Handbook Of Bilingualism Psycholinguistic Approaches:

Handbook of Bilingualism Judith F. Kroll, A. M. B. de Groot, 2009 How is language acquired when infants are exposed to multiple language input from birth and when adults are required to learn a second language after early childhood How do adult bilinguals comprehend and produce words and sentences when their two languages are potentially always active and in competition with one another What are the neural mechanisms that underlie proficient bilingualism What are the general consequences of bilingualism for cognition and for language and thought This handbook will be essential reading for cognitive psychologists linguists applied linguists and educators who wish to better understand the cognitive basis of bilingualism and the logic of experimental and formal approaches to language science Handbook of Bilingualism Judith F. Kroll, A. M. B. de Groot, 2023 This handbook focuses on bilingualism and will be essential reading for cognitive psychologists linguists applied linguists and educators who wish to better understand the cognitive basis of bilingualism and the logic of experimental and formal approaches to language science The Handbook of Bilingual and Multilingual Education Wayne E. Wright, Sovicheth Boun, Ofelia García, 2017-09-25 The Handbook of Bilingual and Multilingual Education presents the first comprehensive international reference work of the latest policies practices and theories related to the dynamic interdisciplinary field of bilingual and multilingual education Represents the first comprehensive reference work that covers bilingual multilingual and multicultural educational policies and practices around the world Features contributions from 78 established and emerging international scholars Offers extensive coverage in sixteen chapters of language and education issues in specific and diverse regional geographic contexts including South Africa Mexico Latvia Cambodia Japan and Texas Covers pedagogical issues such as language assessment as well as offering evolving perspectives on the needs of specific learner populations such as ELLs learners with language impairments and bilingual education outside of the classroom

Understanding Second Language Process Zhaohong Han, Eun Sung Park, 2008 This is a collection of 11 analytical and empirical studies on the process of second language acquisition probing a wide array of issues from transfer appropriate processing to L2 default processing strategies among hearing or deaf learners of a variety of target languages Applying Language Science to Language Pedagogy José Manuel Igoa, Montserrat Sanz, 2011-12-08 This book establishes a bridge between current research in Linguistics and Psycholinguistics and language pedagogy in the classroom It reformulates the debates about teaching approaches by calling the reader's attention to discoveries about the structure of grammar the universals of language mind processes while comprehending producing and storing language and facts about learning The popularization of L2 teaching brought with it a need to find efficient teaching methods Debates have hinged mainly around the alleged advantages of communicative vs traditional methods However most approaches have their roots in linguistic and psychological theories that have been questioned by language researchers Some language teachers are probably unaware of these advances and to that extent continue to adhere to teaching approaches mainly based on intuitions Consequently evaluating materials may be often performed in rather uninformed circumstances The book contains chapters on relevant issues by leading researchers classified into three main areas The editors contribute a chapter to each of these sections about the implications for second language teaching This book facilitates an approximation between researchers in the theoretical and experimental fields of language and those responsible for innovation in language teaching It is designed so that L2 teachers can adopt and adjust the knowledge drawn from the book to their particular environment and group of students

The Age Factor and Early Language Learning Marianne Nikolov, 2009-10-28 This edited volume documents the state of the art in research into how the age factor interacts with other factors in a variety of educational contexts The book comprises 17 chapters examining early language learning and teaching in a range of countries in Europe Asia and North America Authors discuss main themes in research methodology curricular and assessment issues short and long term outcomes the role of individual differences innovation in teacher education classroom processes as well as the impact of the target language The first two chapters Nikolov Edelenbos and Kubanek overview the main trends in research Four papers Curtin Ofra Inbar Lourie and Elana Shohamy Jalkanen Haenni Hoti Heinzmann and Mller focus on the assessment of young learners two authors examine how age impacts on language learning over time Mu oz Kasai Individual differences motivation anxiety aptitude and socio economic status are explored by Mihaljevi Djigunovi Mattheoudakis and Alexiou and Kiss Innovation is the common theme in chapters written by Wang Moon and Peng and Zhang The last three papers analyze the status of languages Harris Enever Carmel The book is a must have for teacher educators of pre and in service teachers of modern languages to young learners MA and PhD students in TEFL TESOL and other languages researchers and policy makers

Twelve Lectures on Multilingualism David Singleton, Larissa Aronin, 2018-11-20 This major new textbook offers an accessible introduction to many of the most interesting areas in the study of multilingualism It consists of twelve lectures written by leading researchers each dedicated to a particular topic of importance Each lecture offers a state of the art authoritative review of a subdiscipline of the field The volume sheds light on the ways in which the use and acquisition of languages are changing providing new insights into the nature of contemporary multilingualism It will be of interest both to undergraduate and postgraduate students working in linguistics related disciplines and students in associated social sciences

Reading, Writing, Mathematics and the Developing Brain: Listening to Many Voices Zvia Breznitz, Orly Rubinsten, Victoria J. Molfese, Dennis L. Molfese, 2012-06-01 This valuable addition to the literature offers readers a comprehensive overview of recent brain imaging research focused on reading writing and mathematics a research arena characterized by rapid advances that follow on the heels of fresh developments and techniques in brain imaging itself With contributions from many of the lead scientists in this field a number of whom have been responsible for key breakthroughs the coverage deals with the commonalities of as well as the differences between brain activity related to the three core educational topics At the same time the volume addresses vital new information on both brain and behavior indicators of developmental problems and points out the new directions being pursued using current advances in brain imaging technologies as well as research based interventions The book is also a tribute to a new Edmund J Safra Brain center for the study of learning Disabilities at the University of Haifa Israel Second Language Task Complexity Peter Robinson,2011-09-13 Understanding how task complexity affects second language learning interaction and spoken and written performance is essential to informed decisions about task design and sequencing in TBLT programs The chapters in this volume all examine evidence for claims of the Cognition Hypothesis that complex tasks should promote greater accuracy and complexity of speech and writing as well as more interaction and learning of information provided in the input to task performance than simpler tasks Implications are drawn concerning the basic pedagogic claim of the Cognition Hypothesis that tasks should be sequenced for learners from simple to complex during syllabus design Containing theoretical discussion of the Cognition Hypothesis and cutting edge empirical studies of the effects of task complexity on second language learning and performance this book will be important reading for language teachers graduate students and researchers in applied linguistics second language acquisition and cognitive and educational psychology Bilingual Cognition A. M. B. de Groot,2011-04-27 The first introductory level textbook that comprehensively covers the psycholinguistic study of bilingualism and multilingualism including traditional and brain based approaches Each chapter covers a key series of topics in clear accessible language and includes a description of the relevant methodological issues It provides a valuable resources for students and researchers in psycholinguistics

Lexical Processing and Second Language Acquisition Natasha Tokowicz,2014-10-10 Lexical Processing and Second Language Acquisition provides a comprehensive overview of research on second language lexical processing integrating converging research and perspectives from Cognitive Science and Second Language Acquisition The book begins by introducing the dominant issues addressed by research in the field in cognitive science and discussing the relevant models in the literature It later moves toward exploring the different factors that impact second language lexical processing as well as cognitive neuroscientific approaches to the study of the issues discussed throughout the book A concluding chapter offers a global summary of the key issues and research strands in addition to directions for future research with a list of recommended readings providing students and researchers with avenues for further study Eye Movements and Gestures in Simultaneous and Consecutive Interpreting Katarzyna Stachowiak-Szymczak,2019-07-15 This book addresses eye movements and gestures as markers of language comprehension and production in interpreting as the visible embodiment of cognitive processing in simultaneous and consecutive interpreting It discusses conference interpreting as a complex multimodal activity where language processing is not restricted to auditory perception and oral production highlighting the complexity of interpreting and exploring possible strategies that can be used by professional interpreters and students to make their work easier and more accurate Multilingualism and Creativity Anatoliy V.

Kharkhurin,2012-09-03 In this monograph Anatoliy V Kharkhurin presents the results of his empirical investigation into the impact of multilingual practice on an individual's creative potential. Until now the relationship between these two activities has received little attention in the academic community. The book makes an attempt to resuscitate this theme and provides a solid theoretical framework supported by contemporary empirical research conducted in a variety of geographic linguistic and sociocultural locations. This study demonstrates that several factors such as the multilinguals' age of language acquisition, proficiency in these languages and experience with cultural settings in which these languages were acquired have a positive impact on selective attention and language-mediated concept activation mechanisms. Together these facilitate generative and innovative capacities of creative thinking. This book will be of great interest not only to scholars in the fields of multilingualism and creativity but also to educators and all those interested in enhancing foreign language learning and fostering creativity.
