Fourteenth Century Blue White A Group:

Fourteenth-century Blue-and-white John Alexander Pope, 1970 The theories advanced 17 years ago about the distinguishing characteristics of Chinese porcelain decorated in underglaze blue in the 14th century have for the most part stood up None of the basic criteria has proved to be wrong and the only real change in our outlook lies in the fact that new material has come to light and that we now begin to know more than we did then about blue and white porcelains earlier than those described in this book To examine that earlier material thoroughly enough to do it justice would require an entirely separate study far beyond the scope of the present volume Preface A Brief History of Chinese Imperial Porcelain Chongnian Yan, 2024-11-01 This book provides a unique history of the Porcelain Road against the backdrop of Chinese and Western cultural exchanges Written by one of China's most influential scholars it introduces the history of Chinese Porcelain especially the history of the imperial porcelain kiln taking the most representative porcelain of each period as examples and examining relevant historical background Studying artifacts from well known collections such as the Palace Museum Taipei Palace Museum Shenyang Palace Museum Nanjing Museum this text offers a unique discussion of China's porcelain culture and history and will be of relevance to all those interested in one of the key aspects of Chinese culture and cultural exchanges between East and West Islamic Art in the Metropolitan Museum of Art Metropolitan Museum of Art (New York, N.Y.), 1972 Ed by Richard Ettinghausen The Metropolitan Museum of Art Bulletin Östasiatiska museet, 1970
