Mamluk Eras Urbain Vermeulen, D. De Smet, 1995 The Coffin of Heqata Harco Willems, 1996 The coffin published in this book represents a type that had some popularity in southern Upper Egypt in the early Middle Kingdom but which despite its extraordinary decoration had not attracted attention so far The most striking feature of the decoration is that the object friezes the pictorial rendering of ritual implements usually found on coffin interiors of the period also include complete ritual scenes some of which are attested only here Apart from this the decoration includes an extensive selection of the religious texts known as the Coffin Texts The author first studies the archaeological context and dating of the coffin and attempts a reconstruction of the construction procedures from his technical description of the monument The detailed account of the decoration in the rest of the book interprets the ritual iconography and offers fresh translations and interpretations of the Coffin Texts A methodological innovation is that he regards the scenes and texts not as individual decoration elements but as components of an integral composition The background of this composition is argued to be a view of life in the hereafter in which the deceased is involved in an unending cycle of ritual action which reflects the funerary rituals that were actually performed on earth On the one hand these netherworldly rituals aim at bringing the deceased to new life by mummification on the other the newly regenerated deceased partakes in embalming rituals for gods representing his dead father Osiris or Atum These gods in their turn effectuate the deceased's regeneration The entire process results in a cycle of resuscitation in which the afterlife of the deceased and of the father gods are interdependent The sociological bias of this interpretation with its emphasis on kinship relations differs significantly from earlier attempts to explain Egyptian funerary religion The Preacher Sought to Find Pleasing Words Antoon Schoors, 1992 Enthl Part 1 Grammar Igor'-Severjanin Lenie Lauwers, 1993 Peeters 1992 Immigration and Emigration Within the Ancient Near East Karel van Lerberghe, 1995 Peeters

1995     'Abbasid Studies James Edward Montgomery, 2004 The School of Abbasid Studies originally founded as a co-operative venture by scholars at the Universities of St Andrews and Glasgow in Scotland during the 1980s is a joint enterprise involving the Universities of St Andrews Cambridge and Leuven It aims to promote foster and cultivate the academic study of the Abbasid dynasty This book is a volume of sixteen papers delivered by a distinguished array of leading scholars at a meeting of the School of Abbasid Studies at the University of Cambridge in July 2002 It provides a fully contemporary insight into the cutting edge of Abbasid Studies and includes works ranging from Arabic philosophy and jurisprudence to religious intellectual and institutional history literature and grammar The contents of the volume are divided into three principal foci of interest Institutions and Concepts Figures and Archaeology of a Discipline and the work is accomplished by a substantial introduction by the editor     On the Skirts of Canaan in the Iron Age Edward Lipiński, 2006 The history of Canaan in the Iron Age is generally written from the perspective of the kingdoms of Israel and Judah The scope of this book is to inverse this relation and to focus on the skirts of Canaan while regarding the United Monarchy and the Divided Monarchy as external and sometimes marginal players of the regional history After having examined the transition from the Late Bronze Age to the Iron Age in the mid 12th century B C the book deals thus with the Philistines and the role of Egypt in Canaan during Iron Age II especially in the face of the Assyrian expansion It treats further of the Phoenicians and the Aramaeans There follow five chapters on Bashan Gilead Ammon Moab and Edom with the Negeb Several indices facilitate the consultation of the work on particular topics     East and West in the Medieval Eastern Mediterranean Krijna Nelly Ciggaar, David Michael Metcalf, 2006 Claude Cahen's book on Crusader Antioch cast a long shadow His thorough monograph seemingly leaves little more to be said Decades may pass before scholars return to the topic The long shadow fell even on the Wisconsin History of the Crusades which still seeks essentially to stitch the written sources together into traditional narrative history only to do it better But topics such as architecture or coins are optional extras and not much integrated into the whole picture A thorough analysis of political and military developments is indeed the essential groundwork of most medieval history But high politics was not the whole of life and charters and texts are not the only witnesses to that life Social and economic life has its own momentum and its own continuity Its moral and spiritual aspects deserve historical study and impose new historical disciplines Crusades studies have become more interdisciplinary and less monolithic That new style of enquiry is fully reflected in the range and variety of the papers tightly focussed on Antioch printed in this volume     Aegeans in the Theban Tombs Shelley Wachsmann, 1987 The wall paintings of several Theban tombs represent foreigners who present gifts that are sometimes typically Cretan or Aegean Other foreigners although labeled Princes of Keftiu Crete are represented as Asiatics The aim of the present volume is to analyze these wall paintings in order to distinguish the Aegeans and their gifts The author manages to establish their characteristics in nine Theban tombs divides chronologically in two groups and shows that the related figures reflect actual Aegeo Egyptian relations in the time of the XVIIIth dynasty down to c 1470 1450 BC This result is obtained by a careful comparison of represented gifts with undoubtedly Minoan objects and documents from the Aegean especially Crete
