Handbook Of Cellular Chemistry:

Handbook of Cellular Chemistry Annabelle Cohen, 2001-12-01      Subcellular Biochemistry Donald Roodyn, 2013-11-11 The transition from the quarterly Sub Cellular Biochemistry to the annual SUBCELLULAR BIOCHEMISTRY is a good opportunity to restate the aims and scope of this publication They were originally given in Volume 1 No 1 as follows This review and essay journal brings together work on a wide range of topics in sub cellular biochemistry in the hope of stimulating progress towards an integrated view of the cell It deals with the biochemistry and general biology of nuclei mitochondria lysosomes peroxisomes chloroplasts cell membranes ribosomes cell sap flagellae and other specialized cell components In addition to articles dealing with conventional biochemical studies on sub cellular structures the journal publishes articles on the genetics evolution and biogenesis of cell organelles bioenergetics membrane behaviour and the interaction between cell structures particularly between nucleus and cytoplasm The first four volumes in the quarterly format fulfilled many but not all of these stated aims and it is hoped that further articles in the new annual series will soon fill any deficiencies in the range of topics covered Over the years we have intentionally not interpreted the title of the publication in a too literal sense Although we have included specific articles on individual subcellular fractions and certainly hope to do so again the publication is definitely not only concerned with studies on the biochemistry of isolated cell fractions The primary target is the integrated view of the cell      Current Catalog National Library of Medicine (U.S.), 1979 Includes subject section name section and 1968 1970 technical reports      National Library of Medicine Current Catalog National Library of Medicine (U.S.), 1971 First multi year cumulation covers six years 1965 70      Catalog of Copyright Entries. Third Series Library of Congress. Copyright Office, 1976      Cell Chemistry and Physiology: Part III Edward Bittar, 1996-06-17 The first section of this volume consists of five chapters to the nature of membrane transport systems A chapter on secondary active glucose transport has been omitted because this topic is slated to appear in the Nephrobiology module Chapter 6 deals with oxidase control of plasma membrane proton transport while chapter 7 addresses the question of how cell volume is regulated Although we chose not to have a separate chapter covering additional co transport systems namely Na K 2Cl KCl HCO<sub>3</sub> as well as Cl HCO<sub>3</sub> exchange and K and Cl movements through channels the role of each in cell volume regulation is emphasized in Chapter 7 Instead of devoting an entire section to the thermodynamics of metabolism we thought it desirable to have the subjects of medical imaging and NMR of cell metabolism discussed in some detail in two chapters These are followed by a chapter on the thermodynamic instrument the calorimeter Calrimetry allows the measurement of net changes of heat in cells tissues organs and whole body As will be recognized heat dissipation does not arise only from chemical reactions but also from interactions between macromolecules and conformational changes in protein complexes and mass Ca<sup>2+</sup> movement such as that occurring in contracting skeletal muscle The last chapter provides an account of equilibrium and non equilibrium thermodynamics and the enthalpy balance method It reveals that calorimetric measurements are useful in
