Fragile Peace:

After the Peace Robert L. Rothstein, 1999 After the Peace examines peace agreements made in the period after the Cold War and ways in which these agreements might be strengthened Six studies are included that explore three major conflicts from a number of perspectives My Peace-Filled Day Rick Renner, 2023-05-02 Stop Wrestling With Life and Start Resting in Him Do you feel like you're on a merry-go-round of stress and anxiety that just won't stop Do you feel like the circumstances around you shout so loudly that more than anything you are searching for peace and calm Help is here You can live in peace fearless and free In this journal renowned Strengthening Peace in Post-Civil War States Matthew Hoddie, Caroline A. Hartzell, 2010-09-15 Among the more frequent and most devastating of conflicts civil wars from Yugoslavia to Congo frequently reignite and even spill over into the international sphere Given the inherent fragility of civil war peace agreements innovative approaches must be taken to ensure the successful resolution of these conflicts Strengthening Peace in Post Civil War States provides both analytical frameworks and a series of critical case studies demonstrating the effectiveness of a range of strategies for keeping the peace Coeditors Matthew Hoddie and Caroline A Hartzell here contend that lasting peace relies on aligning the self interest of individuals and communities with the society wide goal of ending war if citizens and groups have a stake in peace they will seek to maintain and defend it The rest of the contributors explore two complementary approaches toward achieving this goal restructuring domestic institutions and soft intervention Some essays examine the first tactic which involves reforming governments that failed to prevent war while others discuss the second an umbrella term for a number of non military strategies for outside actors to assist in keeping the peace The Non-Linearity of Peace Processes Daniela Körppen, Norbert Ropers, Hans J. Giessmann, 2011-08-30 Systemic thinking in peacebuilding This is the first comprehensive publication analysing the value added by integrating systemic thinking and peacebuilding theory and practice Against the background of different case studies practitioners and scholars frame their various understandings of systemic thinking and present a great variety of systemic concepts such as systems theory systemic action research and constellation work Furthermore this volume links current discussions about peacebuilding with various systemic discourses It analyses to what extent systemic thinking and systemic methods are helpful in further developing existing approaches to conflict transformation In addition most recent debates in the peacebuilding field e.g. on liberal peace the relevance of conflict analysis for strategy planning bridging the attribution gap the non linearity of conflict dynamics etc are taken account of Love and Loss: A Journey through Fear to Peace - Volume Four Betty Hibod, 2025-01-06 Many books have been written as histories recounting events that shaped the life of a group society nation or civilization or as biographies recounting events and achievements relating to one person's life and work Many books have been written putting forth ideas philosophies and words of wisdom to live by Some of these we call holy books or scripture Fewer books have been written like this one which go behind the scenes of history lay bare the feelings behind the philosophies and document the painful and joyful inner path along which historical events and philosophical ideas emerge This book is intensely even shockingly personal not clinical or abstract or detached It is an intimate detailed sensual and sometimes disturbing account of a life lived on the cusp that bridges time and eternity Its focus is narrow it does not reveal much at all about anyone's visible public life or accomplishments but it explores in great depth the invisible contents of minds hearts and souls The scriptures and scriptural commentaries of most religions describe a path to salvation or bliss and provide instructions or guideposts for moving along the path but they are still only theoretical hypothetical mythical or metaphorical accounts This book seeks to show how the theories and hypotheses play out pragmatically in real time and space how the myths come alive in flesh and spirit how the metaphors become the very things they symbolize How does daily life look from inside someone in the throes of awakening How does she know who or what she is How is her destiny revealed How do seemingly ordinary mundane events become miracles This book begins to answer those questions

United Nations Peace Operations in a Changing Global Order Cedric de Coning, Mateja Peter, 2018-10-11 I have seen the UN perform on a changing global stage in many UN missions This book examines how the UN must continue to evolve amongst changing state actors differing regional organisations and a constant global paradigm shift It is essential material for enhancing one's understanding of the nature of international conflict and for the continued relevance of the UN as a key stakeholder and participant in world affairs Maj Gen Kristin Lund Head of Mission and Chief of Staff UN peacekeeping mission in the Middle East UNTSO This outstanding collection is a must read for anyone interested in the central challenges of peacekeeping today From big ideas about changes in global order to more focused analyses of policing and the protection of civilians this book provides a comprehensive overview of where peacekeeping is now and what we may expect in the future Lise Morj Howard Associate Professor Georgetown University The book analyses recent developments in UN peacekeeping in the context of the historic changes underway in the global order I would recommend it to policy makers peacekeepers and scholars who wish to understand optimise and improve the effectiveness of modern peacekeeping Lt Gen Carlos Alberto dos Santos Cruz former Force Commander in the UN missions in the DRC MONUSCO and Haiti MINUSTAH Peacekeeping has been the most visible UN activity in its primary mandate to maintain international peace and security In a world in disarray as security threats mutate and the world order shifts away from US primacy and fresh challenges arise the UN must respond with nimbleness and flexibility to stay relevant This exceptional collection of analyses by experts from both the global North and South will be of interest to practitioners and scholars alike highly recommended Ramesh Thakur Professor Australian National University Peacekeeping is not what it was even a decade ago global power is shifting new types of conflicts are emerging and demands on the United Nations and regional organizations are growing Anyone interested in contemporary conflict resolution and the changing character of international peace operations should read this excellent book Roland Paris Professor of International Affairs University of Ottawa This book is an insightful and forward looking scholarly contribution to debates within the United Nations It shows how profound the recent changes affecting peace operations are and pushes us all to rethink our assumptions about conflict peace and the role of international organizations It could not come at a better moment Jean Marie Guehenno UN High level Advisory Board on Mediation former UN Under Secretary General for Peacekeeping Operations div This open access book explores how UN peace operations are adapting to four transformational trends in the changing global order 1 the rebalancing of relations between states of the global North and the global South 2 the rise of regional organisations as providers of peace 3 the rise of violent extremism and fundamentalist non state actors and 4 increasing demands from non state actors for greater emphasis on human security It identifies emerging conflict and peace trends robustness of responses rise of non state threats cross state conflicts and puts them in the context of tectonic shifts in the global order rise of emerging powers North South rebalancing emergence of regional organisations as providers of peace The volume stimulates a discussion between practitioners and academics from the global North and South and offers an analysis of how the international community collectively makes sense of the changing global order and its implications for UN peace operations div Peace and Justice Rachel Kerr,Eirin Mobekk,2013-04-26 In recent years there has been a tendency to intervene in the military political and economic affairs of failed and failing states and those emerging from violent conflict In many cases this has been accompanied by some form of international judicial intervention to address serious and widespread abuses of international humanitarian law and human rights in recognition of an explicit link between peace and justice A range of judicial and non judicial approaches has been adopted in recognition of the fact that there is no one size fits all model through which to seek accountability This book considers the merits and drawbacks of these different responses and sets out an original framework for analysing transitional societies and transitional justice mechanisms Taking as its starting point the post Second World War tribunals at Nuremburg and Tokyo the book goes on to discuss the creation of ad hoc international tribunals in the 1990s hybrid mixed courts the International Criminal Court domestic trials truth commissions and traditional justice mechanisms With examples drawn from across the world including the former Yugoslavia Rwanda Cambodia Timor Leste Sierra Leone Uganda and the DRC it presents a compelling and comprehensive study of the key responses to war crimes Peace and Justice is a timely contribution in a world where an ever increasing number of post conflict societies are grappling with the complex issues of transitional justice It will be a valuable resource for students scholars practitioners and policy makers seeking to understand past violations of human rights and the most effective ways of addressing them Regulating Business for Peace Jolyon Ford,2015-02-05 This book addresses gaps in thinking and practice on how the private sector can both help and hinder the process of building peace after armed conflict It argues that weak governance in fragile and conflict affected societies creates a need for international authorities to regulate the social impact of business activity in these places as a special interim duty Policymaking should seek appropriate opportunities to engage with business while harnessing its positive contributions to sustainable peace However scholars have not offered frameworks for what is considered appropriate engagement or properly theorised techniques for how best to influence responsible business conduct United Nations peace operations are peak symbols of international regulatory responsibilities in conflict settings and debate continues to grow around the private sector's role in development generally This book is the first to study how peace operations have engaged with business to influence its peace building impact The Korean Minjung in Christ David Kwang-sun Suh, 2000-08-15 What a privilege it is for us to be allowed into the theological world in which some Korean theologians such as Professor Suh had a deep experience of God as God with and in us because they had a deep experience of the suffering of minjung The Christian theology Professor Suh shares with us here is a theology of the first person pronoun a theology conceived in the womb of passion suffering and given birth in the midst of the people struggling for freedom and democracy C S Song Promoting Peace, Inciting Violence Jolyon Mitchell, 2013-01-04 This book explores how media and religion combine to play a role in promoting peace and inciting violence It analyses a wide range of media from posters cartoons and stained glass to websites radio and film and draws on diverse examples from around the world including Iran Rwanda and South Africa Part One considers how various media forms can contribute to the creation of violent environments by memorialising past hurts by instilling fear of the other by encouraging audiences to fight to die or to kill neighbours for an apparently greater good Part Two explores how film can bear witness to past acts of violence how film makers can reveal the search for truth justice and reconciliation and how new media can become sites for non violent responses to terrorism and government oppression To what extent can popular media arts contribute to imagining and building peace transforming weapons into art swords into ploughshares Jolyon Mitchell skillfully combines personal narrative practical insight and academic analysis Friendship in Politics Preston King, Graham M. Smith, 2013-10-18 Previously published as a special issue of the Critical Review of Social and Political Philosophy this volume throws light on the place of friendship in politics by connecting theoretical questions to empirical answers Today friendship and politics are most commonly viewed as distinct and mutually opposed concerns Politics tends to be seen as general and impersonal to do with power and hierarchy Friendship by contrast is conceived as particular and intimate relating to equality and fraternity Ancient Greek and Roman thought tended to bring the two together locating friendship as the moral foundation of the political But is this view sound Ought not Friendship to be dismissed by moderns as primitive inefficient nepotistic Freud Or ought it to be promoted as a vital moral constraint on power and the consuming egotism of rulers Plutarch and others The contributors seek to answer these questions directly and indirectly by supplying analyses of the concept critical reconstructions of some crucial modern accounts Kierkegaard Arendt and Schmitt concrete accounts of the actual play of friendship both within and between states Gendered Peace Donna Pankhurst, 2008 This volume contributes to the growing literature on women conflict and peacebuilding by focusing on the moments after a peace accord or some other official ending of a conflict often denoted as the post conflict or the post war Such moments often herald great hope for holding to account those who committed grave wrongs during the conflict and for a better life in the future For many women both of these hopes are often very quickly shattered in starkly different ways to the hopes of men Such periods are often characterized by violence and insecurities and the official ending of a war often fails to bring freedom from sexual violence for many women Within such a context efforts on the part of women and those made on their behalf to hold to account those who commit crimes against them and to access their rights are difficult to make are often dangerous and are also often deployed with little effect Gendered Peace explores international contexts and a variety of local ones in which such struggles take place and evaluates their progress The volume highlights the surprising success in the development of international legal advances for women but contrasts this with the actual experience of women in cases from Sierra Leone Rwanda South Africa Afghanistan Bangladesh East Timor Peru Central America and the Balkans Keeping the Peace Michael W. Doyle, Ian Johnstone, Robert C. Orr, 1997-08-07 Keeping the Peace explores the new multidimensional role that the United Nations has played in peacemaking peacekeeping and peacebuilding over the last few years By examining the paradigm setting cases of Cambodia and El Salvador and drawing lessons from these UN success stories the book seeks to point the way toward more effective ways for the international community to address conflict in the post Cold War era This book is especially timely given its focus on multidimensional peace operations the most likely role for the UN in coming years

Building Sustainable Peace Arnim Langer, Graham K. Brown, 2016-06-16 Countries emerging from civil war or protracted violence often face the daunting challenge of rebuilding their economy while simultaneously creating the political and social conditions for a stable peace The implicit assumption in the international community that rapid political democratisation along with economic liberalisation holds the key to sustainable peace is belied by the experiences of countries such as Iraq and Afghanistan Often the challenges of post conflict reconstruction revolve around the timing and sequencing of different reform that may have contradictory implications Drawing on a range of thematic studies and empirical cases this book examines how post conflict reconstruction policies can be better sequenced in order to promote sustainable peace The book provides evidence that many reforms that are often thought to be imperative in post conflict societies may be better considered as long term objectives and that the immediate imperative for such societies should be people centred policies Privatizing the Democratic Peace H. Carey, 2011-12-14 With inevitable major economic and political transformations ahead NGOs need to acknowledge and manage their policy dilemmas so that they can anticipate the many inevitable problems that consistently arise in attempting to avoid the return of war by building peace over the medium to long term Internationalizing and Privatizing War and Peace H. Wulf, 2005-08-05 In this timely work the author analyzes the use of private military firms and international interventions of the military Outsourcing to the private sector takes missions away from the military but the shift towards international intervention adds new wider functions to the traditional role of defence If these two trends continue at the present pace important security functions will be out of control

Narrating War and Peace in Africa Solimar Otero,2010 Narrating War and Peace in Africa interrogates conventional representations of Africa and African culture mainly in the twentieth and early twenty first centuries with an emphasis on portrayals of conflict and peace While Africa has experienced political and social turbulence throughout its history more recent conflicts seem to reinforce the myth of barbarism across the continent in Nigeria Rwanda Somalia Sierra Leone Uganda Kenya Mozambique Chad South Africa Zimbabwe and Sudan The essays in this volume address reductive and stereotypical assumptions of postcolonial violence as tribal in nature and offer instead various perspectives across disciplinary boundaries that foster a less fetishized more contextualized understanding of African war peace and memory Through their geographical historical and cultural scope and diversity the chapters in Narrating War and Peace in Africa aim to challenge negative stereotypes that abound in relation to Africa in general and to its wars and conflicts in particular encouraging a shift to more balanced and nuanced representations of the continent and its political and social climates Contributors Ann Albuyeh Zermarie Deacon Alicia C Decker Am na Mo nfar Kayode Omoniyi Ogunfolabi Sabrina Parent Susan Rasmussen Michael Sharp Cheryl Sterling Hetty ter Haar Melissa Tully Pamela Wadende Metasebia Woldemariam Jonathan Zilberg Toyin Falola is the Jacob and Frances Sanger Mossiker Chair in the Humanities and University Distinguished Teaching Professor at the University of Texas at Austin Hetty ter Haar is an independent researcher in England

Peace versus Justice William I. Zartman,Victor Kremenyuk,2005-04-21 This book examines the costs and benefits of ending the fighting in a range of conflicts and probes the reasons why negotiators provide or fail to provide resolutions that go beyond just stopping the shooting What is the desired and achievable mix between negotiation strategies that look backward to end current hostilities and those that look ahead to prevent their recurrence To answer that question a wide range of case studies is marshaled to explore relevant peacemaking situations from the end of the Thirty Years War and the Napoleonic Wars to more recent settlements of the late 20th and early 21st centuries including large scale conflicts like the end of WW II and smaller scale sometimes internal conflicts like those in Cyprus Armenia and Azerbaijan and Mozambique Cases on Bosnia and the Middle
