Fragile Geometry The Films Philosophy And Misadventures Of Nicolas Roeg:

Fragile Geometry Joseph Lanza, 1989 A survey of the work of the British filmmaker his vision of a decentered world depicted in such films as Don't Look Now The Man Who Fell to Earth and Walkabout Films of Nicholas Roeg John Izod, 1992-06-18 Audiences respond to three things in the films of Nicolas Roeg their power their style and the fact that they puzzle them The author argues that all three elements are tied together with the power of the films springing from their source in ancient mysteries British art cinema Paul Newland, Brian Hoyle, 2019-07-23 This is the first book to provide a direct and comprehensive account of British art cinema Film history has tended to view British filmmakers as aesthetically conservative but the truth is they have a long tradition of experiment and artistry both within and beyond the mainstream Beginning with the silent period and running up to the 2010s the book draws attention to this tradition while acknowledging that art cinema in Britain is a complex and fluid concept that needs to be considered within broader concerns It will be of particular interest to scholars and students of British cinema history film genre experimental filmmaking and British cultural history Dark Forces at Work Cynthia J. Miller, A. Bowdoin Van Riper, 2019-11-06 Dark Forces at Work examines the role of race class gender religion and the economy as they are portrayed in and help construct horror narratives across a range of films and eras These larger social forces not only create the context for our cinematic horrors but serve as connective tissue between fantasy and lived reality as well While several of the essays focus on name horror films such as IT Get Out Hellraiser and Don't Breathe the collection also features essays focused on horror films produced in Asia Europe and Latin America and on American classic thrillers such as Alfred Hitchcock's Psycho Key social issues addressed include the war on terror poverty the housing crisis and the Time's Up movement The volume grounds its analysis in the films rather than theory in order to explore the ways in which institutions identities and ideologies work within the horror genre The Blackwell Companion to Postmodern Theology Graham Ward, 2008-04-15 This Companion provides a definitive collection of essays on postmodern theology drawing on the work of those individuals who have made a distinctive contribution to the field and whose work will be significant for the theologies written in the new millennium The definitive collection of essays on postmodern theology drawing on the work of those individuals who have made a distinctive contribution to the field Each essay is introduced with a short account of the writer's previous work enabling the reader to view it in context Discusses the following disciplines Aesthetics Ethics Gender Hermeneutics Phenomenology Heideggerians and Derrideans Edited by Graham Ward one of the most outstanding and original theologians working in the field today British films of the 1970s Paul Newland, 2015-11-01 British films of the 1970s offers highly detailed and insightful critical analysis of a range of individual films of the period This analysis draws upon an innovative range of critical methodologies which place the film texts within a rich variety of historical contexts The book sets out to examine British films of the 1970s in order to get a clearer understanding of two things the fragmentary state of the filmmaking culture of the period and the fragmentary nature of the nation that these films represent It argues that there is no singular narrative to be drawn about British filmmaking in the 1970s other than the fact that these films offer evidence of a Britain and ideas of Britishness characterised by vicissitudes While this was a period of struggle and instability it was also a period of openings of experiment and of new ideas Newland looks at many films including Carry On Girls O Lucky Man That'll be the Day The Shout and The Long Good Friday

A Companion to Film Theory Toby Miller, Robert Stam, 2008-04-15 This volume of specially commissioned work by experts in the field of film studies provides a comprehensive overview of the field Its international and interdisciplinary approach will have a broad appeal to those interested in this multifaceted subject Provides a major collection of specially commissioned work by experts in the field of film studies Represents material under a variety of headings including class race gender queer theory nation stars ethnography authorship and spectatorship Offers an international approach to the subject including coverage of topics such as genre image sound editing culture industries early cinema classical Hollywood and TV relations and technology Includes concise chapter by chapter accounts of the background and current approaches to each topic followed by a prognostication on the future Considers cinema studies in relation to other forms of knowledge such as critical studies anthropology and literature

David Bowie and Romanticism James Rovira, 2022-08-22 David Bowie and Romanticism evaluates Bowie's music film drama and personae alongside eighteenth and nineteenth century poets novelists and artists These chapters expand our understanding of both the literature studied as well as Bowie's music exploring the boundaries of reason and imagination and of identity gender and genre This collection uses the conceptual apparatus and historical insights provided by the study of Romanticism to provide insight into identity formation drawing from Romantic theories of self to understand Bowie's oeuvre and periods of his career The chapters discuss key themes in Bowie's work and analyze what Bowie has to teach us about Romantic art and literature as well

Don't Look Now Mark Sanderson, 2019-07-25 Don't Look Now released in 1973 confirmed director Nicolas Roeg as one of the most stylish and innovative British directors of the postwar period Adapted from a short story by Daphne du Maurier it is both a complex study of how people come to terms with grief and a chilling tale of murder set among the canals and churches of Venice Featuring telling performances by Julie Christie and Donald Sutherland as the couple whose daughter has tragically died Don't Look Now depicts the way in which the macabre and the everyday are intertwined In his lucid subtle account Mark Sanderson describes the collaboration between director and actors that sustained the film's emotional richness He returns to du Maurier's original text and to the traditions of Gothic writing that underpin Don't Look Now's combination of horror melodrama and black comedy Sanderson examines the film's intricate visual style uncovering the way in which particular motifs are used to amplify its depiction of two terrible deaths He finds compensation for the film's grimly fatalistic view of life in its celebration of sexual relationships and the power of recollection The book includes an exclusive and in depth interview with Roeg as well as rare and unpublished comments from Christie In his foreword to this special edition published to celebrate the 20th anniversary of the BFI Film Classics series Jason Wood places Don't Look Now in the context of Roeg's film making career and draws upon Roeg's revealing insights into the film's production Nicolas Roeg, Film by Film

Scott Salwolke, 1993 Nicolas Roeg has directed some of the most original films of the past twenty years yet his work has remained relatively unknown Combining the styles of such famous British directors as Hitchcock Reed and Lester with innovations from the French New Wave his work is artfully distinctive Despite their initial lack of commercial appeal and pans by critics for their inaccessibility many of Roeg's films have gained a large audience over time Performance and Bad Timing have become cult films Walkabout is a mainstay on college campuses and even among church groups Why Film by film details of Roeg's dozen features are examined in an effort to better understand the man and his movies Kiss Me

Deadly Laleen Jayamanne, 1995 Feminism and Cinema for the Moment The volume on film Urban Mindscapes of Europe, 2016-08-01 Urban mindscapes are structures of thinking about a city built on conceptualisations of the city's physical landscape as well as on its image as transported through cultural representation memory and imagination This book pursues three main strands of inquiry in its exploration of these landscapes of the mind in a European context The first strand concerns the theory and methodology of researching urban mindscapes and urban imaginaries The second strand investigates some of the representations symbols and collective images that feed into our understanding of European cities It discusses representations of the city in literature film television and other cultural forms which in James Donald's phrase constitute archives of urban images The third and last section of the volume concentrates on the relationship between the collective mindscapes of cities urban policy and the practice of city marketing Don't Look Now Jessica

Gildersleeve, 2017-10-31 Nicolas Roeg's Don't Look Now 1973 has been called a ghost story for adults This book argues for it as a particular kind of horror film that depends on the narrative of trauma Jessica Gildersleeve positions Don't Look Now within a discourse of midcentury anxiety narratives and identifies it as a hinge between literature and film of the 1970s

Spyscreen Toby Miller, 2003 This is a genre study of English language spy fiction film and television between the 1930s and 1960s Taking as his focus many well known films and television series such as James Bond Gilda The Man From U N C L E and The Avengers Toby Miller uses a wide range of critical approaches including textual interpretation audience studies and cultural history to offer new insights into this popular genre Sharp Cut Steven H. Gale, 2021-02-16 While best known as one of the most important playwrights of the twentieth century Harold Pinter 1930 2008 had an equally successful career writing screenplays His collaborations with director Joseph Losey garnered great attention and esteem and two of his screenplays earned Academy Award nominations The French Lieutenant's Woman 1981 and Betrayal 1983 He is also credited for writing an unproduced script to remake Stanley Kubrick's 1962 adaptation of Lolita Much scholarship has been dedicated to the subject of Pinter as playwright but the rich landscape of his work in film has been left largely undisturbed In Sharp Cut Harold Pinter's Screenplays and the Artistic Process Steven H Gale the world's foremost Pinter scholar analyzes Pinter's creative process from initial conception to finished film. Gale makes careful point-by-point comparisons of each stage in the screenplay's creation: the source material, the adaptations themselves, and the films made from the scripts, in order to reveal the meaning behind each film script and to explain the cinematic techniques used to express that meaning. Unlike most Pinter scholars who focus almost solely on the written word, Gale devotes discussion to the cinematic interpretation of the scripts through camera angles and movement, cutting, and other techniques. Pinter does not merely convert his stage scripts to screenplays; he adapts the works to succeed in the other medium, avoiding elements of the live play that do not work onscreen and using the camera's focusing operations in ways that are not possible on the stage. As Pinter's career progressed and his writing evolved, screenplays became for him an increasingly vital means of creative expression. Sharp Cut is the first study to fully explore this important component of the Pinter canon.

Heroes, Monsters and Values Michael Berman, Rohit Dalvi, 2011-01-18 This exciting new anthology brings together many diverse views on blockbuster and cult science fiction films of the 1970s. These essays, which range in focus from Alien to Zardoz, explore some of the most fundamental questions about the meaning of being human. The chapters of the first section challenge our notions of heroism, confronting our ideas with issues of history, gender, and embodiment. The second section's contributions delve into the human-caused monstrosities of our own ingenuity and curiosity, whereby our technology transforms the human into a source of horror. The anthology's final section is a chorus that speaks to the cinematic depictions that disrupt our religious and moral assumptions. The international group of contributors have produced a surprising, entertaining, and enlightening work that will appeal to both science fiction and film enthusiasts the world over.

Sound Unbound Paul D. Miller, 2008-03-14 The role of sound and digital media in an information-based society. Artists from Steve Reich and Pierre Boulez to Chuck D and Moby describe their work. If Rhythm Science was about the flow of things, Sound Unbound is about the remix: how music, art, and literature have blurred the lines between what an artist can do and what a composer can create. In Sound Unbound, Rhythm Science author Paul Miller (aka DJ Spooky that Subliminal Kid) asks artists to describe their work and compositional strategies in their own words. These are reports from the front lines on the role of sound and digital media in an information-based society. The topics are as diverse as the contributors. Composer Steve Reich offers a memoir of his life with technology, from tape loops to video opera. Miller himself considers sampling and civilization. Novelist Jonathan Lethem writes about appropriation and plagiarism. Science fiction writer Bruce Sterling looks at dead media. Ron Eglash examines racial signifiers in electrical engineering. Media activist Naeem Mohaiemen explores the influence of Islam on hip-hop rapper Chuck D. Contributor Three Pieces musician Brian Eno explores the sound and history of bells. Hans Ulrich Obrist and Philippe Parreno interview composer/conductor Pierre Boulez, and much more. Press play! Miller writes, and this anthology says, here goes. The groundbreaking music that accompanies the book features Nam Jun Paik, the Dada Movement, John Cage, Sonic Youth, and many other examples of avant-garde music. Most of this content comes from the archives of Sub Rosa, a legendary record label that has been the benchmark for archival sounds since the beginnings of electronic music To receive these free music files readers may send an email to the address listed in the book Contributors David Allenby Pierre Boulez Catherine Corman Chuck D Erik Davis Scott De Lahunta Manuel DeLanda Cory Doctorow Eveline Domnitch Frances Dyson Ron Eglash Brian Eno Dmitry Gelfand Dick Hebidge Lee Hirsch Vijay Iyer Ken Jordan Douglas Kahn Daphne Keller Beryl Korot Jaron Lanier Joseph Lanza Jonathan Lethem Carlo McCormick Paul D Miller aka DJ Spooky that Subliminal Kid Moby Naeem Mohaiemen Alondra Nelson Keith and Mendi Obadike Hans Ulrich Obrist Pauline Oliveros Philippe Parreno Ibrahim Quaraishi Steve Reich Simon Reynolds Scanner aka Robin Rimbaud Nadine Robinson Daniel Bernard Roumain DBR Alex Steinweiss Bruce Sterling Lucy Walker Saul Williams Jeff E Winner
