Cook,James Tatum,2024-05-31 Constraints on freedom education and individual dignity have always been fundamental in determining who is able to write when and where Considering the singular experience of the African American writer William W Cook and James Tatum here argue that African American literature did not develop apart from canonical Western literary traditions but instead grew out of those literatures even as it adapted and transformed the cultural traditions and religions of Africa and the African diaspora along the way Tracing the interaction between African American writers and the literatures of ancient Greece and Rome from the time of slavery and its aftermath to the civil rights era and on into the present the authors offer a sustained and lively discussion of the life and work of Phillis Wheatley Frederick Douglass Ralph Ellison and Rita Dove among other highly acclaimed poets novelists and scholars Assembling this brilliant and diverse group of African American writers at a moment when our understanding of classical literature is ripe for change the authors paint an unforgettable portrait of our own reception of classic writing especially as it was inflected by American racial politics

Ethical Judgment Abraham Edel, 1964

In Ethical Judgment Abraham Edel makes clear the part played by biological and social scientific information in ethical judgment and moral action using psychological anthropological and economic materials as well as historical studies Edel suggests that many controversies in ethical theory have emerged because different ethical theories made different scientific assumptions In the almost forty years since his book was first published life has become more complex and technological change has accelerated bringing changes to our morality and ethical theory as well as our conduct If anything his observations are even more pertinent compelling us to examine the empirical core of ethical statements Edel maintains that since our knowledge of social life and history is constantly growing moral theories and ethical judgments ought to embody the best knowledge available at any point in time However because all knowledge and belief is only probable there is never absolute certainty but only what Edel calls residual indeterminacy in human life and knowledge due to complexity and change Edel lists four factors that form the basis for moral decisions universal needs food perennial aspirations friendships central necessary conditions job security and critical contingent factors under special circumstances land reform in a landholder ruled society In his new introduction Edel applies those factors to the present day discussing societal changes over the past forty years such as the number of women in the workforce the impact of the civil rights movement and the fact that isolationism as a national policy is no longer feasible Ethical Judgment is a recognized classic in the modern study of ethical theory It will be valuable reading for sociologists historians and all scholars interested in the study of ethics and American culture Lords of the Scrolls:

Literary Traditions in the Bible and Gospels Donald K. Sharpes, 2005 Lords of the Scrolls analyzes ancient literary sources to show how biblical and gospel scribes borrowed and imitated themes from earlier literature to create heroic legends around Hebrew figures and Jesus Comparisons between the Epic of Gilgamesh Enuma Elish Canaanite Egyptian and Greek legends Homeric epics the histories of Herodotus and selected biblical and gospel passages reveal thematic and literary similarities Tracing literary classics from the birth of writing to the first millennium of the modern era this book demonstrates that Hebrew scribes used previous literature to establish a national identity and that gospel scribes borrowed heavily from Homer to create epic legends around the person of Jesus The Short Stories of Guy de Maupassant Guy de Maupassant, 1925
