Eight Approaches To Teaching Composition:

Eight Approaches to Teaching Composition Timothy R. Donovan, Ben W. McClelland, 1980 Teaching Composition Gary Tate, 1987 Theorizing Composition Mary Kennedy, 1998-06-25 The last 25 years have witnessed extraordinary growth in the academic specialization variously described as composition studies or rhetoric and composition What was noticeable about the field in its infancy was a preoccupation with practice a lack of emphasis on theory and an exclusive reliance on the writing process As its disciplinary status has grown the field has become far more theoretical Composition studies has expanded its focus reconceptualized the writing process and embraced a wide range of critical perspectives The result of this change is that terms such as poststructuralism social construction gender and genre which were largely unknown in 1965 now dominate discussion This reference book is a guide to the multiplicity of theories that have emerged to form the disciplinary foundation of composition studies The volume consists of 66 entries each of which is written by an expert contributor and focuses on a particular theory or group of theories While the entries show how various individuals have contributed to theoretical movements very few concentrate on the work of a single theorist Each entry first provides a critical summary of a particular theory or group of theories including key elements basic concepts and claims and information about seminal or particularly influential works It then reviews the theory's critical reception in composition studies and discusses its significance in the field The bibliography at the end of each entry lists primary texts and major scholarship related to the theory and provides additional suggestions for further reading The volume closes with a selected bibliography of important works Advances in Computer Assisted Learning P. R. Smith, 2014-05-23 Advances in Computer Assisted Learning contains selected proceedings from the CAL Symposium on Computer Assisted Learning held at the University of Nottingham in the UK in 1985 This book reviews advances in computer assisted learning in the areas of curriculum development visually handicapped and disabled students project work in schools television viewdata and video applications database applications and engineering education and training This monograph has 35 chapters and opens with a discussion on the computing aspects of interactive video focusing on the design and production of the software used to control the videodisc developed by the Open University in the UK The next chapter illustrates a variety of case studies whereby local viewdata has been exploited by both teachers and their pupils in different parts of Europe Attention then turns to the use of computer assisted communication in the education of the visually impaired the use of microcomputers in teaching electronics and theoretical considerations in selecting software for language arts This text will be of interest to educators and policymakers who want to implement computer technology in the classroom A Guide to Composition Pedagogies Gary Tate, Amy Rupiper-Taggart, Kurt Schick, Brooke Hessler, 2014-02 This is a bibliographic guide written for newcomers to the field The book familiarizes writing instructors with the current topography of composition studies and directs them to the best books and articles for further exploration Beyond the Corporate University Henry A.

Giroux, Kostas Myrsiades, 2001 Prominent scholars in this book move boldly beyond critique to show how and why the critical functions of a democratically informed civic education not merely professional training must become the core of the university's mission. They show why higher education must address what it means to relate knowledge to public life and social responsibility to the demands of critical citizenship. Moreover, they show why democratic forms of education and various elements of a critical pedagogy are vital not only to individual students but also to our economy and our democratic institutions and future leadership. First-Year Composition Deborah Coxwell-Teague, Ronald F. Lunsford, 2014-05-01 First Year Composition: From Theory to Practice's combination of theory and practice provides readers an opportunity to hear twelve of the leading theorists in composition studies answer in their own voices the key question of what it is they hope to accomplish in a first year composition course. In addition, these chapters and the accompanying syllabi provide rich insights into the classroom practices of these theorists.

Forum, 1993 Growing a Soul for Social Change Tonya Huber-Warring, 2008-04-01 For readers new to the field of multicultural education and human relations education, the recency of these publications heralded as seminal may be confusing for certainly the concepts building the field of multicultural education and human relations education have been around much longer. True. But for the first time we found the conceptual framework guiding principles and critical works across disciplines and fields in Smith's encyclopedic organization. Because of the comprehensive nature of Pritchard Smith's knowledge bases, they have been employed as the organizing themes for this volume. I would clarify that I have not burdened authors to study Smith's analysis and then apply it to their works; the categorization is my own. And as is true of any topic, the interpretation and application may be broadly applicable. One of my major goals in founding this series has been to further develop the knowledge bases with voices from those in the trenches, literally and figuratively, and at the chalkface, while proverbial for some parts of the world, chalk remains a teaching staple in many regions of the world. Throughout this volume, authors will explore and research their own discoveries on this journey: narratives of crossing cultures and developing communities, reconceptualizing democracy and reinterpreting traditions, seeking solidarity and sowing the seeds of social justice. Through critical reflection in the shade of these giants, the reader may discover Ming Fang's bamboo tree.

The SAGE Handbook of Rhetorical Studies Andrea A. Lunsford, Kirt H. Wilson, Rosa A. Eberly, 2008-10-29 The SAGE Handbook of Rhetorical Studies surveys the latest advances in rhetorical scholarship, synthesizing theories and practices across major areas of study in the field and pointing the way for future studies. Edited by Andrea A. Lunsford and Associate Editors Kirt H. Wilson and Rosa A. Eberly, the Handbook aims to introduce a new generation of students to rhetorical study and provide a deeply informed and ready resource for scholars currently working in the field. Key Features: Brings together scholars from across the disciplines of Speech Communication, English, and Writing Studies. While rhetoric is by definition interdisciplinary, self-identified scholars in the field are most often institutionally separated from one another. This Handbook bridges this divide by providing a refreshing range of transdisciplinary views on the nature status definition and scope of rhetoric today Offers a thorough going overview of rhetorical studies today Organized in four sections Historical Studies in Rhetoric Rhetoric Across the Disciplines Rhetoric and Pedagogy and Rhetoric and Public Discourse the volume provides a single resource for engaging rhetorical studies Underscores the importance of rhetoric to education across a wide range of disciplines as well as to effective participation in public arenas Thus the volume connects rhetoric s long teaching tradition to an activist agenda for informed civic engagement Addresses methodological and theoretical difficulties and offers means of negotiating them Provides one of the first introductions to rhetorical studies across cultures and to the related debates concerning comparative and contrastive rhetorics

Fragments of Rationality Lester Faigley, 2014-07-12 In an insightful assessment of the study and teaching of writing against the larger theoretical political and technological upheavals of the past thirty years Fragments of Rationality questions why composition studies has been less affected by postmodern theory than other humanities and social science disciplines Beyond Postprocess and Postmodernism Theresa Jarnagi Enos, Keith D.

Miller, Jill McCracken, 2003-01-30 Annotation Volume illuminates many of the tensions present in the field of rhetoric and composition studies explaining the scope and role of rhetoric in contemporary scholarship For scholars and other individuals interested in rhetoric and composition studies P New Perspectives on CALL for Second Language Classrooms

Sandra Fotos, Charles M. Browne, 2013-06-17 This practical handbook is designed to help language teachers teacher trainers and students learn more about their options for using computer assisted language learning CALL and develop an understanding of the theory and research supporting these options The chapters in New Perspectives on CALL for Second Language Classrooms synthesize previous CALL theory and research and describe practical applications to both second and foreign language classrooms including procedures for evaluating these applications The implementation of CALL at the institutional level is also addressed with attention to designing multimedia language laboratories and creating collaborative CALL based projects between educational institutions Although many chapters locate their descriptions of CALL activities and projects within the ESL EFL setting the principles and activities described are equally useful for other language settings The book does not require prior knowledge of CALL computers or software To assist readers a glossary of CALL terms and an appendix of CALL Web sites are provided The book also has its own accompanying Web site <http://www.eribaum.com/callforL2classrooms> presenting chapter abstracts author contact information and regularly updated links to pedagogical research and teacher development sites By integrating theoretical issues research findings and practical guidelines on different aspects of CALL this book offers teachers multiple levels of resources for their own professional development for needs based creation of specific CALL activities for curriculum design and for implementation of institutional and inter institutional CALL projects Working at Writing Robert L. Root, 1991 A survey of the composing processes of seven working writers columnist essayists Jim Fitzgerald and Kathleen Stocking political columnists Tom Wicker and Richard

Reeves drama critic Walter Kerr and film critics David Denby and Neal Gabler Working at Writing offers rich and unique insights into how writing is actually done The book has three interlocking elements edited transcripts of interviews with the writers about their composing processes and the composition of specific works copies of the works discussed in the transcripts and a series of chapters that analyze the interviews and articles in the context of current research into composing Through this unusual structure Root investigates both the ways in which the working practices of the seven writers relate to one another and to current models of composing and the ways in which such a discussion will be of value to others particularly to student writers and their teachers By considering the comments of practicing writers and the examples of their compositions and by comparing the evidence of research findings with those examples of practical experience Root gives student writers and their teachers as well the opportunity to better understand the paradigms that govern their own composing and to confirm modify abandon or replace them The final chapter discusses the implications of these professionals experience for those who hope to become working writers Stressing the importance of assiduous stringsaving immersion in context regular composition the rhetorical situation and the writer s understanding of his or her own process Root suggests both what separates the novice from the expert and how novices can apply the insights of this book as they work at their own writing

Rhetoric and Composition Steven Lynn, 2010-09-30 An accessible introduction to teaching and studying rhetoric and composition Frontiers of Language and Teaching, Vol.2: Proceedings of the 2011 International Online Language Conference (IOLC 2011) , Research in Basic Writing Martin Jacobi, Michael G. Moran, 1990-02-15 This reference handbook surveys research on the central issue associated with the teaching of unprepared writers Though basic writing has only been recognized as a distinct area of teaching and research since 1975 the existing bibliographic texts already seem limited due to their age or lack of annotation This volume provides current and extensive bibliographic essays and will help to define this new field of study for teachers and researchers Following an introduction that summarizes the origins and significant texts in basic writing the book is divided into three sections Social Science Perspectives Linguistic Perspectives and Pedagogical Perspectives The first section which contains three essays views the field through the lens of social psychological and political issues The second section also containing three essays examines contributions made from studies of grammar dialects and second language acquisition The third section in its four essays focuses on the design development administration and evaluation of basic writing courses the use of computers in basic writing classrooms the role of the writing lab and the preparation of basic writing teachers An appendix that reviews current textbooks for basic writing courses is also included as well as an index This book will be a valuable resource for teachers of basic writing in education courses and workshops that train teachers and tutors and in fields such as linguistics technical writing and Teaching English as a Second Language It will also be an important addition to public and university libraries and many education programs

The Routledge Doctoral Student's Companion Pat Thomson, Melanie Walker, 2010-04-07 In the contemporary world it is clear that the need to study beyond Masters Level is increasing in importance for a wide range of practitioners in diverse professional settings. Students across the world are choosing doctorates not only to become career academics but to go beyond the academic arena in order to make a personal and educational as well as an economic investment in their workplace careers and their lives. However for many doctoral students both full time and part time navigating the literature and key issues surrounding doctoral research can often be a challenge. Bringing together contributions from key names in the international education arena, The Routledge Doctoral Student's Companion is a comprehensive guide to the literature surrounding doctorates bringing together questions, challenges and solutions normally scattered over a wide range of texts. Accessible and wide ranging it covers all doctoral students need to know about what doctoral education means in contemporary practice, forming an identity and knowledge as a doctoral student, the big questions which run throughout doctoral practice, becoming a researcher, the skills needed to conduct research, integrating oneself into a scholarly community. Offering an extensive and rounded guide to undertaking doctoral research in a single volume, this book is essential reading for all full time and part time doctoral students in education and related disciplines.

Moving from the Known to the Unknown in Academic Writing Verbra Frances Pfeiffer, 2022-01-13. Expressive writing is mainly used on psychological patients to assist them in dealing with their trauma. This book is the first to use expressive writing in assisting L2 students in their academic writing. As may be shown in this book, that using expressive writing techniques are particularly helpful for L2 students who have difficulty expressing themselves when writing in English. The book will appeal to lecturers in language centres, linguists, psychologists and teachers.

Write Through the Grades Robin Bright, 2007. Write through the Grades is a practical, clearly organized and insightful look at teaching writing in secondary schools as well as middle schools. The book is targeted at teachers and others who are committed to making the writing experience meaningful and successful for teens. In this book Robin Bright offers a fresh perspective based on four years of case studies of eight successful teen writers, emphasizes the importance of process, fluency and choice over traditional product oriented approaches, offers an inside look at what teens value about writing and the kinds of support they find helpful in developing the craft of writing, provides examples of a writers workshop which gives teachers an authentic and useful model for working with young writers, includes step by step instructions that give teachers a solid base from which to begin writing instruction.
