Handbook Of Inaesthetic:

Handbook of Inaesthetics Alain Badiou, 2004-10-28 Didacticism romanticism and classicism are the possible schemata for the knotting of art and philosophy the third term in this knot being the education of subjects youth in particular What characterizes the century that has just come to a close is that while it underwent the saturation of these three schemata it failed to introduce a new one Today this predicament tends to produce a kind of unknotting of terms a desperate dis relation between art and philosophy together with the pure and simple collapse of what circulated between them the theme of education Whence the thesis of which this book is nothing but a series of variations faced with such a situation of saturation and closure we must attempt to propose a new schema a fourth type of knot between philosophy and art Among these inaesthetic variations the reader will encounter a sustained debate with contemporary philosophical uses of the poem bold articulations of the specificity and prospects of theater cinema and dance along with subtle and provocative readings of Fernando Pessoa St phane Mallarm and Samuel Beckett

Handbook of Inaesthetics Alain Badiou, Alberto Toscano, 2005 This volume presents a new proposal for the link between philosophy and art Badiou identifies and rejects the three schemes of didacticism romanticism and classicism that he sees as having governed traditional aesthetics and seeks a fourth mode of accounting for the educative value of works of art

The Architecture of Transgression, 2014-01-13 Transgression suggests operating beyond accepted norms and radically reinterpreting practice by pushing at the boundaries of both what architecture is and what it could or even should be The current economic crisis and accompanying political social unrest has exacerbated the difficulty into which architecture has long been sliding challenged by other professions and a culture of conservatism architecture is in danger of losing its prized status as one of the pre eminent visual arts Transgression opens up new possibilities for practice It highlights the positive impact that working on the architectural periphery can make on the mainstream as transgressive practices have the potential to reinvent and reposition the architectural profession whether they are subverting notions of progress questioning roles and mechanisms of production aligning with political activism pioneering urban interventions advocating informal or incomplete development actively destabilising environments or breaking barriers of taste In this new dispersed and expanded field of operation the balance of architectural endeavour is shifted from object to process from service to speculation and from formal to informal in a way that provides both critical and political impetus to proactively affect change Contributors Can Altay Edward Denison and Guangyu Ren Kim Dovey Chris Jenks David Littlefield Silvia Loeffler Alistair Parvin Louis Rice Patrik Schumacher and Robin Wilson Featured architects atelier d architecture autog r e Lina Bo Bardi Construire La Machine EXYZT Didier Faustino Bureau des M sarchitectures Lacaton Vassal N55 Catie Newell Alibi Studio Wang Shu Superflex and Bernard Tschumi

Badiou, Poem and Subject Tom Betteridge, 2020-01-23 Reinterpreting Badiou's philosophy in light of both his persistent reverent invocations of the German Jewish poet Paul Celan and his long term engagement with Samuel Beckett Badiou Poem and Subject fundamentally reassesses Badiou's radical departure from the legacy of Martin Heidegger and his wholesale rejection of philosophies that would in the wake of twentieth century violence and beyond proclaim their own end or completion For Badiou both writers from the terminus of Literary Modernism affirm novel conceptions of subjectivity capable of transcending the historical conditions of their presentation Celan's collective and ephemeral subject of anabasis and Beckett's disjunctive Two of love Blending close textual analyses with critical reflections on Heidegger Lacoue Labarthe and Adorno among others Tom Betteridge argues that Badiou's innovative readings of both Celan's poetry and the latent poem in Beckett's late prose are crucial to understanding his significance in the history of twentieth century French philosophy and its German heritage offering a significant contribution to a growing field of interest in Badiou's philosophical encounter with poetry and its political ramifications

Aesthetics and Its Discontents Jacques Rancière, 2009-08-17 Translated by Steven Corcoran Only yesterday aesthetics stood accused of concealing cultural games of social distinction Now it is considered a parasitic discourse from which artistic practices must be freed But aesthetics is not a discourse It is an historical regime of the identification of art This regime is paradoxical because it founds the autonomy of art only at the price of suppressing the boundaries separating its practices and its objects from those of everyday life and of making free aesthetic play into the promise of a new revolution Aesthetics is not a politics by accident but in essence But this politics operates in the unresolved tension between two opposed forms of politics the first consists in transforming art into forms of collective life the second in preserving from all forms of militant or commercial compromise the autonomy that makes it a promise of emancipation This constitutive tension sheds light on the paradoxes and transformations of critical art It also makes it possible to understand why today's calls to free art from aesthetics are misguided and lead to a smothering of both aesthetics and politics in ethics

On the Politics of Ugliness Sara Rodrigues, Ela Przybylo, 2018-08-29 Ugliness or unsightliness is much more than a quality or property of an individual's appearance it has long functioned as a social category that demarcates access to social cultural and political spaces and capital The editors of and authors in this collection harness intersectional and interdisciplinary approaches in order to examine ugliness as a political category that is deployed to uphold established notions of worth and entitlement On the Politics of Ugliness identifies and challenges the harmful effects that labels and feelings of ugliness have on individuals and the socio political order It explores ugliness in relation to the intersectional processes of racialization colonization and settler colonialism gender making ableism heteronormativity and fatphobia On the Politics of Ugliness asks that we fight against visual injustice and imagine new ways of seeing

Egalitarian Moments: From Descartes to Rancière Devin Zane Shaw, 2015-11-05 Jacques Rancie's work has challenged many of the assumptions of contemporary continental philosophy by placing equality at the forefront of emancipatory political thought and aesthetics Drawing on the claim that egalitarian politics persistently appropriates elements from political philosophy to engage new forms of dissensus Devin Zane Shaw argues that Rancière's work also provides an opportunity to reconsider modern philosophy and aesthetics in light of the question of equality In Part I Shaw examines Rancière's philosophical debts to the good sense of Cartesian egalitarianism and the existentialist critique of identity In Part II he outlines Rancière's critical analyses of Walter Benjamin and Clement Greenberg and offers a reinterpretation of Rancière's debate with Alain Badiou in light of the philosophical differences between Schiller and Schelling From engaging debates about political subjectivity from Descartes to Sartre to delineating the egalitarian stakes in aesthetics and the philosophy of art from Schiller to Badiou this book presents a concise tour through a series of egalitarian moments found within the histories of modern philosophy and aesthetics Badiou and

Metapolitics Alain Badiou, 2020-05-05 Badiou indicts this approach which reduces politics to a matter of opinion thus eliminating any of its truly radical and emancipatory possibilities Against this intellectual tradition Badiou proposes instead the consideration of politics in terms of the production of truth and the affirmation of equality He demands that the question of a possible political truth be separated from any notion of consensus or public opinion and that political action be rethought in terms of the complex process that binds discussion to decision Starting from this analysis Badiou critically examines the thought of anthropologist and political theorist Sylvain Lazarus Jacques Ranciere s writings on workers history and democratic dissensus the role of the subject in Althusser as well as the concept of democracy and the link between truth and justice

The Difference Aesthetics Makes Kandice Chuh, 2019-03-28 In The Difference Aesthetics Makes cultural critic Kandice Chuh asks what the humanities might be and do if organized around what she calls illiberal humanism instead of around the Western European tradition of liberal humanism that undergirds the humanities in their received form Recognizing that the liberal humanities contribute to the reproduction of the subjugation that accompanies liberalism s definition of the human Chuh argues that instead of defending the humanities as has been widely called for in recent years we should radically remake them Chuh proposes that the work of artists and writers like Lan Samantha Chang Carrie Mae Weems Langston Hughes Leslie Marmon Silko Allan deSouza Monique Truong and others brings to bear ways of being and knowing that delegitimize liberal humanism in favor of more robust capacious and worldly senses of the human and the humanities Chuh presents the aesthetics of illiberal humanism as vital to the creation of sensibilities and worlds capable of making life and lives flourish
